JAP CRUISER WAS WRECKED ON ROCK Official Report to Tokio Says All Officers and Crew of the Asama Were Saved

NEWS OF WRECK STILL LACKING

Rescue Measures for Stranded Steamer on Lower California Coast Are Cloaked in Secrecy to Protect Neutrality of United States

Tokio, Feb. 5.—An official report received in Tokio on the loss of the Japanese cruiser Asama off the western coast of Lower California, says that all the officers and members of the crew of the warship have been saved.

The Asama struck an uncharted rock off the northwestern coast of the Mexican republic. The extent of the damage to the steamer is not known, nor can anything be said as to the probabilities of saving her.

The disaster to the Japanese cruiser Asama was reported to Washington yesterday by Rear Admiral Howard, commander of the American Pacific fleet. In this report the number of men on board the Japanese vessel was placed at five hundred.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Rescue measures for the Japanese cruiser Asama, ashore and breaking up on the lower California coast, were cloaked in secrecy here to-day to protect the neutrality of the United States.

On the theory that information of the disabled Japanese ship might become of value to German men of war in the Pacific, the Navy Department kept secret its latest dispatches from Rear Admiral Howard, commander of the Pacific fleet sent from his flagship, the cruiser San Diego, in the neighborhood of Ensenada, and refused information of the movement of American men-of-war going to the Asama's aid.

It was believed here, however, that first aid would be given by the cruiser Raleigh. The San Diego, crippled by a recent boiler explosion, would be unable to make fast time to the wreck near Turtle bay.

SURGEON'S GRAPHIC TALE OF DEATH OF GEN. BRIDOUX, SLAIN ON FIELD OF BATTLE

Correspondence of the Associated Press, Paris, Jan. 21.—The "Temps" publishes the following story of the death of General Bridoux, taken from the note book of an army surgeon just returned from captivity in Germany:

"I passed yesterday through one of the most touching experiences of my life," the surgeon writes. "General Bridoux, in command of our cavalry corps, died in my arms. I have seen many deaths in twenty years and I have read of the deaths of Plutarch and of the generals of the empire, but I am convinced that no noble a soul as that of General Bridoux has rarely animated a mortal.

"The battle was raging in a fog so thick that one could see no farther than 200 yards. In order to better watch the operations the general and his staff were approaching the lines in their automobiles. Coming into a clearing, the party sustained a heavy musketry fire from a party of Germans concealed fifty yards away in a thicket. Two chauffeurs and two ordnance officers were killed outright before the cavalry escort could intervene and could drive the Germans away. General Bridoux fell back in his seat with his head to his breast. A bullet had shattered his shoulder, penetrated the body and pierced a lung.

"We carried him into a log hut in the thicket. 'I suffer!' he exclaimed. 'I feel very ill!' Then he talked of his

BRONCHIAL COUGHS MANY WILL HEAR RAYMOND

When the bronchial tubes are affected with that weakening, tickling cough, they need immediate and sensible treatment. The breath seems shorter because of mucous obstructions; usually fever is present and your head jars with every cough. Your chest aches and the inflammation often spreads to the lungs.

The food- tonic that has proven its worth for forty years—is Scott's Emulsion. It drives out the cold, which is the root of the trouble, and checks the cough by aiding the healing process of the enfeebled membranes.

If you are troubled with bronchitis or know an afflicted friend, always remember that Scott's Emulsion builds strength while relieving the trouble.

Four hundred tickets to the "Making Good in Business" talks of Frank Jewell Raymond to be given by the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce on February 19, 23 and 25 were taken at a meeting of the committee in charge of the matter yesterday afternoon. As this represented about seven per cent of the membership of the Chamber of Commerce, Chairman A. W. Moul felt confident that the seating capacity of any auditorium in Harrisburg would be taxed.

The Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce is requesting the entire membership to make known at once the number of tickets that can be taken by each member or firm. The many live firms, members of the Chamber of Commerce, are endeavoring to have every one of their employees who either sells his or the firm's services or its commodities present at the talks.

The committee announced that the price of the coupon ticket for the three talks would be seventy-five cents to members of the Chamber of Commerce, their employees and families. The price to non-members of the Chamber of Commerce, etc., will be fifty cents per night or $1.50 for the series.

