SPRING COSTUMES SHOW SLAVIC PEASANT INFLUENCE

The High Collar Vies With the Comfort of the Dutch Square—Cuffs and Frills Finish Sleeves

New York, Feb. 19.

It is during this season that the New York shops put out many novelties for Spring and Summer to gage the feeling of the American women and see what they want and don't want. Queer little hats appear; for instance, I recently saw one in sailor shape with a large crown not more than an inch in height with a brim about two inches wide. Around the crown was a piece of old-fashioned picot-edged ribbon, which tied in a long bow and the ends flowed in streamers to the shoulders. No doubt this may inspire some ingenious modiste to make something really worth wearing, but for the hat itself—well, I suppose some woman who is aching for the latest fads in hats may wear it a few times. Another sailor hat had a very small high crown with a wide brim. This also was trimmed with a single length of picot-edged ribbon, which tied with two long loops and ends which fell to the waistline. Of such fads are made!

Another idea borrowed from peasant costume is the apron effect, with openings at either side showing a fluffy petticoat beneath.

Costumes and suits show the normal and high waistline, but are distinctly different from the old-time Empire lines. The real Empire line is decidedly ugly with the full skirt, but the slightly raised waistline accompanying the full short skirt is much more artistic than the long-waisted blouses and these same full skirts.

The length of the suit jacket or coat must also be considered in relation to the length of the skirt. Note my second illustration, and the placing of the belt as a short waistline, beneath which the lower part of the jacket shows moderate fulness. The skirt below is full and slightly flaring.

A decidedly new note in the Spring styles is the change in the collars of waists and dresses. The military or high buttoned-up effects will doubtless be the most in evidence. The square or Dutch neck is excellent for Summer frocks, and also the newer Collot neck, which is similar. The drooped shoulder lines of ante-bellum days is the latest novelty and for day wear will be filled in with fichus of net and yokes of lace or embroidery.

The square or Dutch neck is shown in my first illustration, which is developed in soft tan crepe. This is an unusually good model for dresses of different fabrics, such as rep, pique, linen, or cotton gabardine.

The long close-fitting sleeve with a small armhole is the favorite at present. The half sleeve of one color and the under-sleeve of another is an extremely effective idea adopted from the Slavic peasant costume. In black and white chiffon it is both striking and attractive. Very short sleeves, directly trace-

Tan Crepe Makes a Dress for Approaching Spring

Last year, as a "feeler," ermine gowns were shown at the early Spring openings, together with the close-fitting Directoire gowns, which really had the greatest influence on the early Spring and Summer styles. These duff gowns shed dainty little pantalons below, and, of course, in its adjustment these were dropped off, and merely the full skirts, daintily ruffled, and bodices sometimes pointed in the front and with round drooped shoulder effects were taken. These are the prominent features of the dresses which are shown for the Spring and Summer.

This season, the decided Dutch and peasant styles are what the dressmakers are showing to the multitude of women, and it still remains to be seen what will be their decision.

The ample costumes of the Slavic peasant women, who, in some cases, wear twelve or fifteen stiffened petticoats at a time, are proving inspiration for many of the up-to-date costumes, also the coats and smocks of the men, which are equally ample. They are, besides being full, short. This note is becoming more pronounced all the time in the fashionable woman's costume.

Below the peasant's short skirts, which often reach only to the knees, are worn high boots. Paul Poiret tried very hard to introduce high boots, but failed; now the peasant styles have launched them, and already Parisians are wearing boots with their walking costumes—not as high as the knees, but more than half way to the knee. In the United States this idea will probably be modified to unusually high lace or button shoes.

The full skirts are shown with the greater fulness at the sides, which is much more graceful than the barrel shape, which is given by the hoop. A few dressmakers, however, to the contrary, are showing their dresses over a petticoat which is reeded at the knees. The uneven hem is often the result of this distribution of fulness, and is endorsed by Dame Fashion. Yoke effects have been introduced this season with the yoke often in a contrasting color. This yoke is an easy evolution from the low waistline.

NEW DISCOVERY FOR SKIN DISEASES

Doctors Having Great Success With Amolox

Amolox, the new remedy for the cure of eczema and skin diseases, is applied externally. Does not soil or irritate, penetrates instantly, is soothing and antiseptic, penetrating the skin, killing the germs that cause the disease. It is the prescription of a well-known physician, who has used it with remarkable success in his private practice.

