P.A. Makes You Smoke Peaceful

When you hit the smoke trail via the Prince Albert line, you are off to the joy lands, traveling first class, all debts paid and money in the bank. Quicker you make your break for the real thing, the sooner you'll find the real joy of smoking.

PRINGE ALBERT

the national iov smoke

can't bite your tongue, nor any other man's, because the patented process controlled exclusively by us takes out the bite and leaves pure pleasure. Once you've been over the route, you'll pack back whenever you feel that inside longing for a pull at the old calabash, briar, corncob or meerschaum.

Prince Albert is sold wherever tobacco is on the call; in the tidy red tins, 10c; toppy red bags, 5c; pound and half-pound tin humidors and the jim-dandy pound P. A. crystal-glass humidor that certainly does keep the tobacco wonderfully fresh and delightfut One for the office and one for home is your gait!

LINCOLN'S KIND HEART.

It Showed Itself In His Aversion to the Death Penalty.

It is related that one day a man came to Lincoln with a sad tale. His son had been sentenced to death, an only son too. Lincoln said kindly:

"I am sorry I can do nothing for you. Listen to this telegram I received from General Butler yesterday," and he read the following:

"President Lincoln-I pray you not to interfere with the courts martlal of the army. You will destroy all discipline among our soldiers."

Lincoln watched the old man's grief for a minute and then exclaimed: "By jingo! Butler or no Butler, here goes! Then he wrote:

"Job White is not to be shot until further orders from me." "Why." said the old man sadiy, "I thought it was a pardon. You may order him shot next week." "My old friend." replied Lincoln. "I see you are not very well acquainted with me. If your son never dies till orders come from me to shoot him 'ne will live to be a great deal older than Methuselah."

One day a woman, accompanied by a senator, called on President Lincoln. The woman was the wife of oue of Mosby's men. Her husband had been captured, tried and condemned to be shot. She came to ask for the pardon of her husband. Lincoln heard her story and then asked what kind of a husband her husband was. "Is he intemperate; does he abuse the children and beat you?" asked the president. "No, no," said the wife. "He is a good man. a good husbaud; he loves me and he loves the children, and we can-not live without him. The only trouble is that he is a fool about politics. I live in the north and was born there.

and if I get him home he will do no more fighting for the south." "Well," said Lincoln. after examining the papers, "I will pardon him and turn him over to you for safekeeping."

The Carranza representative here said last night that Johnson probably would b given safe conduct to the Villa here turn him over to you for safekceping. The woman, overcome with joy, be-gan to sob as though her heart would break. "My dear woman." said Lincoln. "if I had known how badly it was going to make you feel 1 never would have pardoned him."

"You do not understand me," she cried between sols. "Yes, yes, I do," answered Lincoln.

"And if you do not go away at once I shall be crying with you."
