Lefty George to Fight Transfer York, Pa., Feb. 8.—Lefty George, who is spending the winter here with his family, will fight his release with the Cleveland American Association club, of Kansas City. George does not believe he can do his best work in so warm a climate. He claims he has a right to be consulted and to be made satisfied before any disposition is made of him. This is a part of his contract, and for Somers to ask him to make a move that may injure his baseball ca- reer he feels is unjust.

TRENTON OUT OF TRI-STATE

Owner Morris Says Franchise Will Be Transferred to Phillipsburg, N. J.

Trenton, Feb. 9.—Trenton is not to have Tri-State baseball this year. At least this positive declaration is based on a statement from William J. Morris, the sole owner of the local franchise, who admits that the Trenton franchise will be transferred to Phillipsburg.
Negotiations for the transfer are practically completed and it is thought that official announcement to this effect will be made at the annual meeting of the Tri-State League at Philadelphia, next week.

Mr. Morris, of course, will likely retain the franchise rights, but a company of Easton and Phillipsburg men will operate the club at the latter place.
He has been to both Phillipsburg and Easton quite frequently of late and perfected plans for the removal. There is no park at Easton and as Phillipsburg, at least so far as baseball is concerned, Mr. Morris has decided it wise to make a change.

Bat Nelson Sues Annette Kellerman
New York, Feb. 9.—Batting Nelson, formerly lightweight champion, yesterday afternoon filed suit in the Supreme Court against Annette Kellerman, the vaudeville swimmer, and her husband, James R. Sullivan, for $450 and interest alleged to be due on a loan of $1,000 made to the mermaid in September, 1910. She paid back $550, said Nelson, but since her marriage has paid nothing more.

WIFE TRIES TO SHOOT CONVICT

Two Female Visitors Fight Keeper in Singing Prison

New York, Feb. 9.—Two women called yesterday afternoon at Sing Sing and asked to see Tony Castillo, and Frank Sitorri, convicts. One of the women was Castillo's wife, she said.
The convicts came to one of the reception rooms and were being guarded by Keeper Carson, when the woman with the alleged wife screamed to Castillo:
"Look out; she is going to shoot you!"

Castillo tried to run, but Sitorri, a big muscular chap, leaped upon him.
A general fight followed. Carson, who had locked the door from the inside and had the key in his pocket, attempted to part the fighting men and women and was bitten in the arm. The keeper was being used up when Keeper Lincoln sealed a partition at one side of the room and went to his aid.

The door was unlocked and other keepers came. The two convicts were hurried to their cells and Warden Osborne telephoned to the Ossining police that at least one of the women was armed.

While the women were being taken from prison the woman, whose name was not revealed, said she had been brought here to lure Castillo to the reception room, as the other woman sought to injure him.

A patrolman was taking the two women to the police station, when two boys pointed to a man they said had just buried a revolver under the boardwalk leading from the prison to the railroad station. A revolver, wrapped in a handkerchief, was found.

The man said he was Joseph Rotundi of No. 2149 Second avenue, Manhattan. He said he knew nothing about the revolver, but was arrested.

The three were arraigned before Police Justice Valentine, but were let go at the request of Warden Osborne. All information regarding the fight was denied at the prison by orders from the warden, it was said.

Those at the conference, besides the Governor, were Attorney General Brown, Lieutenant Governor McClain, Senator Vare, who was invited to attend by his colleagues on the Legislative Committee, and these members of the Joint Committee on the Executive Manufacture and Representative Henry I. Wilson, of Tioga; William H. Wilson, of Philadelphia, and George W.
Williams, of Tioga, and also Speaker Ambler and President Pro Tem. Kline.

It was regarded as significant that before the child labor bill could be "taken up" at a "subsequent meeting" it was introduced in the Senate and referred to committee.

Bill to Abolish a Department A bill proposing an amendment to the Constitution abolishing the Internal Affairs Department was introduced in the Senate by Senator Snyder and directly afterward reported from committee and passed the first time. This action caused much surprise, as it was generally understood that no attempt would be made to pass such a bill this year.

THE CHILD LABOR BILL INTRODUCED

Brumbaugh Measure
Bars All Under 14
From Engaging in Any Occupation

JAIL PENALTY IS PROVIDED

Proposed Act Touches Only on Working Hours and a Supplemental Bill Covering Educational Provisions Will Be Put in Later

The child labor bill, which has the endorsement of Governor Brumbaugh and the Pennsylvania Child Labor Association, was last night introduced in the Senate by Senator Phipps, of Venango. The measure touches only on the distinct working hours of children and is to be supplemented later by a measure covering educational provisions.

The bill provides that no minor under 14 years old shall be permitted to engage in any occupation. The present law permits boys under 16 years to work 10 hours a day, 58 hours a week, and girls of the same age 10 hours a day, 54 hours a week.

The Brumbaugh eight-hour day child labor bill forbids boys under 16 working at night in the glass industry or in any other occupation. The present law permits boys under 16 years of age to work any hours of the night in continuous industries. Under the Brumbaugh bill no minor would be permitted to engage in the telephone, telegraph or messenger service between 8 o'clock in the evening and 6 o'clock in the morning.

Applies to Newsboys
The Brumbaugh bill forbids boys under 14 and girls under 18 to sell street papers or engage in any street trade.
Boys under 16 and girls under 18 are prevented from selling newspapers or engaging in any street trade before 6 o'clock in the morning or after 8 o'clock in the evening. The present law, boys and girls of any age may engage in selling newspapers, or in any street trade, at any hour of the day or night.

The Brumbaugh bill provides that no minor under 18 years of age shall be permitted to work in extra hazardous occupations, and that no minor under 16 years of age shall be permitted to work in injurious occupations, and the Industrial Board is given the right to determine what occupations are to be classified as extra hazardous and as injurious.

This bill has the full approval of the Governor and Attorney General Brown, and will be complemented by another, to be introduced shortly. In the coming bill provision will be made for the issuance of employment certificates for the physical examination of children desiring to enter industry under 16 years of age, and for the educational requirements necessary to obtain an employment certificate.
