

"The Thinkers of the Country Are the Tobacco Chewers" said one of the greatest thinkers this country ever produced.

Says the Judge:

"My brain grasps the points of a case more easily when I'm chewing PICNIC TWIST. I suppose it's because of the gentle stimulation that PICNIC TWIST gives without the after effects of "strong" tobacco.

"Have you ever noticed how many great jurists chew? Well, there's nothing better to oil the wheels of justice than PICNIC TWIST."

Have you ever wished for a tobacco that you could keep on chewing without feeling that you were over-chewing?

For a long time you've really been looking for PICNIC TWIST, with its lasting sweet taste, and true tobacco satisfaction with no "come-back."

Compare PICNIC TWIST in taste, looks, convenience or any other way, with any dark "heavy" tobacco. Then you'll know the advantage of chewing the light, mild, mellow part of the leaf, the only kind that goes into PICNIC TWIST.

There are few better preservatives of the teeth than PICNIC TWIST.

RESUME OF WORK BY 63D CONGRESS

First Body Under Complete Control of Democratic Party in 20 Years

WAS IN SESSION FOR 637 DAYS

Much Important Legislation Accomplished While Many Measures Proposed by President Wilson and Party Leaders Failed of Passage

Washington, March 4.—The Sixty-third Congress, first under complete domination of the Democratic party since 1895, ended to-day at noon.

It had been in almost continuous session since President Wilson's inauguration two years ago. Beginning with an extra session called by the President April 7, 1912, the Congress has worked actually 637 days.

Much important legislation was accomplished, but much contemplated, some of it hard pressed by the President and party leaders, was left undone. It is the present intention of the President and his advisers to give Congress a rest. Rather than force an extra session, they would leave the remainder of the administration's constructive aspirations to a new Congress next winter, which, although under Democratic control, will have a greatly reduced majority in the House.

Foremost in the enactments of the Sixty-third Congress were:

The Underwood-Simmons tariff act, with the income tax, which replaced the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. The Federal reserve act, reorganizing the currency system. Anti-trust laws to supplement the Sherman act, including the Clayton law and Federal Trade Commission act, the former providing for punishment of individuals who violate business regulations, the latter establishing a government institution to aid in keeping business within the law.

Repeal of the Panama canal tolls exemption for American coastwise shipping. Act directing the building at a cost of $35,000,000 of a government railroad to the mineral fields of Alaska.

Act to regulate cotton exchanges and to penalize dealings in purely speculative cotton future sales.

A special internal revenue tax, commonly called the "war tax." A government war risk insurance bureau to insure American ships against the hazards of war, and an act providing for the transfer of foreign-owned or built ships to American registry.

Of those measures which failed of enactment or could not be considered for lack of time, the following are regarded by Democratic leaders as paramount:

Bill for government purchase of charter of transoceanic ships for the establishment of an American merchant marine, which encountered the most stubborn filibuster in the history of the Senate, created an insurgent movement in the Democratic ranks and held up general legislation for weeks of the last session.

The immigration bill, including a literacy test for admission of aliens, which passed both houses, was vetoed by President Wilson and failed by a narrow margin to repass the House on a motion to overturn the veto.

Conservation measures urged by the President to provide a new system for leasing of water power sites and a leasing system to open the mineral resources of the country.

Bill to enlarge the measure of Philippine self-government and to extend promise of ultimate independence to Filipino people, a measure which passed the House and was approved by a Senate committee.

Regulation by the Interstate Commerce Commission of the issue of railroad securities, originally a part of the administration's anti-trust program.

Rural credit legislation contemplating the establishment of a system of farm mortgage loan banks, persistently urged throughout the Congress.

In addition to the foregoing, scores of general legislative bills covering a wide range of subjects died with the end of the Congress, among them measures for Federal road improvement, general waterway development, reorganization of the civil service, to prohibit importation of convict-made goods, and several measures for reorganization of the army.

The last session of the Congress was notable, too, for the failure of the great anti-trust measures. Proposed constitutional amendments precipitated two of the most exciting legislative battles in the history of the House of Representatives, both measures failing to receive a necessary two-thirds vote.

Foreign relations of the nation were constantly to the fore almost from the beginning of the Congress, the Mexican situation requiring close attention from the outset, as had the European war. Throughout the session the President and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee were in frequent conferences and much was done to restrain unusual demonstrations which might have disturbed international tranquility. Early in the session general arbitration treaties with several great foreign powers were renewed for five-year periods and a peace commission treaty providing for investigation of international disputes before resort to arms were negotiated and ratified. A treaty to enforce the regulations adopted by the London Safety at Sea Conference was ratified last December, but with an amendment making reservations which came too late for other powers to consider, thus preventing enforcement of the convention. A treaty with Nicaragua providing for acquisition of the Nicaraguan canal route and naval stations for $3,000,000 was left unratified by the Senate and the pending treaty with Colombia directing payment of $25,000,000 for the Panama canal strip was held by the Foreign Relations Committee.

