Truces Out of Fashion

He told how thousands of dead bodies lay between parallel trenches after a battle, creating a stench which the soldiers at the front could overcome only by constant smoking. How when a commander was asked why a truce was not called for to bury the corpses the reply was, "Truces have gone out of fashion."

Mr. Cobb told several jokes to maintain his reputation as a humorist, but refrained from speaking at length about the war because, he said, he had learned never to give anything he could sell. FRENCH CLAIM VICTORIES ON THE KAISER'S BIRTHDAY

Losses suffered by the Germans on the 25th and the 26th of January undoubtedly reached the equal of one brigade (a brigade in the German army totals 6,000 men). The German prisoners in our hands all are under the impression that they have been strongly checked. Our losses in dead, wounded and missing for these two days are about 800 men and they can be explained by two things, first, the severity of the fighting, and second, by a partial landslide in an old quarry in which two companies of French soldiers had taken shelter during the bombardment.

MISS TERRY, ARTIST, AT 77

English Actress Delightfully Interprets Shakespearean Characters

Ellen Terry, famous English actress, 77 years old, but still possessed of the strength of mind and much of the strength of body which, coupled with her artistry, has helped her all her life to portray with wonderful force the famous feminine roles of Shakespeare, entertained a good-sized audience in the Majestic theatre last evening with a reading from the famous playwright's works, interspersed with interpretations of various characters through her rare acting.

Miss Terry's voice trembled occasionally as she very evidently taxed her strength to do justice to the characters of the author whose works she has interpreted since childhood. At times she had difficulty in following the manuscript from which she read, but when, without reading the lines, she undertook to act the parts of some of Shakespeare's heroines, she recalled the days when she worked by the side of Sir Henry Irving on the stage.

SAYS HARGEST WAS NEGLIGENT

Coroner's Jury Returns Verdict in Auto Inquiry

A Coroner's jury last evening inquired into the accident at Front and Walnut streets on New Year's night when an automobile owned by Mr. H. H. Gettys and driven by John J. Hargest, Jr., proprietor of the Rex garage, crashed into a Valley railway car, injuring Miss Grace Maugan, 319 Forster street, so seriously that she died a few hours later in the Harrisburg hospital.

The jury returned a verdict that Hargest was negligent in not having his automobile under control as it approached the street intersection. The case now rests with District Attorney Stroup, who was present and heard the witnesses. He has not yet determined on a prosecution, he said this afternoon.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If You Feel Backachy or Bladder Troubles You—Salts Is Fine for Kidneys

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels: removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to cleanse and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—Adv.

DISTRESS IS RELIEVED AT HOME AS WELL AS ABROAD

Volunteer Canvasser For Local Committee Find Families In Need In This City While Getting Funds For War Sufferers

Through the medium of the volunteer canvassers of the Home and War Relief committee, four families in which sickness and hunger were causing distress were relieved yesterday. Work was found for one widow with a four-month-old child, while additional sewing was given to two families in which there was urgent need for some form of relief.

Those were some of the details reported to the Ways and Means committee of the Home and War Relief committee since the canvass for funds to carry on the work began.

The amount of money required to carry on the relief work in this city is shown by the report of the Home Relief division, which is furnishing sewing work to 321 families. Of these but 113 are known to the local charities, which proves that the relief work is most emphatically of the emergency kind.

There are more than 100 cheap cloth dusters at headquarters, 7 South Front street, which are to be sold at cost prices. Households in need of them should call or use the telephone and they will be delivered C. O. D.

The foreign division is sending four big boxes to Poland to-day, others will be sent by the Red Cross division to Poland and France on Saturday.

Geffert, a foreman on the Pennsy's main line in Dillerville, becomes foreman of the Eslinger section.

Chester S. Hoffman, an assistant foreman in Highspire, was promoted to the position of regular foreman and was named to succeed Geffert in Dillerville. These changes, the supervisor said, will become effective on February 1.

MUST ANSWER TO CHARGES OF RINGING FALSE ALARMS

Boys Alleged to Have Been Prompted By a Desire to "See the Engines Run" Will Have a Hearing Before Judge McCarrell in Juvenile Court

Forty criminal charges, ranging from truancy to robbery and involving twenty-nine youthful defendants, are slated to be heard before Judge McCarrell at the regular session of juvenile court in the judge's chambers to-morrow.

One of the defendants is Robert Anderson, 14 years old, who was apprehended yesterday after being a fugitive for several weeks. He is held on thirteen separate counts of larceny and felonious entry, it being alleged that he was one of the crowd of boys that systematically robbed Harrisburg homes and stores between September and December, of last year.

The lad's mother turned him over to the authorities yesterday, shortly after he returned to the city from Baltimore where, it is said, he had been in hiding. William and Edward Ashenfelter and Alfred Swales, also are accused of being members of the thieving crew. William Ashenfelter must answer to seven counts of larceny and felonious entry. Edward must face four and the Swales boy one.

Charges of malicious mischief growing out of the ringing of the fire alarm "just to see the fire engines run," have been lodged against Franklin Jones, Goodyear Border and Henry Short. They also will appear before Judge McCarrell in the morning. Samuel Houck and Elmer Crader also are defendants, the charges against them being larceny and felonious entry. This case was called at the regular session of criminal court a fortnight ago, but it was continued until this juvenile term owing to the fact that Young Crader did not become sixteen years old until some days after the alleged offense. Both now are in jail. Detainers have been lodged against them in arson cases, it being alleged that they applied a torch to a haystack owned by Robert J. Walton, Waltonville, which was destroyed by fire several months ago.
