Recalls Sensational Shooting

Washington, D. C., March 25.—The shooting of former Senator Brown in a hotel here, December 8, 1906, by Mrs. Bradley was the sensational culmination of an affair which four years previously had involved a civil court proceeding, in which Mrs. Bradley charged Brown with having been the father of her two children. Mrs. Bradley entered Brown's room in a hotel and shot him three times, twice in the stomach and once in the hand. He died later. EVAN WILLIAMS IN RECITAL

Well-Known American Tenor Will Be Assisted by Maude Powell, Violinist

Evan Williams, the widely known American tenor, who will appear in joint recital with Maude Powell, one of the really great violinists in the Chestnut street auditorium, on Thursday evening, April 8, is a fine interpreter of Handel songs, and especially those of the oratorios. One of the numbers Mr. Williams will sing is "Total Eclipse, No Sun, No Moon," taken from Handel's "Samson," the oratorio to be sung by the Harrisburg Choral Society at its musical festival the latter part of April.

A critic says of Maude Powell and her playing: "Between what an ordinary person can do and the feats of a genius like Maude Powell the gulf is immeasurable, there are plenty of men and women who can fiddle, but there never are more than two or three persons in the world at the same time who can work the miracles she can."

Sale of seats will open Friday, April 2, at the J. H. Troup Music House.

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, despondent, nervous and who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, faint without cause, inability to venture and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, clerks, and office workers and the victims of society's late hours and over-indulgence in wines, hours, etc.

By preparing the treatment at home, secretly, no one need know of another's trouble, while the ingredients are much used in filling various prescriptions, so that even the purchase of them separately need occasion no timidity.

If the reader decides to try it, get three ounces of ordinary sarsaparilla compound, and one ounce compound fluid balsam-worm; mix and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence cardiol and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cadomene) mix all together, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at night.

This contains no opiates whatever and may be used by women who suffer with their nerves with absolute certainty of prompt and lasting benefits.
