

Let the "Kiddies" Have Plenty of Florida Oranges and Grapefruit

The juice of tree-ripened Florida citrus fruits is both food and drink for growing children. It can be given freely, even to very young boys and girls. The juice of Florida oranges and grapefruit will refresh the child when lesson-weariness without endangering the digestion. In children's homes, hospitals and sanitariums Florida orange juice and grapefruit are recommended by physicians as the most easily digested and wholesome refreshment for most patients.

Citrus fruit grown in Florida surpasses in every good quality—it is fragrant, juicy, spicy, sweet and strength-giving. Grown in the life-giving sun of the semi-tropics, tempered by the gentle winds of the Gulf, filled almost to bursting by the summer showers which come just at the right time, covered in the morning by jeweled dew drops and mellowed in the evening by the golden light of many harvest moons—Florida oranges and grapefruit are food and drink truly fit for all the family—men, women and children.

Food for the Whole Family Buy Only Ripe Citrus Fruits

Florida oranges and grapefruit are food and drink for the whole family. Citrus fruits equally are good for the most delicate child and the strongest man. Keep Florida oranges and grapefruit in your home all the time—buy them by the box. Eat them and drink them—at breakfast, luncheon and dinner. They will give all your folks brain and body energy and save doctor's bills.

Only tree-ripened oranges and grapefruit are fit to eat. When the fruit is picked before fully ripe, it lacks in flavor, juice and sweetness. Progressive Florida growers operate in a non-profit making co-operative body for the mutual protection of producers and consumers of citrus fruits. This organization ships only tree-ripened oranges and grapefruit. When you buy these fruits look for its mark in red on boxes and wrappers:

Drink the Juice of These Real Florida Oranges

Eat These Grapefruit—Nature's Favorite Tonic

No country in the world can produce oranges so spicy, so sweet, so juicy, so fragrant, so strength-giving as Florida. No other country can grow such grapefruit, with its texture of pulp and rind, its richness of flavor, its delicious juice. No country has the climate—that is why: Florida seems to have been ordained by Providence as the natural home of citrus fruits. Ponce de Leon and his staff brought with them over the seas and left in Florida, when seeking the fountain of youth, the source of that which has most nearly given to the world the object of their quest. The seeds of the oranges and grapefruit, so long ago brought from Spain in these fruits are now furnishing health not only to those who live in Florida, but blood-sunshine all the year round to those bound by the snow and ice or enervated by the heat of the North.

Oranges and grapefruit are both food and drink. They have many uses in cookery and for confections. Booklet telling numerous ways of serving them and giving many recipes for their use mailed for 4 cents in stamps. Address, Florida Citrus Exchange, 628 Citizens Bank Building, Tampa, Florida.

Waynesboro, Feb. 10.—The three-cornered fight between John W. Warehime, D. C. Unger and H. S. Morgenthau for postmaster of Waynesboro was brought to a close last evening, when a dispatch was received here announcing that President Wilson has nominated Warehime for the job.

It is a structure 30x12 and the rear half of the building is being converted into the lockup.

EXTENSIVE WORK IS UNDER PROGRESS BY C. E. SOCIETIES

Hundreds of Persons From Surrounding Counties Attend District Rallies in City's Churches During Endeavor Week—Notable Speakers

Two rousing Christian Endeavor rallies were held last evening in the interior of C. E. Week. Hundreds of Eubankers of this city, Dauphin, Cumberland, Perry, Lebanon and surrounding counties of Central Pennsylvania are aroused with enthusiasm and gather nightly at district rallies to study the work of the great C. E. work comprises Christian service training school, helpful influence through hospital visitation, fresh air homes, holidays for poor children, evangelistic street work, quiet hour, good citizenship, temperance, purity, Bible study, missions and mission work, and is only on the threshold of its influence, as its increasing numbers, vitality and efficiency prove.

At the third district rally, held in the Derry Street United Brethren church last evening, 16 societies were represented, most of them by delegations. The following societies were represented: Fourth Reformed, Park Street United Evangelical, C. S. Ulrich, president; Immanuel Presbyterian, Mr. Slaymaker, president; State Street

MILITARY ARCHERS
Bows and Arrows Were Used in Battle Up to a Century Ago
We think of bows and arrows as medieval weapons of war abandoned by the nations of Europe four or five centuries ago. The bowmen of Crete are the last of any prominence in English history. Yet it is only about 100 years since soldiers fought with bows and arrows in European wars, and that, too, on the fields of southern Belgium.

