WOMAN SHOTS ALDERMAN

Uses Revolver in Chicago Council Chamber During Night Session

Chicago, Jan. 26.—Alderman Frank McDermott narrowly escaped assassination last night in the balcony of the City Council Chamber, when a woman with whom he had been conversing prior to taking his seat in the chamber suddenly drew a revolver from the folds of her dress and discharged the weapon. The bullet lodged in the Alderman's left knee and the attending surgeons say he was not seriously injured.

The woman, who was apparently about 30 years old and richly dressed, was seized by spectators and held until detectives arrived. After questioning the woman admitted that her name was Helen Zimmerman. She charged the Alderman with having wronged her sister, McDermott is a bachelor.

"My hand," said Polly, holding it out admiringly, "is a good deal smaller than yours."

"Yes," said Esther, "I can see that at a glance. That ring Leslie gave you was always too tight for me!"

HOW I CURED MY SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

A Friendly Scientist Showed Me How to Cure It Forever

I WILL TELL YOU FREE HOW TO GET RID OF YOURS TOO

For a long time I was sorely troubled by a hideous growth of Superfluous Hair on my face and arms. My face was indeed a sight from the exasperating growth and I grew almost to hate myself for my unsightly appearance.

There are many things advertised for Superfluous Hair, and I think I tried them all but never with any result, except to waste my money and burn my skin.

But, notwithstanding all my years of disappointment, today there is not a sign of Superfluous Hair on my face or arms. I got rid of it through following the advice of a friendly scientist, a Professor of Chemistry at an English University. The treatment he advised is so thorough, simple and easy to use that I wait every other sufferer in America to know about it. It worked such a change in my appearance and my happiness that I gladly waive my natural feelings of selfishness and will tell broadcast to all who are afflicted how I destroyed every trace of hair, never to return.

If you are a sufferer and would like to have full details, just send along your name (stating whether Mr. or Mrs.) and address, and a two-cent stamp for return postage, and I will send you in full detail the advice and instructions which resulted in my own cure. All else failed. Address: Dr. R. C. Wentworth Building, Boston, Mass. NOTE: My name is not on the above graph shows, is a lady of refinement, and for years was well-known as a Society Leader in Scranton, Pa.

CLASSIC WAR POEMS Selected by J. Howard Wert

THE BATTLE OF BUSACO

Busaco, situated in a mountainous region of Portugal, some 30 miles from the Atlantic coast, was the scene of the bloodiest battle of the Napoleonic wars fought on the soil of Portugal. The contest occurred in 1810. Massena, mentioned in the poem, was one of the bravest and most skillful of the brilliant galaxy of Napoleon's marshalls.

This poem is the only literary work extant of a brilliant English youth who died, of consumption, when but nineteen years of age. For nearly a century it has been a classic of our language. What might not its father have produced, had his life been spared?

Beyond Busaco's mountains dun, When far had rolled the sultry sun, And night her pall of gloom had thrown On nature's still convexity!

High on the heath our tents were spread, The cold turf was our cheerless bed, And o'er the hero's dew-chilled head The banners flapped incessantly.

The orb of day, in crimson dye, Began to mount the morning sky; Then, what a scene for warrior's eye Hung on the bold declivity!

The serried bayonets glittering stood, Like icicles, on hills of blood; An aerial stream, a silver wood, Reeling in the flickering canopy.

LET HOUSEWIFE DANCE AND LIGHTEN LABORS OF HOME

MARY PORTER BEEGLE "Everybody should cultivate dramatic motion, should train the body for wholesome self-expression of joy, happiness and kindred feelings," said Miss Mary Porter Beegle, director of physical training at Barnard College, as to Greek drapery she poised gracefully upon her bare toes, the embodiment of her own teaching. "And dancing," she continued, "is the key to the situation, to practically all situations having a beneficial side. Women, and men as well, should co-ordinate dancing with everything they do in life—the walk, the pose, the gesture and even work. The latter thought does not mean that I would have a woman dance and knit or sew at the same time; but I do mean that dancing would lighten her labors until they no longer would be tasks. What I wish to convey is the truth that following some wholesome activity, which stimulates both the body and the mind, work becomes more in the nature of a pleasure than a duty."

If Coffee Were Sold In Drug Shops

just as the coffee drug, caffeine, is sold, would you buy it?

Wouldn't it bring home to you very forcibly, the fact that coffee is not a food but a drug?

Caffeine is a cause of indigestion, heart trouble, nervousness, constipation and kindred ills. Some persons are strong enough to drink coffee without immediate harm, but many others are not.

Anyone can avoid risking health by a change to

POSTUM

This pure food-drink is made of whole wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses—that's all. It contains nothing harmful or injurious but is, on the contrary, healthful and invigorating.

Postum is sold by Grocers everywhere in two forms—Regular Postum which requires boiling, 15c and 25c packages, and Instant Postum which is soluble in hot water—made instantly in the cup, 30c and 50c tins.

A ten days' trial of Postum should convince any doubting Thomas.
