AMUSEMENTS

"Uncle Tom's Cabin"

There has never been so lavish and adequate a production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" as that which Kibbles and Martin will offer amusement lovers at the Majestic on Friday afternoon and evening. The scenes which are large enough to fill the most spacious stage could not be easily improved. Those representing the Ohio river in winter, the rocky pass in which George Harris protects his family, the St. Claire plantation, the levee at New Orleans, the cotton fields in full bloom, and the "Celestial City," are all most notable effects. Each picture the reality as closely as paint and canvas will permit and the stage prospecting is so big that the effect is exceptionally pleasing. The company is also worthy of the environment. Gus Collins, the eminent minstrel star, offers an excellent study of Uncle Tom.—Adv.

Al. H. Wilson

An appropriate setting will be provided for the talents of the singing

German dialect comedian, Al. H. Wilson, in "When Old New York Was Dutch," which that comedian will present at the Majestic, Saturday afternoon and evening. The period of time of the story is 1664, when the present metropolis of America, New York City, was a mere village controlled by the Dutch. There is plenty of humor in "When Old New York Was Dutch;" there is plenty of color in scenic effects and in the brilliant uniforms of the English and the quaint costumes of the Dutch; there are emotional situations of dramatic intensity; and then, of course, there are songs composed and rendered by the star, the kind of songs that immediately find a resting place in one's memory, with such fascinating titles as "When I First Met You," "Moon, Moon, Moon," "When the Roses in Spring Bloom Again," and "Mr. Bear."—Adv.

Thurston, the Magician
Thurston, the magician, will be the attraction at the Majestic three days, starting Monday, March 1, with matinee Tuesday and Wednesday. Few people know of the extent of his tour. Three times has he encircled the globe. There are few crowned heads of Europe before whom he has not appeared and in the Far East those rulers over millions with their odd and unpronounceable titles have also been astounded by his wonderful performance.

It is no wonder that people of all nationalities want to see this man and entertainer, who attracts by his marvelous mysteries thousands who rarely attend the theatre.

It is a great program that Thurston presents this season—many of the old favorites that his admirers have seen before and will be more than anxious to see again, and many new ones, including "The New Woman," "Noah's Vision," "The Evolution of the Negro," "Aerial Fishing," "Balaam and His Donkey," "Animated Sketches," and a score of others go to make a program said to be the best offering in the history of magic.—Adv.

At the Orpheum

Even the critics of the various newspapers declare the Orpheum bill to be an excellent one; they say it's above the average, so there! The praises have been sung for the Omar Opera Company in their exquisite vocal production. That they will please music lovers is assured and there are reasons to believe that they will come pretty near pleasing all classes. Artistic stage craft makes their offering a pleasing "sight act" and the delightful harmony of the company of vocalists has never been equaled at the Orpheum. Laughter, however, is the keynote of the bill. It reaches its height in the excellent George Ade comedy called "Speaking to Father," that Milton Pollock and company are presenting. This comedy playlet is good for one continuous laugh. Another of the bill's very popular acts is the breezy and catchy filtration skit presented by Harry and Eva Puck.

This clever couple rank with the best known in vaudeville and even though few Orpheum patrons recall them since they were here before, it is only fair to say that they are one of the most popular teams on the bill. The Pucks are probably not so well remembered here because the last time they appeared at the Orpheum, they did a very clever juvenile act. But brother and sister have grown some since then and this time their offering is along the lines of grown-ups. They were clever as juveniles and very popular here, but this time they are certainly more popular than before. The Wille Brothers offer something new in the way of an equilibrium act. Their performance is easily the most wonderful and the most thrilling yet seen in Harrisburg.—Adv.

At the Colonial

If you would enjoy your shopping tours, then do your shopping at the Country Store. This popular feature will again be in vogue at the Boy Corner to-night and many valuable and comedy presents will be distributed. Quite a few good comedy stunts have been concocted so that a night of laughs is undoubtedly in store for all. In addition to Country Store to-night witnesses the last performances of "Fun in Poppyland," the cleverest little musical comedy the Colonial has seen. Pretty girls, good comedians, tuneful songs and delightful scenery make this an irresistible concoction. Three other clever Keith hits make the Colonial's current show a worthy one. Adv.

WELL KNOWN AUTHOR WHO BECAME BRIDE OF AMERICAN TRAVELLER

A romance of the war region was revealed when it became known that Miss Mary Isabel Brush, author of the articles on "A Nation on the Water Wagon" in the New York Saturday Evening Post, was married to Pierce C. Williams, of the Pittsburgh Carnegie Steel Company. The author was first introduced to Mr. Williams while he was reading a newspaper in Petrograd. They were married in New York city on February 16. After their experiences in Russia, Sweden and Germany they are of the opinion that America is a pretty fair place in which to spend their honeymoon.

AL. H. WILSON, WHO WILL SING AT MAJESTIC ON SATURDAY

Al. H. Wilson, the singing Ambassador of German dialect, will be presented at the Majestic on Saturday afternoon and evening by Manager Sidney R. Ellis in a revival of "When Old New York Was Dutch," which will be remembered as one of Mr. Wilson's greatest successes. The plot of "When Old New York Was Dutch" is laid among scenes of long ago—the sixteenth century, with its wealth of romance, its grandeur and nobles, and its courtly manners faithfully portrayed. Mr. Wilson's new songs this season include "When I First Met You," "Moon, Moon, Moon," "When the Roses in Spring Bloom Again," "Mr. Bear" and "Auf Wiedersehen Fraulin."—Adv.

Lecture to Men
Shirley B. Watts will deliver his famous illustrated lecture, "The Telephone Girl," to men only in the Harris Street United Evangelical church to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Men's League of Harris street church. A male chorus from the Harrisburg Evangelical chorus will be present and sing. An enjoyable evening is promised all who will attend. The admission is free and all men are welcome.

Got or Note 44 Years Late
Middletown, N. Y., Feb. 24.—On July 22, 1870, Mrs. Bridget Glassey, of Dundee, Scotland, wrote her brother, James Halford, of Bullville, near this city, asking him to send money for her passage to this country. The letter reached him a short time ago, over forty-four years after it was written. He does not know whether his sister is living. The cause of the letter's long delay is a mystery.

Hand Mangled in Cogs
Lampeter, Feb. 24.—Christian Huber had his right hand caught in the cogs of a gasoline engine yesterday and badly mangled it. In order to save the greater portion of the hand being mangled he turned it to one side and a number of the fingers were severed. The hand may have to be amputated.

While James H. Beard, the artist, was painting a portrait of Zachary Taylor he said to him: "Well, General, I suppose you are to be our next President!"