It was in 1813, when all Europe was armed against Napoleon. Every one of the allied nations brought every possible resource of men and means to further this end. Among them was Russia. To the war she sent soldiers from the newly conquered tribes that dwelt upon the steppes of Asia—Bokharans and Turkomans and Tartars and other half savage peoples. Many of these regiments were armed with bows and arrows.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN FASHION CLEANINGS FROM PARIS

The Separate Blouse Shows the Addition of a High Collar—Sand and Putty-colored Waists

New York, Feb. 10.—It is said that Berlin has been much the same during the war as at other times, excepting for the war spirit and the grief at the bulletin boards. It has been the Kaiser's wish that things should be as unaffected as possible, and, as he is well beloved, as well as feared, the people, especially the women, have shown their grief but little.

In Paris the fear of invasion was great, and immediately things were closed—no lights were allowed, the cafes could not be open, the theatres were shut down, and a curfew told people that their lights must be out. It was natural that this should affect business, but now things have changed and are taking on a much more normal outlook.

The dressmaking houses which have kept open are doing business, with the United States at least, and Kodier, the great manufacturer of fabrics, reports that he is furnishing materials to the Callot Sisters, Cheruit, Fremet and Beer.

The theatres are opening and many are crowded, but not by the fashionable audience that one would expect under different circumstances. The women of Paris are avoiding the extremes which have always been their hobby in style. The very tight skirt has been discarded, but the very full skirt, which was thought would by this time be the Parisian style of the moment, has not as yet been fully accepted. However, the gowns which were worn by the actresses had certain elements worth remembering.

A dress of black velvet, which was worn by a French actress, had long, tight-fitting sleeves and a square, low neck, with a Medici collar in the back. The skirt was full and drawn in around the bottom. A length of the velvet was draped over the hips and ended in a train. The entire gown was devoid of trimming, which gave a richness that no amount of embellishment could have aided.

Long sleeves are to be seen on all gowns. I asked a prominent New York dressmaker not long ago if she would make long sleeves for summer, and she replied: "I most certainly will unless my customer insists otherwise."

A charming afternoon dress is pictured herewith, which shows somewhat the bolero effect, together with the long sleeves, which are most striking features of the present styles. The waist is made with an underwaist of crepe de Chine with the bolero effect in wide lace. The sleeves of this outer waist are short and of the lace, while long net sleeves extend to the wrist. The skirt of crepe de Chine is shirred several times at the waist and hips, and is finished at the top with a frill of itself. Three graduated bands of net are the only trimming on the skirt. This is a frock which may be worn again and again, as its long sleeves and high collar give it a distinctly daytime air, while the material makes it elaborate enough for many evening functions. The separate waist takes on different features with the changing of the season, and there is no end to the numerous models, although they all bear a resemblance one with the other.

This season the high collar has been the newest note in these waists. A few good models have been made with the high collar, but it is much harder to achieve than the waist with the round, wedge or rolling collars.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. Do this to-night, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

Some of the waists are made with a V neck and a high collar above it, leaving a little of the neck or chest exposed. This is unique, but gives such a look of something left out, or unfinished that it is scarcely popular. Others are made with a straight band around the neck and a ruff of net or come. There is said to be a revival of the old "button-in-the-back" waists and trappings of braid and buttons in military effect in the front.

Dainty white waists are shown, some pin-tucked and others of the plain material trimmed with washable, central or braid and little soft crocheted buttons and with a dainty collar which stands high in the back, but does not keep the front of the neck from being free and open to the air.

Overblouse and coat effects are very popular and will, no doubt, be used, especially for the very dressy waists.

The chiffon or chiffon cloth blouse of putty, sand or biscuit colors are very smart and very practical this winter. They are made with high collars and usually button straight up the front with small silk-covered buttons. The waist of crepe de Chine is also very good, especially where made with large revers which fall gracefully in the front.

In an illustration I show a new blouse, collarless, with the neck out in the new Callot square, which is most becoming and far less trying than the usual square or Dutch neck. The model is developed in craquele net and untrimmed, except for a cord outlining the neck. The skirt worn with this waist is an excellent one for the separate skirt, as it is made with a yoke and front in one and pleats at the side, causing the skirt to flare in the up-to-date manner at the sides.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little into your hand and rub well into the scalp with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of this awful scurf will have disappeared. Two or three applications will destroy every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.—Adv.