Cases of chronic eczema, tetter, psoriasis, acne are now being cured after all other remedies have failed.

It will positively kill the germ and heal the skin in barber's itch in a few days. Stops all itch and burning instantly, renders the skin soft and soothes it so the sufferer can rest and sleep. Geo. A. Gorgas and H. C. Kennedy will refund your money, if you are not satisfied. Best results are obtained when both liquid and ointment are used. Trial size 50c.—Adv.

Quick, Safe Way to Remove Hairs

(Toilet Talks)

Keep a little delatone powder on your dressing table and when ugly, hairy growths appear, make a paste with a little of the powder and some water, apply and let remain on the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. This treatment is quite harmless and rarely more than one application is required, but to avoid disappointment care should be used to buy the real delatone.—Adv.

CUTS THE DEFICIENCY BILL

Governor Brumbaugh Lops Off Nearly One Hundred Thousand Dollars in Various Items

Governor Brumbaugh yesterday afternoon, his last day for action, by the way, on the measure, exercised his power to review legislation and cut $98,800 from the general deficiency bill, the first to reach him of any bearing an appropriation. The original bill carried $575,127.73 and the Governor cut this down to $476,327.73. The two legislative bodies suffered most, the cut in their deficiency amounting to $52,500, which included $25,000 for extra officers and employees in each house. The Governor had very little to say as to why he vetoed the veto ax on the items, but he was very explicit in saying that "I do not see the necessity for this item," when he struck the Senate and House items for extra officers. Some of the items he left untouched, and these included $130,000 for payment of expenses of primary elections in 1913 and 1914; $100,000 for advertising constitutional amendments; $26,000 for the Auditor General's Department; $25,000 for game preserves; $28,139.28 for the judiciary and $25,000 for inaugural expenses. The reductions were as follows:

Executive department, incidental and traveling expenses of the Governor, miscellaneous expenses incurred in the management of the executive mansion and the management of an automobile, $5,000 to $4,000.

Attorney General's Department, legal services in collection of sums due for maintenance insane, $10,000 to $6,000.

State Fire Marshal, traveling expenses, investigation of fires, prosecutions, etc., $10,000 to $8,000.

Labor and Industry, fees special sanitary inspectors, investigations and traveling expenses, advertising, etc., $10,000 to $7,000.

Department of Health, tuberculosis sanatoria and dispensaries, $135,524.45 to $115,524.45.

State Highway Department, deficiency for purchase of license tags delivery charges, additional help, etc., $35,000 to $25,000.

Water Supply Commission, expenses for inspection of dams, $10,000 to $7,500; water inventory expenses, $8,000 to $5,000.

Internal Affairs Department, collection of statistics expenses, $5,000 to $4,200.

Senate, salaries, expenses, etc., additional officers and expenses, $25,000 cut out; contingent expenses, president pro tem, $2,000 to $1,000.

House, salaries and expenses, etc., of fifteen additional officers and employees, $25,000 cut out; expenses inspection of fish hatcheries by fish committee, $500 cut out; contingent expenses, Speaker's office, $2,000 to $1,000.

The Governor also vetoed the resolution for extra officers and employees.

What to Do for a Sore, Tender Skin After Shaving

A prominent physician of this city says he obtained complete relief from a sore, tender skin after shaving by the use of the following formula, which was given to him by a friend from Paris at the beginning of the war. The able results—no more even a slight redness—also used it with remarkable success. It is so simple that even a child could use it. The formula is: Japora Concentrate, 2 ozs.; Alcohol, 2 1/2 ozs.; Rose Water, 1 oz.; Witch Hazel, 1/2 oz.

In bad cases apply night and morning; otherwise morning only.

The preparation when made up should be of a peculiarly beautiful red color with a most refreshing odor. The above formula was shown to several dermatologists, among them being Croll Keller of Harrisburg, all of whom stated that they can fill it just as well as a Paris pharmacist.

NOTE—The original preparation made from this formula was put up by Virgil of Paris, under the name of "Eau de Japora," and under this name it is widely used throughout France. "Eau de Japora" is also sold in this country by Croll Keller, of Harrisburg.—Adv.

