POTATO PURCHASER MUST STAND GOOD FOR BAD SEEDS

Department of Agriculture to Discontinue Granting Certificates From New York and Main Districts Infected With Powdery Scab Disease

Washington, D. C., March 8.—The rapid spread of the powdery scab disease of the potato in Maine and New York, and the difficulty which has developed in detecting by any practicable inspection the presence of slight infection by this disease, has led the Department, after an experience of five or six months, to discontinue from March 3, 1915, further certificates of seed stock from the infected districts under quarantine. It is believed that seed certification under the existing conditions, instead of being a benefit to the purchaser, may become a source of positive danger, for the reason that the purchaser is given thereby a false sense of security. Without such certification the purchaser, having been duly warned, will make his purchase for planting with a full understanding of the risk.

The only federal certification of potatoes as a condition of movement from the infected districts will hereafter be as table stock potatoes, and a strong effort will be made to place table stock potatoes on a more reliable basis as to freedom from infection. As all potatoes grown in Maine both in districts believed to be uninfected as well as in the known infected districts are under regulation as to interstate movement, federal certification will be confined to seed potatoes grown outside of the infected regions of that State.

The modification makes no change in the status of the uninfected districts of New York, which have been free to ship seed potatoes without federal inspection. The public is warned that all seed potatoes shipped from the infected districts must be certified as to their freedom from infection, and that there must necessarily be some risk accompanying their use, of the introduction of the powdery scab disease.

Undoubtedly there are farms and in some instances fairly considerable areas within the infected districts in Maine and New York, which are still free from infection, but it is not possible to determine this fact with close scrutiny of every tuber, and such action is impracticable.

In relation to the southern market for Maine seed potato stock, it is fair to state that this disease has not established itself, and there is some evidence that it possibly could not establish itself in the Southern Atlantic coast and the Gulf States. In these States the department experts are inclined to believe that the disease, if it appears at all, will be limited to the mountainous and colder regions.

"DEAD WAGON" HAULS BOOZE

Only Vehicle at Hand to Carry Liquor From Saloon Losing License

Clearfield, Pa., March 8.—Following Judge Bell's refusal to license the Hyde City hotel, Sheriff McCloskey was called upon to take charge of the property at the request of a creditor. The sheriff found a large amount of wet goods and sent to Clearfield for a conveyance.

The liverman had only one vehicle available. It was the "dead wagon."

When the returning wagon reached the Court House a crowd gathered to get a look at the corpse. Great was the surprise when the sheriff opened the box and revealed the contents.

A prohibitionist remarked that it was the first load of raw material he had ever seen in such quarters as the "dead wagon," the vehicle usually being called upon to transport the finished product.

DON'T USE SOAP ON YOUR HAIR

When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain mulisud coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

GETTYSBURG HERO A SUICIDE

Major Benjamin F. Rittenhouse, U. S. A., Retired, Dies From Gas Poisoning

Philadelphia, March 8.—Among the nation's soldier dead in Arlington cemetery, Washington, will be buried on Wednesday the body of Major Benjamin F. Rittenhouse, the man who held his ground against Pickett's charge at Gettysburg. Tortured by the wounds received in that struggle, bowed under the afflictions of age, the worn-out veteran committed suicide on Saturday at his home, 4613 Leiper street, Frankford. He told his employees in the morning that he was going to his room to read. But when in the evening, alarmed by his long absence, they went to seek him, they found him lying on his bed. Gas from a tube, which had been dropped from his mouth when he died still gushed across his face.

The old officer had placed by his bed an envelope containing $250, marked "for funeral expenses," also a letter to the Girard Trust Company that told where his will was to be found and requested the delivery of letters and valuables in his safety deposit box to his two sons. They are Captain Benjamin F. Rittenhouse, Jr., of the United States Marine Corps, stationed at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, and Captain Norris Rittenhouse, of a United States cavalry regiment now on its way to the Philippines.

Major Rittenhouse was retired from the United States army ten years ago. He served through the Civil war with Griffin's battery. It was as a second lieutenant in the face of Pickett's charge at Gettysburg that he held the battery in the face of the bright charge, after his captain and his first lieutenant had been killed. The funeral services at the home and the burial at Arlington will be private. Major Rittenhouse married Mrs. Harry Rowland, the widow of a wealthy manufacturer here.

MUCH TOBACCO IS UNSOLD

Lancaster Growers Have 40 Per Cent. of Last Year's Crop on Hand

Lancaster, Pa., March 8.—With only about 60 per cent. of the 1914 tobacco crop of Lancaster county sold, and with almost a certainty before them that spring will be far advanced before the remaining forty per cent. has been taken, the growers of the county are already discussing the outlook for next season's crop. The 1914 yield was such an unusually heavy one that, despite the fact that 2,000 less acres were planted than in 1913, yet the crop in weight was about the same. None of the 1913 crop, so large a percentage of which was destroyed or damaged by hail, the 1914 crop was a disappointment, not through any failure while it was in the field, but because so much went bad in the curing. And the crops of both years sold at about the same prices.

Contrary to all expectations much of the tobacco recently sold did not bring more than eight cents a pound for wrappers and two cents for fillers, and much tobacco was sold as low as six and seven cents a pound for wrapper goods. Under these circumstances many growers have become so disheartened that they have announced their intention at the various farmers' meetings of supplanting tobacco with other crops which will give good returns, require less care and labor and are less perishing in growing.

