RADICAL CHANGE IN FOOT AND MOUTH QUARANTINE

Restricted Area Much Enlarged By the Secretary of Agriculture to Protect
Other Sections From Infected Shipments of Live Stock

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—Two orders just signed by the Secretary of Agriculture make radical changes in the quarantine regulations for the foot and mouth disease. All the territory east of the Mississippi and north of Tennessee is now included in the quarantined area and no shipments of live stock, except for the purpose of immediate slaughter, will be permitted from this area to the south or west. Stock owners, however, in the States of Virginia, West Virginia, Vermont, Maine and the District of Columbia, may ship out their stock upon affidavit that it has been on their farms for a certain length of time and has not been exposed to any risk of contagion.

This step the authorities believe to be necessary for the protection of the South, Southwest and West, which have not as yet been affected by the disease. The recent discovery of a few cases where cattle, shipped from areas where the disease had existed, carried it to previously uninfected sections, such as four counties in Kansas, convinced the department that no precautions will make such shipments absolutely safe. The new measure, it is said, should confine the disease to the regions in which it has already made its appearance and in which the work of eradicating it will be pushed as before. All of the slaughtering centers are within this area and very few shipments for immediate slaughter are expected to be made out of it.

Under the new regulations territory within the area now quarantined, which was formerly free, is designated as restricted territory. In this restricted territory live stock may be moved freely to other points within the same territory, but cannot pass beyond the limits of the quarantined area, except for immediate slaughter. The regulations governing the area known respectively as closed, exposed and modified, remain practically the same as before. From the modified area live stock can be shipped for immediate slaughter to points within the quarantined area and from exposed area as well, after a preliminary inspection and certification by federal authorities. No stock may be shipped out of the closed area for any purpose and can only be shipped into it for immediate slaughter.

Immediate slaughter is now defined as slaughter within forty-eight hours after the stock arrives at the abattoir. No shipments from abattoirs are now permitted. These regulations have been made necessary by the fact that in a number of instances cattle ostensibly intended for immediate slaughter, were being held there for several days and then shipped to other yards where they have been allowed to remain until the disease had actually broken out.

These regulations are embodied in the order known as Bureau of Animal Industry order No. 234, which defines and classifies the various areas in all the States affected. Another order—Bureau of Animal Industry order No. 233, requires that on and after February 17, 1915, all live stock, unless intended for immediate slaughter, shall be transported only in railroad cars which have been cleaned and disinfected. This applies to the whole United States.

CONCERT IN THE TABERNACLE

Prof. Hohgatt, of the Miller Evangelistic Party, Conducts Musical Program of Feature Songs

Mechanicsburg, Feb. 20.—Last evening, under the direction of Prof. Hohgatt, a musical program was given in the tabernacle, at which time all of the feature songs and many of the other special musical numbers given during the past weeks of the campaign were repeated, with the addition of some new numbers. The program was received with great appreciation by the large audience present.

An offering was taken for the Family Altar League. After a fervent prayer by the Rev. C. F. Raach and a solo by Miss Cree, "The Lord of a Broken Heart," Evangelist Miller made a brief but fervent appeal to the unconverted, to which two persons responded.

This evening Mr. Miller will preach. Tomorrow morning the usual services will be held in the co-operating churches; to-morrow afternoon Mrs. Bowman will give to men the address on "The Second Coming of Christ," which she gave to women last Sunday, and to-morrow evening will be the farewell service, with sermon by the evangelist. The converts will meet at 6.30 in the Bethel of the Church of God, where a section will be reserved for them.

BIG DAY FOR ZION CLASS

Men Are Endeavoring to Have Largest Attendance in History To-morrow
Efforts are being made to have the largest attendance in the history of the Men's Organized Bible class of Zion Lutheran church at to-morrow's session, when "High Watermark Day" will be observed. A special program has been arranged. The lesson will be taught by Dr. E. E. Campbell, president of Irving college, Mechanicsburg.

Since the first of the year, twenty-three new members have been added to the class, and the average attendance has been increased more than twenty-five per cent. The class has been taking a big part in church activities at Old Zion.

A patriotic program will be given on Monday night by the Men of Zion Brotherhood, in celebration of Washington's Birthday anniversary. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the chapel. The speaker will be Captain George F. Lumb, deputy superintendent of State police. His topic will be "The True American."

