W. U. HENSEL DIES IN HIS 64TH YEAR

in recent years not being identified with any particular newspaper. He was a legislative correspondent in 1883, and quit daily newspaper work in 1887, when he formed a law partnership with J. Hay Brown, at present Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

All his life he was active in politicials, being considered one of the Democratic leaders for years. He was a delegate to the Democratic national conventions of 1880, 1884, 1888 and 1892, being chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation at the latter convention.
In 1882 he was chairman of the Democratic State Committee and conducted the campaign that resulted in the election of Robert E. Pattison as Governor. He repeatedly refused nominations for office on his party State ticket, and the only State office he ever held was Attorney General under Governor Pattison during the latter's second term from 1891 to 1895.

Member of Historical Commission

Mr. Hensel was president of the Pennsylvania State Editorial Association and president of the State Bar Association and vice president of the American Bar Association. When the Pennsylvania Historical Commission was created several years ago Governor Tener appointed Mr. Hensel a member, and he took a great interest in its affairs up to the time of his death.

When Justice Brown was elevated to the Supreme Bench Mr. Hensel came to the front as the leader of the Lancaster bar. He was attorney for many corporations. As a pleader he was recognized as among the foremost in the State. Especially was he renowned as an orator, both at the bar and on the political stump.

Mr. Hensel was one of the most genial and companionable of gentlemen.
He had a delightful home in Lancaster and a beautiful summer residence just outside of that city, the former home of James Buchanan, former President of the United States. Mr. Hensel was known and admired by many Harrisburg citizens and was a frequent guest in this city. He was a member of the Hamilton Club, of Lancaster; the Knickerbocker Club, in New York, and one of the active members of the Pennsylvania Society of New York City.

New Bridges

The State Water Supply Commission, before adjourning last evening, gave permission for the construction of five railroad bridges over streams in various parts of the State.

Treasury Money

The receipts of money at the State Treasury yesterday aggregated $282, 230 and the payments were $505,649.
Two new items of receipts not heard from for some time were fees for examining moving picture films amounting to $967.50 and Sabbath breaking fines of $4. The total balance in the Treasury was $7,039,119, of which $5,617,031 was in the general fund.

Public Service Commission

At the meeting of the Public Service Commission next week argument will be heard in the complaint of the Manufacturers' Association of Lancaster and York against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company regarding the rates from the bituminous coal field to Lancaster and York.

The approval of a contract between the Gettysburg Light Company and the borough of Gettysburg will be asked for, and the complaint of the borough of Biglerville against the Biglerville Water Company, that the service is poor, will be heard.

Nature never intended anyone to be in such a condition as the only way to get rid of it is to give up.

It is necessary that particular attention be paid to the Stomach Bitters, because they are the controlling power in all matter pertaining to health and there is nothing will make you feel "so queasy" and disorderly as they are. They are good for spells of headache, indigestion, dyspepsia and biliousness—or to have constipated bowels.

It is well known as a real "first aid," and for other diseases, has been a perfect remedy for thousands of years.

ing a bottle to-day, but be careful to see that the Private Stamp over the neck is unbroken. This is your protection against imitations.—Adv.
