Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

BOUNTIES FOR SOLDIERS

Prices England Had to Pay in the Past for Army Recruits

At one time the system of offering huge money bounties was quite a feature of army recruiting in Great Britain. Prior to the peninsular war, however, the amount of the bounty had been reduced considerably, but the wastage in human material caused by that war raised the bounty again, and from 13 pounds to 16 pounds was a common price right up to "Waterloo year," when it dropped to 7 guineas.

The stress of the Crimean campaign also caused the war office authorities to open wide their purses, and so we find that in 1855 the price of a cavalryman was 10 pounds, while an infantryman received 2 pounds less. All manner of ruses were tried to tempt men to remain in the service, and they were even offered money for every spent shell (sixpence for a large one and fourpence for a small one) that they brought to the commanding officer of artillery.

Even in recent years war has forced us to offer ample money prizes to keep military units up to strength, certain reservists receiving 20 pounds each for rejoining the colors in 1898, while soon after the South African war the short service men were tempted to remain serving by the offer of from 10 pounds to 15 pounds each.—Dunlee Advertiser.

MUST KEEP UP THE SERVICE

Railroad Must Do Business Until It Surrenders Charter and State Accepts the Same

The Public Service Commission in an opinion handed down to-day practically decided that a railroad is bound to furnish reasonably adequate service on its line until such time as the duty imposed upon it by its charter shall have been surrendered and the surrender accepted by the Commonwealth. Daniel S. Brandt and other residents of East Berlin complained to the Commission that the East Berlin Railroad Company refused to furnish the public either freight or passenger service over its line, which extends from East Berlin to Berlin Junction in Adams county.

At the hearing before the Commission it developed that this railroad began operation in 1876, and continued until September 9, 1914, when a receiver who had been appointed by the Court of Common Pleas of Adams county, sold the franchise to William G. Leas. There was no dispute between the parties as to the fact that the operation has been a financial failure, and the respondent contended that for this reason the company had a right to cease exercising the franchises conferred upon it by the State.

The Commission points out that the granting of the charter to the company did not give to it a mere license which it can surrender without the consent of the State. When a railroad charter is granted, the company secures the right to construct the line mentioned in the charter, and when it has exercised that right it enters into a contract with the State to operate the line until such time as the State has authorized it to discontinue the operation. It is true that the State may look upon a non-user as a forfeiture of the rights granted and proceed to declare the franchise null and void, but until such action is taken, the company is bound to perform the service which it undertook when it constructed its line under the powers given it by its charter. In other words, until either the State has forfeited the charter, or the company has surrendered the same, the contract between the State and the company must be carried out according to its terms.

The order of the Commission is that the East Berlin Railroad Company shall, on or before February 1, 1915, resume service over its line, until such time as it shall be relieved from that duty in accordance with the laws of this State.

IRVIN S. COBB, HUMORIST, WHO LECTURES ON WAR THURSDAY

At the Chestnut Street Auditorium Thursday night, Irvin Cobb, humorist and war correspondent, will make his first appearance in this city as a professional lecturer. Mr. Cobb will deliver on that occasion what he terms an "Illustrated Talk" of his own recent experience in the European war zone. A short time ago he gave this talk before the Greenroom Club in New York and it made such a success with the theatrical people who heard it that Selwyn & Company, the theatrical managers, became convinced that Mr. Cobb would be a good commercial proposition on the lecture platform. They have therefore signed a contract with the writer to present him professionally in the larger cities of the country and his first appearance under their management was made in Brooklyn two weeks ago.

In connection with the lecture there will be an exhibition of moving pictures as well as still pictures of war scenes secured by Mr. Cobb while abroad. These pictures have never been shown before and there will be another lecturer who will help explain them to the audience. Mr. Cobb's talk being mainly of his own experiences interspersed with some humorous anecdotes that will serve to lighten his more serious purpose.—Adv.

