HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink. loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Adv.

Gold Coin Found in Body of Man Who Killed Himself

Pittsburgh, Feb. 15.—Whether an unidentified man who, hungry and broke, ended his troubles by firing two revolver bullets into his head at Undercliffe last January 28, knew that a $2.50 gold piece was nestling in his stomach never will be known in this world. That the man's stomach was an improvised savings bank was not discovered until Saturday night when the body was cremated in the county morgue.

c. M. McConnell and J. B. Parker, of the "American Thresherman."

Some of the speeches will have bearing on the efforts the association is making to have repealed that section of the automobile law of 1913 which places certain restrictions on traction engines, and to have enacted a new law which would impose less rigid regulations. It is contended by the association that the present law, which requires traction engine owners to pay a license fee in addition to the tax required by a law of longer standing, practically imposes a double taxation on traction engines, and it is the hope of the threshermen to have this second tax wiped out. There are some other requirements of the 1913 law which the association regards as unjust and which the hassociation regards as unjust and which association regards as unjust and which it is hopeful of having stricken from the statute books especially in view of the fact that some of the regulations have become inoperative under the rul-ing of the present State Highway De-partment.

ing of the present State Highway Department.

The Tuesday afternoon meeting will be taken up chiefly with addresses by J. A. Rose, chairman of the executive committee, who will discuss "What Our Organization Has Done," and by J. B. Parker, who will talk on "What Organization Has Done For the Threshermen of the United States."

The Wednesday session will be devoted to the reading of reports, election of officers, addresses by representatives of farm machinery companies and discussion of various subjects including the insurance of threshing machinery. At various times during the convention there will be music by the Farmers' Cornstalk Quartet and Parson's Quartet.

SOAP IS BAD FOR THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

(which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

DISEASE GERMS

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene By Samuel G. Dixon, M. D., LL. D., Commissioner of Health

There are many things in the world which our five senses unaided would never apprizes us of. There are sounds too delicate for the ear to hear, odors which we cannot smell, flavors which we fail to recognize, movements and vibrations to which our nerve centers do not respond and innumerable objects in nature which we cannot see.

Even the bravest man shrinks from danger which is unseen. The deadliest enemics of mankind are absolutely invisible to the naked eye. Tuberculosis, cholera, typhoid fever, the plague, yellow fever and many other of the diseases which claim a greater number of lives than have ever been sacrificed in war are caused by those invisible enemies which scientists call bacteria or miscro-oranisms. Commonly these are referred to as disease germs.

Bacteria are minute organisms the largest of which are only some ten or twelve thousandths of an inch in length. Not all bacteria are harmful but those which are responsible for disease when introduced into the human or animal economy multiply with startling rapidity and give off poisons which cause sickness and death. Millions of these organisms could be contained in a single drop of 'water.

organisms could be contained in a single in Schenley Park yesterday afternoon sickness and death. Millions of these organisms could be contained in a single drop of water.

There are three very common ways in which disease germs are carried from person to person and introduced into the system—fingers, food and insects. Foods which are eaten raw and milk and water are those most likely to transmit infection. Thorough cooking destroys the bacteria and unless the food is infected by being handled afterward, it is safe.

Our fingers are continually coming in contact with articles touched by others and may be so contaminated with human excretions from those diseased. The intestinal discharges of those suffering from typhoid fever contain the germs and here uncleanliness is responsible for the transmission. Many epidemics of typoid fever have been traced to a single case on a dairy farm where the housewife acted as nurse and milk-maid.

Insects alone are responsible for the