If the leaf trade and cigar manufacturing industry gave any indication of recovering from their depressed conditions there might be some chance of better prices being paid for the 1914 tobacco, but under the existing circumstances prices are more likely to go down still further than go up.

HOUSEHOLD SANITATION

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene By Samuel G. Dixon, M. D., LL. D., Commissioner of Health

Undoubtedly some ancient sanitarian was responsible for the proverb that "cleanliness is next to godliness." While the majority of people accept this in theory, unfortunately when it comes to practice weakness develops. In ninety-nine out of every hundred homes there are corners in attic or cellar, under the kitchen sink and the bottom of the pantry cupboard that somehow or other seem to regularly escape clean up days.

Accumulation is a mania with some people. The way in which it manifests itself may vary, but the result is the same. It is responsible for filling our houses with an enormous amount of wholly unnecessary trunk which serves to make cleanliness difficult. Dirt and even flies are not necessarily a direct cause of disease, but generally there is an association. Organic material which is left about becomes a breeding place for bacteria and flies. Careless habits of mind and body are cultivated and fostered by careless habits of living. It is certain that a child raised in a home where there is indifference to the household cleanliness can hardly be expected to develop an appreciation of the virtue and advantage of cleanly habits.

These same influences within a house are equally true regarding its surroundings. A peep at the back yard will give you a far better insight into the character of the occupants of the dwelling than a study of the front door. Ashes, garbage and rubbish scattered in the rear of a dwelling are not conducive to good health or decency.

Cleanliness and wholesomeness go hand in hand; see that your household sanitation is all that it should be and make these twin sisters of Good Health welcome in your home.

DENIES DAUGHTER'S RIGHTS

Trust Company Files Answer to Petition on Quay Trust Fund

Beaver, Pa., March 8.—An answer was filed Saturday by the Union Trust Company, of Pittsburgh, to the petition of Mrs. Mary May Davidson, of Buffalo, for an account of the trust fund created under the terms of the will of her father, the late Pleasant M. Quay, of Beaver, Pa., who was a United States Senator Matthew Stanley Quay.

The trust company alleges Mrs. Davidson is not entitled to a share in this trust fund under the provisions of the will and that she would receive no benefits therefrom, even though an accounting were made.

The Union Trust Company and Richard R. Quay, a son, were the executors of the estate, and Mrs. Davidson, in her petition, asked for an accounting of the fund accumulated for that share of the estate left to Major A. C. C. Quay, a son. It was provided that the income in excess of $4,000 derived annually from Major Quay's one-fifth of the estate should go into the trust fund.

GAME PROTECTORS TO FEAST

Lebanon County Association Will Hold Banquet April 6

Lebanon, March 8.—At a recent meeting of the Lebanon County Fish and Game Protective Association it was decided to hold the annual banquet on Tuesday evening, April 6, and President E. A. Weimer appointed George H. Boyer, Fred W. Taylor and William M. Ramer as a committee to make the arrangements.

President Weimer reported that he had arranged for the receipt of a number of rings of the amount to be liberated in Lebanon county as an experiment and that they would be put on farms where there is a natural woodland cover. Farmers having such places and desiring to have a few birds for breeding are asked to get in touch with Mr. Weimer. A movement was also started to secure a number of deer as a start toward stocking Lebanon, Berks and Schuylkill counties with them.

TOOTH COMFORT FIRES BED

Electric Bulb Cured Ache, But Brought Fiery Awakening

Ebensburg, Pa., March 8.—John Wolf, a rural mail carrier, has demonstrated that an electric light bulb will cure a toothache and then some. Wolf was walking the floor with a toothache of the jumping kind when the bright idea struck him. Wrapping a towel around an electric light bulb attached to a long cord, he got into bed, pressing the bulb against the aching molar as a warming pad. The device worked magically. The suffering stopped and Wolf fell asleep.

Shortly after midnight the mail carrier dreamed there was a fire and that he was fighting his way through smoke and flames. He awoke to find the bed burning. He sprang to safety and gave the alarm, but before firemen arrived the house was almost gutted.

THOUGHT BROTHER A GHOST

Unexpected Visit Causes Shooting Tragedy in Georgia

Waycross, Ga., March 8.—Mistaking his 20-year-old brother, Harley McQuig, for a ghost, Lee McQuig Saturday night shot and almost instantly killed him, ridding his body with a shotgun. The shooting occurred at the home of the father, three miles north-west of here. The younger brother had been left at home while his parents came to Waycross. Harley, who lives at Ruskins, seven miles west, called at his father's home unexpectedly. The young brother evidently did not hear his hail, for he shot Harley down before he reached the house step.

The McQuig place has for years had the reputation of being haunted, and Lee has been heard to remark that if he ever saw a ghost he would sure fix him. The dead man had a wife and a young child. No arrest has been made.

CHINA'S FLAG ON U. S. SHIPS

Seaman's Bill Drives Pacific Ocean Line From American Registry

Los Angeles, March 8.—As a result of the Seaman's bill, signed a few days ago by President Wilson, news came here yesterday that the Robert Dollar Company, plying steamers between the Pacific coast and the Orient, will not use the Chinese flag, as they cannot hope to do business under the terms of the bill which, officials claim, increases their expenses 200 per cent.

The Dollar line makes Los Angeles its first port of call on this coast. There was some uneasiness at first, lest the line would be put out of business entirely, following the announcement that the Pacific Mail Company would retire from the overseas trade, but instead of stopping business, it is now believed a transference of flags will work out the Dollar line's salvation.
