

OF INTEREST TO MOTORISTS

CABRIOLET'S ADVANTAGES

Can Become Fully Enclosed Car at Will of the Driver

Each season finds a larger proportion of motor car owners who keep their cars running throughout the winter months. Protection against the sleet and cold is, of course, necessary to the motorist who places any value on bodily comfort.

windows fold into the doors, it is only necessary to open the doors, fold the windows upward, and the car becomes a fully enclosed cabriolet.

Outside of the annoyance caused by the transfer of open and closed bodies and the loss of a car's use for a week or so, on the ordinary type of body, the cabriolet because of its light weight, contributes largely to the long life of the tires.—Adv.

SELECTION OF A MOTOR CAR

George G. McFarland Tells When It Becomes a Pleasure

"The intelligent selection of a motor car becomes a pleasure after you feel you have trained your perspective and reasoning powers of the mind to a knowledge of the mechanical features—the strength, quality power, weight and durability of a car, which almost instantly leaves an impression on the mind of the trained observer," says George G. McFarland, president of the Harrisburg Auto Company.

AMERICAN MOTORCYCLISTS

Motorcycle Pageant

The Keystone Motorcycle Club of Harrisburg, Pa., carried away almost all of the honors at the annual Harrisburg Mummer's parade on New Year's day. The Keystone Club won first prize for the most elaborate display. It also had the largest representation, having ninety men in line, including the band which led their division.

Beats "Specials"

J. Warren Mooney, on the staff of Walter E. Hingwood, sport editor of the Boston "Herald," finds that with the aid of a motorcycle he can put it all over his rivals in gathering news. Mooney says that on the two-wheeler he can cover twice as much territory in practically half the time that is required by other means of travel.

American Motorcycle Wins

In the recent 24-hour reliability contest, held under the auspices of the Motorcycle and Bicycle Club of Sydney, Australia, just seven of the twenty-seven contestants completed the 398 miles within the time limit. And among these seven was an American-made motorcycle. A feature of the Australian competition was that instead of receiving awards the winners of the run were given certificates of merit and the money received from the event was turned over to the war fund.

Riders to Register

Competition Chairman Donovan of the Federation of American Motorcyclists has inaugurated a plan which he believes will be of benefit both to the promoter of competitions and to the rider. This plan contemplates the registering of riders who participate in race meets, with Chairman Donovan. These riders will be classed A, B, C or D, according to their experience and records. Then when motorcycle meets are to be staged in any community the chairman of the competition committee will be able to give definite information concerning the riders in that locality.

A Real Endurance

The weather conditions New Year's eve were ideal for the real endurance run which was staged by the Portland (Ore.) Motorcycle Club. Some time before the start of the fifteen-hour grind it began raining, and for hours the motorcyclists rode through this glacial downpour, facing a 25-mile-an-hour gale. However, in spite of this, four of the contestants made perfect scores, Archie Rife being the first to finish.—Adv.

MOTORCYCLE NOTES

Sanction has just been issued by the Federation of American Motorcyclists for a 100-mile motorcycle meet to be held at Galesburg, Ill., on July 5.

The Missisnewa Motorcyclists' Association was recently formed at Marion, Ind., with thirty-two charter members.

The Capital City Motorcycle Club of Sacramento, Cal., is making an effort to secure the 100-mile National Championship for its annual spring meet.

In 1914 there were 8,063 motorcycles registered in Kansas, as against 7,430 the previous year.

During December there were 388 membership cards issued by the F. A. M. Of these, 203 affiliated, 47 unaffiliated and 138 renewals.

It has been decided that the next National Motorcycle, Bicycle and Accessories Show will be held in the Coliseum in Chicago, September 20-25.

The Wheeling (W. Va.) Motorcycle Club is planning to have a tri-state union of motorcyclists during the coming summer.—Adv.