"The Stranger"

No play on the boards to-day contains so many of the qualities that spell success as "The Stranger." Wilton Lackaye saw this at a glance and secured it as medium for his art, recognized as on a par with that of the world's best actors of to-day. Its author, C. T. Dacey, has already won his golden spurs, as the author of that gem of fortune builders, "In Old Kentucky." His new play has more of true, beautiful sentiment, brilliant comedy, real dramatic power and dramatic interest by far than his previous triumph, Dacey made the play beautiful. Lackaye made it famous, and the Charles K. Champlin Stock Company will introduce "The Stranger" to the people of Harrisburg at the Majestic this evening, in a sumptuous production and with a powerful and well picked cast. At the close of the performance "The Stranger" should be no stranger to the theatre-goers of this city as it is rated as one of the finest and highest class plays ever presented in stock.—Adv.

"Twilight Sleep"

Much interest is being manifested by the women of this city in the announcement that Mrs. Mary Sumner Boyd and Mrs. Frances X. Carmody will lecture to women only at the Majestic theatre next Monday afternoon describing their experiences with "Twilight Sleep," under which treatment both of these well known women recently became mothers at Freiburg, Germany. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the "National Twilight Sleep Association," which numbers among its members some of the most prominent and influential women of the United States, for example, Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. Orme Wilson, Miss Marguerite Tracy, the magazine writer; Mrs. Aida Chanler Emmett, a great granddaughter of the original John Jacob Astor and the first American woman who gave birth to a baby in "Twilight Sleep."—Adv.

Raymond Hitchcock

One of the really big attractions announced by Manager Hopkins is Raymond Hitchcock, in a new musical comedy entitled "The Beauty Shop." Raymond Hitchcock is one of the dependable comedians of the American stage.

My first sermon was delivered when I was eighteen years old, and in a country farm house in Shropshire, England, and in the shadow of the stately Wenlock Abbey. The kitchen in which this august event took place was lined with a generous supply of hams and fitches of bacon, with strings of onions strung from the rafters.

The audience consisted of about fifty farm hands, five or six of their employers, and the miller of the little hamlet. I addressed them with what I thought to be considerable effect for about fifteen minutes, and no words of mine can describe the trepidations from which I suffered during this short interval.

At the close a husky postman asked me if I was the son of my father, who was also a preacher, and upon my replying that I could claim that honor, he strongly advised me to send my father the next time and avoid such a catastrophe as I had inflicted upon them that Sabbath afternoon.

Thus began my career as a preacher and I walked the eleven intervening miles to my home a sadder and a wiser youth.—The Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, D. D., pastor of the Central Congregational Church, Brooklyn, in the Christian Herald.

At the Orpheum

How a loving but extravagant wife can be made to economize is pointed out in very entertaining fashion at the Orpheum this week. The playlet is called "Such Extravagance" and the players are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilmore and company, the former very successful reciters from the legitimate stage. The trick is turned by the husband telling his wife he has forged to keep her in luxury and he substantiates his statements by having an old school friend, whom his wife hasn't seen, don police uniform and come to arrest him. The comedy situations are especially clever and the excellent players make the most of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilmore offer one of the very clever turns supporting the Four Marx Brothers in their excellent and pretentious musical comedy called "Home Again." Also Van and Schenck, the popular singing comedians who are offering some of the newest song hits in their usual classy style. Augusta Glose, the charming vocalist and pianist, is slated to appear at the Orpheum next week.—Adv.

At the Colonial

A fine mixture of harmony and mirth is being served up by the Empire Comedy Trio at the Busy Corner for the last half of the week. Admirers of good comedy are enjoying their excellent voices as much as they tickle the risibles of lovers of irresistible comedy. Frank Madden and company, presenting a roaring comedy called "The Top Floor Front" are also coming in for almost equal honors in the way of laughter and applause. Marie King Scott, the Hoosier Girl, has a bright and funny line of patter and the Three Bartos, sensational gymnasts, complete an unusual roster.—Adv.

The Regent

"The Deep Purple," with Clar. Kimball Young in the title role, assisted by Milton Sills and a notable cast, is one of the most interesting dramas ever presented on the screen. The intensely dramatic action and swiftly moving story of this strong photodrama follows closely the lines of the original produced by the Leiblers. On Saturday a strong military play will be shown, entitled "The Girl I Left Behind Me." This is universally known to the theatre-going public as the star of the many Broadway successes and is intensely interesting from start to finish and holds the attention of its audience throughout. With Robert Edson and Claire Whitney in title roles, speaks volumes for the success of this spectacular drama. Adv.
