PENN'S RELAY GAMES WILL TAKE TWO DAYS THIS YEAR

Meet Will Be Held Friday and Saturday, April 23 and 24—Championships For Schools and Colleges—Races Will Be Bigger and Better

Pennsylvania's relay races this year will be bigger and better than ever. Last year the limit for a one-day meet was reached and from now on the games will be held on Friday and Saturday.

This will permit the managers to look after the enormous number of colleges and school teams that attend. It will also allow them to develop the games on the lines which they have in view.

The management has always desired to make the relay races a nucleus for Olympic teams, and it will be on these famous races will develop.

Saturday's meet will be practically the same as usual, except that the grammar school and parochial school races will not be held on that day.

Below will be found the classification of the various colleges. In addition to these, there are a large number of races for schools, and there are championships for the schools and for the colleges.

Summary of Rival Claims Which Judge Landis Must Consider in Fed Suit

The contentions of the rival claims to be considered by Judge Landis in the Federal suit against organized baseball are as follows:

The Federal League Claims. That organized baseball is a Trust. That the Federal League came into court with clean hands.

That the clause in "red" in the present contract is a subterfuge.

That, although the present form of contract may release a player at the end of two years, the ruling of the National Commission tends to make ball players slaves for life.

That the 10-day clause in the Federal League contract is only put in to prevent untried players from becoming a charge on the organization.

That organized baseball has tried to ruin the Federal League by bringing suits against players signed by many clubs.

That the Federal League bettered the conditions of ball players and benefited the game as a whole.

That it has $3,500,000 invested in the game.

That unless a restraining order is issued it will be irreparably damaged.

Organized Baseball Claims. That it is not a Trust.

That the 1914 contract is legal.

That it made no overtures to the Federal League for peace.

That every player who had signed a contract belongs to the league.

That it has not harassed the Federal League.

That it was not a Federal question before the court.

That the court did not have jurisdiction.

That the ball player can free himself to sign with any one after two years of service.

That ball players under Federal League contract are bound to that league for ten years.

That organized baseball had made mistakes, but has reformed.

That the Feds tried to become a major league by resolution.

That the motion for preliminary injunction should not be granted.

JASPER QUITS LEAGUE

Lack of Support Reason for Champions Throwing Up Sponge

Philadelphia, Jan. 26.—One of the biggest basketball surprises of the season occurred yesterday, when the Jasper club, champions of last year, announced that it had quit the Eastern League and was through for the season.

The resignation of the Jaspers came as a big surprise, for it was thought that the club would finish the year, although the attendance throughout the season had been anything but encouraging.

On top of this came the desertion of Kummer, which was probably the final blow which knocked the club out of the league.

The Eastern League has called a special meeting to be held to-night at the Bingham House, where action will be taken on the withdrawal and to consider applications for the berth. Two out-of-town clubs are said to be willing to fill the vacancy, so the league should not have much trouble to plug up the gap.