Car of Mystery Exhibition

The interest manifested by the public in the exhibition of the Car of Mystery at the sales rooms of the Keystone Motor Car Company, 1019-27 Market street, during the past week was highly appreciated by Robert M. Morton, manager of the local distributing company.—Adv.

Andrew Redmond, accompanied by L. Frank Bass, left for Philadelphia yesterday at 12.01 p. m. and returned last evening in a Chandler touring car at 9.15, having stopped at Lancaster for supper. They report the roads in good condition, with the exception of one or two short distances. Adv.

MEETING OF MOTOR CLUB

Will Be Held at Chestnut Street Hall February 8

The annual meeting of the Motor Club of Harrisburg will be held at the Chestnut street hall Monday evening, February 8.

Notices will be mailed to the members within the next few days stating that a banquet will be served to them, to be followed by a business meeting of importance.

JEALOUS WHITE HOUSE DOG

Animal Becomes a Truant When Baby Comes on Scene

Washington, Jan. 23.—White House attendants are puzzled over the strange conduct of Nicky Ben. They would like very much to know if he is jealous of Francis Sayre, the White House baby.

Nicky Ben is a handsome Scotch collie that belongs to Mrs. William G. McAdoo. Several weeks ago he disappeared and was found locked up in a house a few blocks from the White House.

M'CORMACK SEATS IN DEMAND

Special Arrangements to Take Care of Out-of-Town Requests

The concert to be given by John McCormack, the celebrated Irish tenor, in the Chestnut Street Auditorium on Wednesday evening, February 3, is attracting much attention among lovers of good music. As Mr. McCormack gives recitals in only five cities in Pennsylvania during the present season, Harrisburg is to be congratulated upon being included in his itinerary.

Ellen Terry

Beatrice, Rosamund and Portia, heroines of Shakespeare, would all be suffragists if they were living to-day, and "probably were in their time, according to Ellen Terry, the actress, who is to give one of her Shakespearean recitals at the Majestic Wednesday evening.

Men's Meeting to-morrow

The evangelistic service for men only under the direction of the Young Men's Christian Association, Second and Locust streets, to be held to-morrow afternoon at 3.30 o'clock will be addressed by the Rev. J. T. Spangler, pastor of the Boas Street United Brethren church. Much interest centers in these meetings. Men are coming in large numbers and the attendance to-morrow will be large, for Mr. Spangler is always an interesting speaker to men, and his message will be strongly evangelistic, and that will be the character of the service. Doors will open at 3 o'clock. The praise service will be under the direction of the association chorister, W. H. Kautz, and familiar hymns will be sung.

MISS CLAYTON'S "MILK" PLAY IS FULL OF HUMAN INTEREST AND TEACHES AN IMPORTANT LESSON

The plan to present Miss Una Clayton's playlet, "Milk," in the Orpheum Theatre during the coming week has aroused much interest in Harrisburg women's organizations as well as among state and city health officials.

The playlet was written by Miss Clayton for the New York Milk Committee and the success which attended its presentation in that city led to the plan to bring it here. Although it deals with the subject of pure milk, it is, nevertheless, said to be entertaining as well as instructive. There are no technicalities in the play. It is framed as a stage production, the comedy and serious aspects being about equally divided, and the lesson pointed out while appealing and effective. Does not take the form of a statistical or ponderous lecture.

Miss Clayton herself plays the part of the waif who has a "large family," providing most of the comedy by her quaint ways and much of the effective sentiment in "A Child Shall Lead Them," and the "The Waif," seen at the Orpheum in the past. Critics have declared Miss Clayton to be the "Maggie Mitchell" of the decade because of her ability to create chuckles the minute after she has brought tears to the eye.—Adv.

"Papa's Daughters"

An operetta containing thirty of the newest song successes, absolutely up to the minute, plenty of comedy and dancing, an augmented orchestra, specially chosen; brand new scenery and costumes, all snap, no dead moments, every device that it is possible to use in a production that does not employ in "Papa's Daughters" to give to the most exacting audience full value for their money.