The talks will be given in the auditorium of the Technical High school, as they are of an educational nature and since no other auditorium in the city provides enough seating space.

Every branch of business and industry of the city was represented at the meeting on the 28th which was addressed by Mr. Raymond and all of them stated that he would benefit them and their people. For instance, the Moorhead Knitting Company has engaged Mr. Raymond at their expense, to give a special talk to suit their line of business. Other industries are also considering engaging Mr. Raymond for that purpose while he is in Harrisburg. But the general membership of the Chamber and others who cannot afford to spend several hundred dollars for these nationally famous talks, are given the opportunity to hear Mr. Raymond by payment of a charge that is merely designed to be enough to guarantee that those who come have a genuine interest in the matter.

SERIOUS ASPECTS IN GERMAN MOVE

Neither the State Department nor the German embassy had received the latest Berlin admiralty statement to-day and it was said at the German embassy that the Berlin Foreign Office probably would deliver copies to diplomatic representatives in Berlin and regard that notice as sufficient. Yesterday's proclamation is an extension of a former one delivered by Ambassador Gerard, applying to the north and west coasts of France.

There is no precedent in dealing with the question, heretofore submarines have played no important part in warfare and all of the rules of international law are framed with special reference to ordinary ships. The ordinary practices in taking prizes and dealing with the merchantships of an enemy which it is not feasible to take as prizes are clearly set out and established by long usage. The merchantmen must be halted; boarded and either made a prize or sunk. But in the latter, crew and passengers must be taken off.

While it was noted that the proclamation was directed against "enemy ships" and applies to neutral ships only when the attacks "were meant for enemy ships" through suspicion of misuse of neutral flags, officials expressed grave concern over the implied threat to sink merchant vessels probably without warning or taking off non-combatant passengers and crews.

During consideration of the subject by the State Department American marines probably will be expected to risk the German warning and enter forbidden waters and their own risk, precisely what they have been doing in the North Sea since notices several months ago from both the British and German governments, that owing to the planting of mines, it would be regarded as within the war zone.

The notice from the British government that it is contemplating retaliation against German trade, though not formally, before the State Department to-day, has given rise to much expectation on the part of officials as to what the British have in mind. Although it has been denied by an official declaration that food supplies are contraband has been issued, it is believed that the British note forecasts the speedy issue of some such declaration. And in addition to this trying to cut off Germany's food supply by water, it is believed to be possible that the British may make the blow more severe by prohibiting the transportation of cotton to Germany. Cotton is a base of some forms of smokeless powder as well as the high explosive gun cotton used in the war heads of torpedoes and submarine mines.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You—Drink Lots of Water

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Adv.

3702 Knorr St., Tacony, Philadelphia, Pa.—"My baby had eczema. It was like deep cracks and then it would weep and look at. Every place where there was a crack, like the back of her ear and in her neck, it was awfully bad. The child had to be carried at night. We could not let her clothes be near it. She was fretful.

"She was a year old before I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I applied the Ointment and left it on five minutes, then washed with the Soap. The eczema was gone in a few months." (Signed) Mrs. M. Fagan, November 7, 1914.

GETS WOMAN'S SHOT IN FOOT

She Aims at Pigeon and Ball Hits Farm Hand. Dillsburg, Pa., Feb. 5.—M. G. Sheffer, one of the employes on the Clark farm near town, suffered a painful accident Wednesday evening. While he was in the corncrib getting some corn Miss Gertrude Frederick, another employe, secured a small rifle and took a shot at a pigeon that was loitering around the premises. The pigeon escaped, but Sheffer emerged from the corncrib with a cry of pain, saying he was shot, and an evidence there was a small, round hole in his rubber shoe and stocking, through which the ball pierced his foot.

Dr. Crawford made an examination but failed to locate the bullet. The corncrib was at an angle from the pigeon and it cannot be explained how the bullet reached the man's foot as there are no marks on the crib where the bullet passed through. It is thought the bullet struck the ground and was deflected in some mysterious way to the corncrib. Sheffer's condition is not serious but he will be unable to attend his duties as farm hand for a few weeks.
