MURDER TRIAL AT LEBANON

Raymond Seiders Arraigned on the Charge of Killing John E. Mills, Held Up by Highwaymen

Lebanon, Pa., March 4.—Raymond Seiders, the young chauffeur of Richard J. Boyer, of this city, yesterday afternoon was arraigned before Judge Henry on the charge of murdering John E. Mills, of this city.

Mills was fatally shot on the night of December 21 last by one of two men who held him up for the purpose of robbery in the western part of the city. Before he died he declared the fatal shot was fired only after he had struck the highwayman who fired it a terrific blow on the nose, and Seider's nose bore evidence of a recent hemorrhage at the time of his arrest.

Adam Siegrist, of Palmyra, was the first juror accepted. The twelfth man was only accepted this morning. There were many peremptory challenges by the Commonwealth and also the defense. The jury panel became exhausted and Sheriff H. P. Shupp and Deputy Sheriff W. L. Brenner were compelled to lock the main court room doors, and three jurors were chosen from the audience. The jurors, in charge of Constables H. L. Steiff and Oscar Peffley, spent the night at the American House.

Mrs. Mills, widow of the murdered man, and son, John Mills, were in court all day. Seiders, togged in a neat drab suit, was in good spirits when brought to court by Sheriff Strupp at 3.30 p. m. The Court House was crowded.

THE TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE

When Eugene Walter undertook to construct a play out of John Fox, Jr.'s delight novel, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," he put upon the shoulders of June, that charming heroine of the story, the burden of almost the entire play. It is a character study of a mountain girl in her changing phases from the almost wild, barefooted, ragged girls of the hills, awakened to the realization of perhaps better things in the world beyond her ken, by a chance meeting with a young, prospective engineer, to a young woman who after years of simple schooling, becomes a far different being, Dixie Compton plays June, the simple child of nature John Fox, Jr., had us all love a girl who knows nothing of the world apart from her home near the towering pines. The play is at the Majestic this evening.

BATTLE ON REFEREE; TWO HIGH SCHOOLS WILL PLAY

First of Championship Scholastic Games Between Central and Tech in Chestnut Street Auditorium To-morrow Evening—Ford Back in Game

The matter of a referee being amicably settled a compromise candidate in the person of Herman Early, who referees the games of the Harrisburg Independents, being selected, plans for the annual basketball struggle between Central High and Tech will take place to-morrow night in the Chestnut street auditorium.

Bertram H. Saal, Central's athletic trainer wanted Horace Geisel, physical director of the P. R. R. Y. M. C. A., asked, while Coach Grubb, at Tech, wanted E. C. Taggart, of Steelton, a former Harrisburg player. Neither side could decide the selection of the official and Early was selected.

All of the Central High regulars will be in the game. Ford, the fast forward, who has been barred from basketball for the past three weeks on account of a scholastic rule, will be back in the game. He will replace Winn at forward, Winn going back to his old place at center. Rote will play the other forward and Bingham and Redd will start at the guard positions. The Tech regulars will be in against Central.

Elaborate plans to accommodate the student bodies of both schools are being made. The Tech floor being too small, the second game in the series will be played on the Armory floor.

Final scrimmage practice was indulged in by both teams this afternoon. Coach McCord in charge of the Central High team and Grubb running the practice of the Maroon tossers.

STALLINGS MAKES DENIAL

Brave Leader Says James Dictated His Own Contract. Macon, Ga., March 4.—George Stallings, manager of the Boston Nationals, gave out this statement last night relating to the signing of Pitcher James:

"James' contract was made at his own solicitation and has two years to run with the Boston club. It was made in the presence of witnesses at James' own request. He dictated the terms of the contract and insisted upon the 10-day clause being eliminated, and stated before witnesses that if he received the figures of his contract he would be satisfied for the rest of his life. There could be no deceptive information, for the Federal League was not mentioned during the execution of the contract."