The closing session of the Congress was almost wholly devoted to appropriation bills, the ship purchase bill fight and a few general measures. Aside from appropriations, about the only important legislative enactments included the creation of the coast guard by consolidation of the life saving and revenue cutter services; reclassification of grades in the diplomatic and consular service; requirement of registration of and imposing special taxes upon all dealers, manufacturers or importers of opium, or its derivatives, and the creation of the Rocky Mountain National Park in Colorado.

Much debate on the condition of national defenses enlivened the closing session. Proposals for special investigation of the preparedness of the nation for war all failed. House naval and military committees, however, conducted public hearings on the subject in connection with the military supply bill.

The Congress also was marked by differences between President Wilson and some Democratic Senators over patronage; a spirited contest over confirmation of nominees for the Federal Reserve Board; two successful filibusters—one in the summer session against the rivers and harbors appropriation bill and the other the fight of Republicans and Democratic allies against the ship purchase bill—an unsuccessful effort in the Senate to establish a cloture rule to limit prolonged debate; institution of a special inquiry into outside influences exerted against the ship purchase bill; a general lobby investigation which extended for many months, and proposal of an inquiry into Senatorial campaign contributions.

With the fall of the gavel to-day many Senators and Congressmen long national figures passed into private life. Senators who retire are Root, of New York; Burton, Ohio; Perkins, California; Thornton, Louisiana; Bristow, Kansas; Stephenson, Wisconsin; Crawford, South Dakota; Camden, Kentucky, and White, of Alabama. Representative Underwood leaves the House to go to the Senate. Scores of Representatives in the House give way to new members.

War Veteran Dies at Millersville. Millersville, March 4.—George W. Clark, 77 years old, died yesterday from an attack of general debility. He was a cabinet maker by trade. During the Civil war he served in the Forty-eighth Pennsylvania Volunteers and was a member of the Lutheran church. His widow and two children survive.

Drops Dead at Household Duties. Lancaster, March 4.—Mrs. Emma Moser, of Lancaster, dropped over dead while attending to her household duties yesterday afternoon. She was 65 years of age and a member of the Reformed church. She was the widow of Professor William Moser.

Thirty Days for Illegal Bar Traffic. Lebanon, Pa., March 4.—Jacob Nartzger, of Myerstown, was given a thirty-day sentence in jail for selling liquor to minors as landlady of the Jackson house, Myerstown, which lost its license. His son, similarly accused, was paroled, it being shown that he had acted as bartender.

Bohrerstown Citizen Dies at 80. Bohrertown, March 4.—Henry H. Fenstermacher, 80 years old, the oldest resident and a retired merchant, died yesterday morning from the infirmities of age. He was a member of the Methodist church here since it was organized and besides his widow is survived by six children and ten grandchildren.

ARRAIGNED AS DYNAMITERS

Schmidt and Caplan in Court in Los Angeles "Times" Case

Los Angeles, March 4.—Matthew Schmidt and David Caplan, alleged participants in the dynamiting plot which resulted in the destruction of the Los Angeles "Times" building, October 10, 1910, were arraigned in the criminal department of the Superior Court yesterday on an indictment charging them with the murder of Charles Hagerly, one of the "Times" employees, who met death in the wreck and was caused by the bomb explosion. The time for the prisoners to enter their pleas was set over until March 16.

Olaf Tveitmo, San Francisco labor leader, accompanied the lawyers for the defense into court. He declared that organized labor would provide all means for giving the two accused men an adequate defense.

WANT TO BUILD LIGHT PLANT

Would Cut Rate 50 Per Cent. in Reading and Eventually Sell to the City

Reading, Pa., March 4.—A proposition to build a modern electric plant, furnish street lighting at a reduction of 50 per cent. and at the expiration of a term contract, no specific time being mentioned, turn the plant over to the city at a cost of not more than $25,000 was made to City Council yesterday by John Wittman, a local business man, representing a syndicate of capitalists.

The city fathers and the officials of the Metropolitan Electric Company, only bidders for the electric lighting contract, are involved in a controversy because the city claims that the bid of $25,000 is exorbitant. The company has a practical monopoly on local street lighting and current service, having a modern plant and no competition.

