DR. JOHNSON NOTED AUTHOR Speaker at Peace Mass Meeting Here Saturday Is An Expert Economist

in American colleges, and he has been a frequent contributor to the technical journals of economics and political science. The fact that in the last two years three articles from his pen have appeared in the "Atlantic Monthly," will at once fix in the minds of the public the respect which the word of Dr. Johnson commands in the thinking world.

economist. At the present time Dr. Johnson is in charge of a study of the attitude of American labor towards militarism. Although the results of this investigation have not yet appeared in print it is probable that Dr. Johnson will have something specific to say upon it on Saturday night.

Tricked to Convert the Sultan The first Englishwoman to have speech with a sultan of Turkey was Mary Fisher, a Quakeress, who, in 1657, undertook to convert the commander of the faithful to Christianity. She traveled by water to Smyrna and then tramped to Odrianoople, about 600 safely to England and was honored ever after among her fellow Quakers as "she that spake to the Grand Turk."—London Chronicle.

Russians Like "Paradise Lost." How many English soldiers, one wonders, have read "Paradise Lost"? Mr. Maurice Baring, when in Russia, found that nearly every soldier he met knew it well. "When a few years ago a schoolmaster in the Tambor government told me that 'Paradise Lost' was the most popular book in the village library," he writes, "I was astonished and thought it an isolated instance. At a fair in Moscow during passion week . . . I noticed that there were five or six different editions of translations of Milton's poem, with illustrations, ranging in price from 12 rubles to 39 kopeks, and while I was looking at one of them a moujik came up to me and advised me to buy it. 'It's very interesting,' he said. 'It makes one laugh and cry.' . . . It is possible to purchase 'Paradise Lost' at almost every village booth."—London Graphic.

Making the Ghost Visible Comparing the stage conveniences of the present day with the makeshifts existing a generation ago, Robert Man-tell told of the inconveniences of his early experience as the ghost in "Hamlet."