C. V. NEWS

BOY MAY BE CHICKEN THIEF

Youth Who Sold Big Box of Poultry
Now Is Being Sought by the Police

Waynesboro, Feb. 20.—The sudden disappearance of a youth who gave the fictitious name of Bruce Sell, after he had made several unsuccessful attempts to cash a check which had been given him in payment for a batch of alleged stolen chickens yesterday gave the police here a clue to the identity of chicken thieves who have been working systematically in Franklin county during the last fortnight.

Young Sell disposed of something like 250 pounds of live chickens to John Peiffer, a local poultry dealer, the fowls having been delivered to the purchaser in a large box that the police believe had been stolen from the store of S. F. Myers. When Peiffer learned that the box had been stolen he suspected that the chickens also were loot obtained by thieves and he stopped the payment of the check, which he had given to the boy.

The youngster was smart enough to leave the town, after he twice had been refused payment of the check. The police now are searching for him.

THIRTY LICENSES GRANTED

Franklin County Place Dry for a Year to Reopen Bars

Chambersburg, Pa., Feb. 20.—Judge Gillan yesterday granted licenses to thirty of the thirty-five applying in Franklin county. He had refused two a week ago and held three others up for a further hearing on next Tuesday. The eight hotels, four in Chambersburg, two in Mercersburg and others over the county, which had no license all last year, all get licenses, as do all distillers, bottlers and the one wholesale house.

May Get Street Lighting

Gettysburg, Feb. 20.—Fairfield's Borough Council is seriously considering a proposition made by Musselman Brothers, of Orrtanna, to light the streets of the former town by electricity from a plant to be built this spring at Orrtanna. The Fairfield Council has the necessary franchise under advisement and it is considered likely that the matter will be pushed through to a successful issue. A number of Orrtanna residences will also be lighted in this way while Cashtown people also favor the plan. It was stated that Cashtown would not likely be reached this year. Orrtanna is located about three and a half miles from each of the other towns.

Auditors File Report

Carlisle, Feb. 20.—After a session extending over a period of forty-one working days, the board of county auditors yesterday completed their work and filed their report on the accounts of the County Commissioners and Poor Board. All were approved.

Expenses during the year were about the same as the past year, but there were some complications and the work of the auditors was slightly prolonged. The audit cost totals $615, each member of the board receiving $205.

Drunkard Chained to Jail

Hagerstown, Feb. 20.—Ralph E. Dorner and Lloyd B. Baker were before Justice Dobb yesterday on two charges, that of driving an automobile while intoxicated and also taking an automobile and driving it without the permission of the owner. Each pleaded guilty. On the former charge Dorner was fined $500 and costs or ninety days in jail and Baker $300 and costs or sixty days in jail. As neither could pay his fine they went to jail.

Sturgeon, of Goldsboro, a brother-in-law of the bride, in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties.

The revival services in the United Brethren church are still being continued, thus far there have been more than thirty-five conversions and a number are still at the altar.

All men are requested to be present at the mass meeting in the United Brethren church to-morrow afternoon when an effort will be made to organize an interdenominational Bible class for men only.

DR. WILHELM R. VALENTINER

Chas. K. Champlin

To-night the Chas. K. Champlin Company will present as the final play in this city the great comedy success which ran all season at the Lyceum theatre, New York, and in which H. B. Warner played the leading role for the entire year. "The Ghost Breaker" is the play. It is a great stunt roller for the blues and a knockout for the glooms. Don't miss this great comedy, a score of laughs every minute. Adv.

"Twilight Sleep"

Mrs. Francis X. Carmody, who Monday afternoon at 2.15 o'clock at the Majestic theatre will deliver a lecture on "Twilight Sleep" to women only, has many distinctions besides being the mother of little Charlemagne Carmody, the little American "Twilight Sleep" baby who was born at Freiburg, Germany, last August. Recently she became one of the charter members of the "Twilight Sleep Association," together with Mrs. Orme Wilson, Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. Alda Chanler Emmet, and other well-known and public spirited women.

