The Valor of the Soldiers of That Small European Country and Its Pressing Needs Will Be Vividly Portrayed Here on Evening of April 6

Austrian Army Headquarters Explains Desperate Situation of Przemysl Garrison

WHY PROVISIONS WERE EXHAUSTED

Relief Army and the Russian About Przemysł Drew on Fortres for Large Supplies of Rations

General Headquarters of the Austri an Army, Tuesday, March 23, Via Ber-lin, March 25 and London, 12.45 P. M.—The Austrian garrison of Przemysl subsisted for 134 days on provisions designed to last for eighty days. How it came about that the great fortress was supplied with only this comparatively small amount of provisions is an interesting story which shows how unforeseen events upset the calculations of the Austrians and played into the hands of the Russians.

Przemysl originally was provisioned for the extreme limit which it was thought a modern fortress technically was capable of withstanding a modern besieging army—namely about six months. At the end of the first stage of the siege the garrison had consumed barely one month's supplies. Then came the heavy fighting between the Austrian relief army and the Russians

Austrian relief army and the Russians about Przemysl.

Supply Trains Fail to Arrive

The Austrian forces whose supply trains failed to reach them, drew on the fortress for large supplies of rations. Furthermore, the great numbers of wounded in these battles and the soldiers stricken down by cholera and other diseases could be sent nowhere else. When railroad communication at last was restored in mid-October, the stores of the fortress had been largely depleted. The railroad was first used to forward urgently needed ammunition. Hence, when the Russian steam roller was unexpectedly set in motion again, driving Field Marshall Von Hindenburg westward from the neighborhood of Warsaw and the Austrians from Przemysl, provisions has been coming in for the Galician fortress for only ten days. This gave the defenders rations for eighty days. These supplies might have sufficed had the Russians resumed their battering tactics, but they placed their reliance on hunger rather than solid shot to force the capitulation of Przemysl.

Final Sorties Act of Defiance

The final sorties of the garrison was a last act of defiance rather than a serious attempt to break through the Russian line, which was virtually impossible for the hunger-weakened forces! There was a bare chance that they would be able to cut a way through and effect a junction with the Austrian army in the Carpathians and when this failed General Kusmanek, the Austrian commander, received instructions to surrender. When the end came the last crumb had ben scraped from the storehouses, and horses as well as other about Przemysł.
Supply Trains Fail to Arrive

failed General Kusmanek, the Austran commander, received instructions to surrender. When the end came the last crumb had ben scraped from the storehouses, and horses as well as other animals had been slaughtered for food.

Bitter Cold Hastens Doom

Austrian strategists knew from the outset how long the provisions would last, and the campaign in the Cargathians had as one of its aims the relief of Przemysl. But here again a capricious fate intervened. The mildest December known in years in these amountains was followed by bitter weather in January and February, which snowed up the Austrian offensive and left Przemysl to its doom.

The Austrian leaders realize that the Russian army which captured Przemysl will now be released for service elsewhere and think it most probable that in due time it will appear on the Carpathians. Nevertheless it is not expected by Austrian strategists that it will exercise any considerable influence over the general fortunes of war.

Papes' Diapepsin Makes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs Feel Fine

ders.

Do some foods you eat hit back—

Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes' in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undrested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.—Adv.

IMMINENT PERIL

The Kurds ordered all the Assyrian males into the streets, tied them in groups of five, marched them to the graveyard and killed them barbarously to the last boy. Girl babies and older women were then executed with great atrocity, while the younger women were carried away as slaves.

20,000 Dead or Missing

As a result of the war 12,000 Assyrians are taking refuge in the Caucasus, some 17,000 are decribed as in imminent danger at the Urumiah missions, while 20,000 are dead or missing. Furthermore much property has been destroyed. The Assyrians fought their assailants bravely and as long as they had ammunition they were victorious.

The missionaries are untiring in their efforts to help the people and they are spending money to this end freely. In Urumiah they are disbursing the equivalent of $400 daily. Disease is prevalent among the refugees.