Ellen Terry

Beatrice, Rosamund and Portia, heroines of Shakespeare, would all be suffragists if they were living to-day, and "probably were in their time, according to Ellen Terry, the actress, who is to give one of her Shakespearean recitals at the Majestic Wednesday evening.

"The Old Homestead"

A comedy of Aristophanes recently read in London, deals with some of the supposedly modern features of the subject. There were militants in the days of early Greece. Not long ago I was very much interested to discover in an Italian book of the Middle Ages a caricature of some very stout women who were in the streets asserting their rights. They were surely suffragists.

Regent Theatre

The Regent to-day exhibits a Fox Feature entitled "The Thief," with Regent Donnelly and Richard Buhler in the title roles. These well known actors need no introduction to the devotees of film plays. The characters as portrayed in "The Thief" seem especially adapted to bring forth in these players their best talents and as a "movie" is meeting with even greater favor than it experienced while on the legitimate stage.—Adv.

At Photoplay Monday

Most popular "movie" actress returns Monday to the Photoplay in a Broadway Star production, assisted by Julia Swayne Gordon and Harry Northrup, in a three-act drama, "The Painted World," dealing with the professional stage. This drama is brilliantly enacted by this all-star cast of Vitagraph players. Large portion of unimpaired parade shown to-day, balance shown Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Tom Moore and Marguerite Courtot featured in "The Adventure at Briar Cliff," "Sweeney's Suicide" and "Patsy at College," our regular Saturday comedies. Adv.

Lyman H. Howe

The romance of industry as expressed in the making of a National cash register constitutes one of the features of the program to be presented by Lyman H. Howe at the Majestic Friday and Saturday, with daily matinees. Howe selected this particular plant not alone because it is typical American skill, enterprise and organization, but because it is recognized the world over as the model manufacturing plant—a monumental realization of an idea and an ideal.

The variety of the scenes may be imagined when it is remembered that ninety trades and professions are engaged here in manufacturing machines from 8,800 different kinds of raw material coming from all quarters of the globe. The registers are shipped to seventy-five different countries and protect thirty-three different coinages of money. The Philippines of to-day and yesterday—the past and present customs, costumes, dances, habits, etc., of a strange people—forms another noteworthy subject of vital and absorbing interest, besides many other features of rare charm and beauty, not to mention entirely new animated cartoons which always form such a welcome and pleasant diversion. Adv.

At the Orpheum

To-night marks the grand finale of a Keith show that proved very popular at the Orpheum this week. It is headed by Flo Irwin, the famous American comedian, and some of the excellent supporting attractions called in names like the Courtney Sisters, Nonette and a number of other clever stars. Chief of the splendid Keith acts booked to appear at the Orpheum next week is what has properly been termed a playlet with a purpose. It is a sterling comedy drama, entitled "Milk," featuring no less a local favorite than Miss Una Clayton. Her act promises to be one of the big topics of the season, for while it entertains it throws out powerful life-saving arms for babies, babies who lose their lives because of impure and diseased milk.

Miss Clayton has been at the Orpheum before. On three different occasions she appeared in three widely different sketches and then from time to time we saw many playlets that were written by her, even though they were enacted by other players. In every act that Miss Clayton ever appeared in herself, she always chose a theme that had a tendency to uplift, but in her powerful playlet of to-day she takes hold of one of the most important questions that confront people to-day. It is that of saving lives of babies from the death grip of unfit milk.

AGAIN PASS UP DIVIDEND

Brantingham Company Will Use Profits to Enlarge the Plant

Waynesboro, Jan. 23.—The directors of the Emerson-Brantingham Company have decided to pass the February quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent. on the preferred stock. The company passed, also, the November dividend.

It is understood that the dividend was passed because of the need of using the company's revenue in the operation of its plants and the difficulty of procuring money at this time.

The two dividends that have been passed will be paid some time in the future, it is announced, if possible in May.

Clergyman Declines Call