One of the principal objects of this association is to raise funds for the endowment and maintenance of a hospital and training school where prospective mothers may realize the benefits of the "Twilight Sleep" treatment and where American physicians may be trained in the proper use of the drug "Scopolamine," which induces "Twilight Sleep." Mrs. Carmody, as well as all the other speakers lecturing under the auspices of the association, give their time to this work without any compensation whatsoever, and turn over all moneys received by them for their lectures to the treasury of the organization.

Raymond Hitchcock

Talk about the aerial stunt of flying upside down, Raymond Hitchcock loops the laughing loops so many times during the course of his performance in "The Beauty Shop" that his audience gets dizzy with delight and stays so until the final fall of the curtain.

In fact, "The Beauty Shop," made to order for Hitchcock by Messrs. Channing Pollock, Renold Wolf and Charles J. Gebest, provides the best fun of any play that comedian has had in several seasons, and that this is so proved by the crowds that have been in evidence at every performance of this laughable and whistly musical comedy, which has been overtaking the seating capacity of the Astor theatre, New York, for many months, in fact, nearly half a year.

The famous Broadway cast, which will positively appear here, is one of the most exceptional merit, including the following well-known artists: Marion Sunshine, Anna Orr, Christine Man-gasarian, Gertrude Webster, Margaret Poir, Agnes Gilda, Gertrude Barnard, Gertrude Aldrich, Earl Benham, Joseph Herbert, Jr., George E. Mack, Edward Metcalfe, George Romaine and Fred Mason Emerson. Adv.

Al H. Wilson

During Al H. Wilson's career as a star he has composed and, with his wonderful singing voice, made popular many entrancing songs—delightful love songs and lullabies that carry you back to other days. It is doubtful, however, if any will enjoy a wider popularity than "When I First Met You," "Moon, Moon, Moon," "When the Roses in Spring Bloom Again" and "Mr. Bear," which will be heard for the first time in this city at the Majestic Saturday matinee and night, when Mr. Wilson will appear in "When Old New York Was Dutch." Adv.

At the Orpheum

To-night witnesses the finale of a bill at the Orpheum that was generally conceded to be one of the very best the popular Locust street playhouse has seen. It includes the Four Marx Brothers in "Home Again," the best "big" act in vaudeville, also Van and Schenck, the popular trilliers, and a wealth of other clever attractions. The roster for next week will be headed by the most unusual grand opera production ever offered in vaudeville. It is known as the Omar Opera Company and comprises a company of some twelve or more singers, all of whom have achieved laurels in grand opera in this country and abroad. This company will be under the personal direction of the well-known European Grand Opera conductor, Mr. Emil Volpich. Some of the characters in the various scenes will be assumed by such artists as Mr. M. Branslow, the Russian basso, from the Royal Opera house in Warsaw; Bessie Mitchell, of the Convent Garden, London; Clara Druar, famous contralto from the Comie Opera, Paris; Kathleen Nordy, from the Stockholm Opera Company; H. C. Sylvers, well known tenor from the Winter Garden, Berlin; Eleonore Volpich, lyric soprano of the Royal Opera Company, Budapest; M. S. Rossini, baritone, from the San Carlo opera in Napoli, and five or six others, each one of whom is strongly identified with some of the leading opera companies of Europe.

The scenes and selections of the production are as follows: First, An oriental fantasy called "The Sultan's Palace," second, tower scene of the popular Italian opera, "Il Trovatore"; third, final scene of Verdi's immortal opera, "Rigoletto." The fourth scene is laid in the Sultan's palace and all the principals and chorus are called in. Scenically and vocally the Omar Opera Company should create a sensation. Adv.

At the Colonial

The Empire comedy trio of harmonists and comedians and three other interesting vaudeville hits that round out a pleasing entertainment will appear at this playhouse for their last engagements to-day. An unusual musical comedy extravaganza, entitled "Fun in Poppyland," with pretty girls, clever comedians, delightful scenery and pretty costumes will head off the new bill that comes to the Busy Corner on Monday. Other important names of the new show will include Tops Topsy and Tops, Dillon Shillard and company and John P. Clark.

Regent

Another successful week of successful film plays at this theatre will close to-day with the presentation of "The Girl I Left Behind Me," and will pass into history and bring increased reputation to the Regent as the house of high class film plays. The program of the past week has been a strong one indeed, but if reputation and advance press notes mean anything the program for the coming week will be an improvement of all that has preceded it. Adv.
