

COLDS CONSTIPATION HEADACHES

"Keep your Feet warm, Head cool, Bowels open," and take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound.

Swelling, chilliness, fullness in the head, sore throat, hoarseness, coughing and headache call for the use of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND.

The first dose of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR Compound, because it contains a healing soothing coating on the raw mucous lining as it slides down your throat.

Constipation sometimes precedes a cold, and usually accompanies it. FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND is mildly laxative which makes it greatly the superior of those cold and cold remedies that produce a cathartic effect.

MRS. A. N. MOTES, Bernalia, Ga., writes: "I took a deep cold and suffered with a terrible headache from the effects of it. I began taking FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, and it soon entirely cured me."

L. POOLE, Sioux City, Ia., says: "My daughter had a very severe cough and cold, and usually accompanied by a headache. I gave her FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, and she was cured in a few days."

Do not accept any substitute for FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND. It is the best medicine of its kind that you can buy, and any substitute offered can not give you the same true results that FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND will give. Contains no opiates or harmful drugs.

BULLETS ARE TRICKY

One Chance Shot That Brought Down Three English Officers. It has been truly said that once you fire a bullet from a modern rifle no one can forecast where it will ultimately come to rest. Even when a bullet has an uninterrupted course it is capable of upsetting all known calculations of its flight and range.

Before the battle of Omdurman a sick officer was carried across the Nile and placed under an awning no less than 5,500 yards from the nearest point of possible fire. This should easily have insured him a margin of safety, but it didn't. A stray bullet ate up the intervening three miles of desert air, struck him in the head and killed him.

Shortly before another battle in the Sudan General Sir Archibald Hunter, Colonel Hacket-Thompson, C. B., and another officer were reconnoitering through an opening in the wall of a dilapidated, or waterwheel. The hole in the wall was so small that the officers had to stand one behind the other to see anything.

In the incident, one in front using a pair of binoculars, while Sir Archibald Hunter was in the rear. The glint caused by the setting sun shining on the glass of the binoculars attracted

CASCARETS FOR YOUR BOWELS IF HEADACHY, SICK

To-night! Clean Your Bowels and End Headaches, Colds, Sour Stomach. Get a 10-cent box. Put aside just once—the Salts, Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters which merely force a passage way through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your "insides" pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry on of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, Severe Colds, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Indeed, here is the handsome household. Children just love to take Imagination balks at the magnitude of $2,000,000. Only when it is translated into terms of purchasing power does it become comprehensible.

Two million dollars, for example, will support more than 2000 families of moderate income for a year.

Two million dollars will buy more than 200,000 barrels of flour, more than 50,000 sewing machines or 80,000 suits. It will give work for an entire year to 2000 men and women engaged in various productive industries and other occupations that add to the common welfare of the people in all walks of life.

It is $2,000,000 a year that the Full Crew—"excess man crew"—Laws compel the railroads of your States to pay in unearned wages. These Laws deprive you of improvements for safety and comfort in travel that this money, now used unproductively, would provide.

How much longer in these times when economy is a universal necessity are you willing to endure this tremendous waste? In the end the cost bears upon you, either in increased rates or decreased service.

Will you use your influence in urging that the people's elected Representatives at Trenton and Harrisburg work and vote for repeal of the Full Crew Laws and place control of the proper managing of trains in the hands of the Public Service Commissioners?

OPERATOR WHO SENT CUSTER MASSACRE STORY RETIRES

Carnahan, Who Sat at Telegraph Key 21 Hours at Stretch, Is Pensioned and Will Spend Rest of Days on Farm. Blackwell, Okla., March 22.—John M. Carnahan, the telegraph operator who sent out the Bismarck, N. D., one of the biggest stories the world ever read—the story of the Custer massacre on the Little Big Horn in July, 1876—has just retired on a pension and is planning to spend the rest of his days in Oklahoma on a Kay county farm.

For seventeen years Carnahan was at the frontier station of Bismarck. The Bismarck garrison, including many friends of Carnahan, was in the Custer expedition. The operator and the post surgeon rode out from the post with the expedition when it started in June, 1876, to punish the Sioux Indians. They went twelve miles with the Seventh Cavalry and then returned with the last dispatch General Custer ever sent. It was addressed to President Grant and told of the plans for the expedition. On the night of July 5 the steamer Far West came down the river and tied up at Bismarck when most people were in bed. The Far West brought the wounded from Reno's command and the official dispatches which told of the complete annihilation of Custer's outfit.

Carnahan was called from his bed and found on his desk in the telegraph office a carpetbag full of official reports of the fight and its results. He sized up the job and his first wire action was to flash the word East that the massacre had occurred. Then he set the word down to the transmission of the official story to the Department of War at Washington. For twenty-one hours he did not leave the key. Coffee and sandwiches were handed him now and then during the long shift and a wet towel was kept on his forehead. With the reports finished he fell into bed and for three hours slept the sleep of exhaustion. Then he got up and returned to the key.

For two days the Eastern papers had been clamoring for detailed news of the massacre, but Carnahan could not leave his official work and until now there was no one to send it. He started in, however, and sent all he could find out to New York, Chicago and St. Paul papers. He sent as much story as he had strength to get and prepare and that was the way the details of the disaster were sent out.

Carnahan had sent 80,000 words in the two shifts, and the receipts of his office in those two days were $2,000. As fast as they could arrive special correspondents hurried to Bismarck to get the intimate details of the big story. O'Kelly, a New York man, was the first big one on the ground, and Carnahan sent for twelve hours more on his staff. There were 22,000 words and the toll on the special dispatch were $1,320. O'Kelly gave Carnahan $50 for his extra work and the veteran operator still has that $50 bill.