TERRA FIRMA GOOD ENOUGH

Sunday Declines Dr. Eldridge's Invitation to Take Balloon Trip

Philadelphia, March 4.—"Billy" and "Ma" Sunday have declined an invitation by Dr. Thomas E. Eldridge, of 1811 Vine street, to go up in a balloon. A few days ago Dr. Eldridge suggested a balloon ascension to the evangelist, but Sunday declined with thanks, and said that he was just as happy as could be on terra firma, and said he did not care to go up in the air.

Mrs. Sunday admitted that she was a little fearful of the outcome of such an adventure, but rather expected she would like to take one chance in real summer weather.

JUDGE FORBIDS COCK-FIGHTS

Also Against Mutilation of Pigeons at Shooting Matches

Pottsville, Pa., March 4.—Judge Brumm issued an edict yesterday abolishing cock-fighting and the mutilation of pigeons at shooting matches, which have become quite common in this county.

Judge Brumm said that he had been informed that there was considerable gambling at the cock-fights, most of the losers being poor working men. At one main in West Schuylkill the Court was informed that a poor miner lost $50 on the result.

The gouging of one eye out of pigeons in order to make them fly wild at shooting matches was strongly denounced by Judge Brumm, who threatened summary punishment to those caught practicing this cruelty.

SHOT IN HOME BY VISITOR

Orbisonia Man Wounded by Caller Whom He Had Ordered to Leave

Huntington, Pa., March 4.—Returning home at a late hour of the night, Simon G. Price, of Orbisonia, found Frank Hoffman of the same place, sitting at his wife's bedside. Price objected to Hoffman visiting his home and after ordering him out, started up stairs.

Hoffman, enraged at the insult, seized Price's shotgun and fired at him, the discharge tearing open his neck, near the jugular vein. Price is in Blair hospital, Huntington, in a critical condition, and Hoffman is in jail.

Plymouth Prizefighter Breaks Into Burning Building and Rescues Family

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 4.—"Batling" Mantell, prizefighter of Plymouth, early yesterday saved John Kunigonis, his wife and three children from death in a burning structure by kicking in the doors of the house, carrying the children and aiding in carrying the children to a place of safety.

Mantell passed the house as it was in flames. Seeing no one astir, he kicked in the doors and discovered that all the members of the household were asleep. Kunigonis and his wife were quickly aroused, but the children had to be carried to pure air to be revived. The building was destroyed.

HUMAN BONES IN SHARK

Growsome Find, First of Kind, on South Florida Coast

Miami, Fla., March 4.—A human skull, right shoulder-blade, left thigh-bone, upper arm bone and one finger bone were found yesterday morning in the stomach of a 12-foot shark captured by Henry Sanford, of New York and Litchfield, Conn., near Soldier Key, 12 miles from Miami. The shape of the skull and size of the bones indicate they were those of a white man, evidently about 40 years old. The bones were in good condition and highly polished, undoubtedly having been in the shark's stomach for months.

The shark was cut open at the Royal Palm Hotel dock, and the gruesome find caused a commotion at the fashionable hostelry, as it is the first man-eating shark ever found on the south Florida coast. There has been no death by drowning in this vicinity this winter.

A blow from a club followed and now the little prophet's fur will grace the neck of some society belle.

CALL BOY'S SLAYER INSANE

Joseph O'Brien Mentally Irresponsible, Defense Declares

Norristown, Pa., March 4.—In the trial of Joseph O'Brien, of Philadelphia, for the murder of Israel Goldman, a boy 15 years old, on the Whitemarsh golf links, near Chestnut Hill, his sister testified that he had always been insane. She declared that he insisted on wearing dresses until he was 14 years old, sought the company of small boys after reaching manhood and often treated them cruelly.

The defense all the way through was that "Crazy Joe," as he was known, was mentally irresponsible, and that he had no conception of the difference between right and wrong. This is his second trial and is being heard before Judge Ryan, of Bucks county.

THE COLORADO RIVER BASIN

Information of Value to Water Users in Publication by Geological Survey

Washington, D. C., March 4.—All people interested in the water flowing in the streams of the great Colorado river basin should become familiar with the reports on the subject published by the United States Geological Survey. Such reports, covering the entire country, appear each year in twelve parts as water-supply papers. Part 9 of this series is devoted exclusively to the Colorado river basin, the report on which for 1911 is contained in Water-Sup. 15 Paper 309. This report is no longer available at the Geological Survey, but may be obtained for 30 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.

The information in this paper includes the results of measurements of flow, made by the use of instruments designed especially for that purpose, at about 140 regular river observation stations in the States of Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona, and at about 60 miscellaneous points in those States. The report contains tables showing the height of the water in the river and the quantity of water flowing past the stations each day in the year and other tables showing the quantities of water for each month and the total for the year.