CHINAMAN HARASSED BY CROOKS GOES INSANE

Labors Under the Belief That New York Blackmailers Will Carry Out Their Threat to Cut Off His Head

Gettysburg, Jan. 25.—Harassed by a band of New York Chinese highbinders, So Ho Dan Hon, Hop Lee's young son, who has been having all kinds of trouble for the last year or more on account of efforts of United States immigration authorities who want to have him deported to his native land, has become temporarily deranged and is now in the Adams county jail.

It is said that a band of Chinese in New York learned some weeks ago of young Dan Hon's difficulties about the immigration matter and saw an opportunity to blackmail him. They accordingly called him on the telephone and made threats which they said they would carry out unless he would pay them $300.

TRANSFER HOTEL LICENSE

Former Owner and Bar Clerk Must Leave Place, However

Gettysburg, Jan. 25.—Kenderton S. Lynch, of Philadelphia, was granted a license at the Lincoln Way hotel Saturday morning upon certain conditions. The plan to contest the granting of a license to him at the Lincoln Way hotel was dropped when it was agreed that John F. Walter, the present proprietor, and Mr. and Mrs. Hendrix, the former a bartender at the hotel, would leave the place immediately.

The license transfer from Mr. Walter to Mr. Lynch, applied for some days ago, will be granted this week on these conditions. This license runs to April 1, and the further condition was imposed that application for similar permit for the fiscal year from April 1, 1915, to April 1, 1916, should also be filed by Mr. Lynch.

Found Dead in Bed

Waynesboro, Jan. 25.—David High, a well-known and respected resident of Quincy, was found dead in his bed at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Death was due to valvular heart trouble. Mr. High was 81 years old. He had been in failing health for some time and recently had been compelled to spend part of his time in bed.

Saturday morning he did not arise from bed but no significance was attached to this as he frequently slept late. When his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles W. High, went to his room at 10 o'clock she found him dead.

Mr. High was a blacksmith by trade and followed this for many years. Recently he had lived retired in Quincy.

Snow Shoveler Falls Dead

Carlisle, Jan. 25.—As the result of extra strain, believed to have been caused as the result of exertions in shoveling snow from the pavement at his residence, Jacob Schmohl, a well-known baker, died suddenly Saturday morning at about 6.30 o'clock at his home on North East street. He was in his 62d year.

While not in the best of health, Mr. Schmohl has been able to be about his business as usual lately. He spoke of no illness when he went to the front of the house about 6.15 o'clock to shovel snow.

Squabble Is Quashed

Hagerstown, Jan. 25.—After some weeks of dickers and threats of suits and counter suits and injunctions, the troubles between the Ladies' Bazaar and the Potomac Real Estate Company, builders of the Maryland theatre on South Potomac street, has been settled. The Ladies' Bazaar will vacate the property and will endeavor to find a new location. The business in this city was conducted by Mrs. Schorndorf, of Harrisburg.

Send Philadelphia Runaway Home

Hagerstown, Md., Jan. 25.—Lewis Finkel, aged 16, of Philadelphia, who ran away from home and was found in Martinsburg, where he applied at the police station for lodging, has been sent home. Business men took up a subscription for the boy's benefit, bought him clothes, and the city authorities paid for railroad fare to Philadelphia.

Jails Poet for Thirty Days

Hagerstown, Md., Jan. 25.—A. Gordon Botts, a poet, was sentenced by Justice John Ankeney to thirty days in jail for beating his landlady, Mrs. Ida Delander, out of a $93 board bill.

More than we use is more than we need and only a burden to the bearer.—Seneca.

FAMOUS GRACE CHURCH SCENE FROM "THE OLD HOMESTEAD" AT THE MAJESTIC THURSDAY

Denman Thompson's "The Old Homestead," unimpaired in every way and seemingly more virile and compelling than in the past, is now in its twenty-ninth season and is playing to audiences that completely fill the theatres where the company appears. The grand old play comes to the Majestic Thursday, matinee and night. The audiences follow essential details that go to make up a play, are perfect. Such familiar scenes as the old farmyard in the New Hampshire hills, breathe the air of good, wholesome honesty.—Adv.
