MISHAP AT SCHWAB'S PLANT

Burst Water Main Shuts Down Bethlehem Works, Busy With Contracts South Bethlehem, Pa., Feb. 5.—Bursting of a 36-inch water main yesterday afternoon caused a shutdown of the entire Bethlehem Steel plant. It is the first time the entire plant has been crippled, and the great contracts Mr. Schwab is filling for war material for European nations will be held up until the break is fixed.

What caused the break could not be learned. Rumors were spread that the water main had been tampered with, possibly by some person in sympathy with countries other than those for which the steel company is making war material, but nothing could be learned on the subject.

Through this broken main flowed the entire water supply for all the machine shops, armor plate and projectile plants, blast and open hearth furnaces, etc. Fires were immediately banked to prevent possible explosions.

Possibly 11,000 men will be idle until the break is mended. Three huge pumps, each capable of drawing 10,000,000 gallons from the Lehigh river, have been used in forcing water each day into the works, all through the broken main.

The commission of N. B. Critchfield, as Secretary of Agriculture, will expire in a few weeks and Secretary Critchfield has let it be known that he does not aspire to a reappointment but proposes to retire to his farm in Somerset county.

A large crop of candidates has sprung up, all of whom have presented their claims, and the struggle for the office is now spirited. Governor Brumbaugh has given no indication of whom he will appoint, but it is understood will defer to the wishes of the State farmers, many of whom have written him in the interests of various candidates.

Among the prominent candidates are: Algoner L. Martin, of Lawrence, who for years has been the Deputy Secretary and Director of Farmers' Institutes; and is backed by fifty of the members of the State Board of Agriculture, who called in a body on the Governor last week and requested Mr. Martin's appointment.

Dr. H. A. Surface, State Economic Zoologist, who was appointed from State College, and to whom is given the credit for much of the agricultural revival in Pennsylvania in recent years. Surface is backed by a large newspaper contingent.

George G. Hutchinson, of Warrior's Mark, Huntingdon county, at present an inspector of foodstuffs for the department and a former neighbor of Governor Brumbaugh, being from the latter's home county.

Edward Caruthers, of Washington, prominent as an agriculturist and politician in the western part of the State.

R. L. Munce, of Washington, a well-known farmer, brother of Dr. Munce, Assistant State Veterinarian.

There are others, but in the hope of being under cover at present in the hope that a dark horse may win.

CORK LEG SAVED HIS LIFE

Kept Virginian Afloat When He Had Been Upset in River

Winchester, Va., Feb. 5.—A cork leg yesterday served as a life preserver for William L. Kuhn, a widely known Winchester stockman, who was forced to make a desperate battle for his life in the Shenandoah river several miles east of Perryville, Clarke county.

Kuhn undertook to ford the river in a light buggy after being assured by rivermen that the water was not high. But when one-third of the way across the horse broke loose in deep water and the buggy was caught in a treacherous current and dashed down stream.

Although Kuhn was unable to swim, his cork leg kept him on top of the water and he floated several hundred yards toward shore, where he was rescued.

PHOTOPLAY TO-DAY

This two-reel Vita-Lough travesty on one of the consequences of the present war, are so amusingly shown, no one could possibly do anything but laugh when the picture is run at the Photoplay to-day. There is no such thing as neutrality between the Schultz and the Dubois families, neighbors, after the proclamation of war. The French in one family and the German in the other, causes trouble at once, and former friends become bitter enemies. The last straw is added when the son and daughter of the respective families fall in love and a battle-royal is the outcome. Finally all the participants are made to see the absurdity of it all while the dove of peace once more flutters overhead, the war is forgotten in the coming nuptials of Fritz and Marie.—Adv.
