Asylum Sister Says Kansas City Man Is Not Entitled to Share
By Associated Press.
St. Louis, March 26.—Testimony tending to show that Charles E. Dorrance, of Kansas City, is not the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dorrance, and therefore not entitled to $500,000 from the estate of his alleged grandfather, Charles Dorrance, of Dorrance, Pa., was given in the federal district court here yesterday by Sister Angela, from St. Ann's founding asylum.
Sister Angela testified that in 1891 Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dorrance adopted a child at the asylum and that ten years later they tried to induce the sister in charge to certify that the child was born to Mrs. Dorrance at the asylum.

CLASSIC WAR POEMS

Selected by J. Howard Wert

No. 25. CONTRAST OF PEACE AND WAR BY PERCY BYSSHE SHELLEY

Shelley was preeminently a pastoral poet who delighted in portraying rural scenes of peace, plenty and contentment. He draws the following graphic picture of the difference between a state of peace and a land rent and devastated by war.

PEACE

How beautiful is night! the balmy sigh,
Which vernal zephyrs breathe in evening's ear,
Were discord to the speaking quietude
That wraps the moveless scene. Heaven's ebony vault,
Studded with stars unutterably bright,
Through which the moon's unclouded grandeur rolls,
Seems like a canopy which love had spread,
To curtain her sleeping world.

Yon gentle hills,
Robed in a garment of untrodden snow;
Yon darksome rocks, whence icicles depend,
So stainless, that their white and glittering spires
Tinge not the moon's pure beam; yon castled steep,
Whose banner lengthen o'er the time-worn tower
So idly, that rapt fancy deemeth it
A metaphor of peace; all form a scene,
Where musing solitude might love to lift
Her soul above this sphere of earthliness;
Where silence, undisturbed, might watch alone,
So cold, so bright, so still.

WAR

Ah! whence you glare
That fires the arch of heaven? That dark red-smoke
Blotting the silver moon? The stars are quenched
In darkness, and the pure and spangling snow
Gleams faintly through the gloom that gathers round!
Hark to that roar, whose swift and deafening peals
In countless echoes through the mountain ring,
Startling pale Midnight on her starry throne!

Now swells the intermingling din; the jar,
Frequent and frightful, of the bursting bomb;
The falling beam, the shriek, the groan, the shout,
The ceaseless clangor, and the rush of men,
Inebriate with rage; loud, and more loud
The discord grows; till pale death shuts the scene,
And o'er the conqueror and the conquered draws
His cold and bloody shroud.

Of all the men
Whom day's departing beam saw blooming there,
In proud and vigorous health; of all the hearts
That beat with anxious life at sunset there;
How few survive, how few are beating now!
All is deep silence, like the fearful calm
That slumbers in the storm's portentous pause;
Save when the frantic wail of widowed lovers
Comes shuddering on the blast, or the faint moan,
With which some soul bursts from the frame of clay,
Wrapt round its struggling powers.

The gray morn
Dawns on the mournful scene. The sulphurous smoke
Before the icy wind slow rolls away;
And the bright beams of frosty morning dance
Along the spangling snow. There, tracks of blood
Even to the forest's depth, and scattered arms,
And lifeless warriors, whose hard lineaments
Death's self could change not, mark the dreadful path
Of the outstanding victors. Far behind,
Black ashes note where their proud city stood.
Within yon forest is a gloomy glen;
Each tree, which guards its darkness from the day,
Waves o'er a warrior's tomb.

BUFFALO MILLS STIR UP PIG IRON STAGNATION

Large Companies Drop Furnace Prices and Wake Up New York, New Jersey and New England, Who Take Hold Freely

New York, March 26.—The "Iron Age" says Buffalo furnace companies have shaken the pig iron market out of its stagnation in the past week by offering their product at prices attractive enough to bring over 175,000 tons to their order books. The bulk of the business was done in three or four days, and the end of the movement has not yet been seen. In the main $12 at furnace for No. 2 X foundry iron was the basis, or 50 to 75 cents below the recent level, with indications that some No. 2 iron went at $11.75 or less.

New York, New England and New Jersey foundries took hold freely as the Buffalo cut became general, and some buyers covered for the entire year. Most of the sales were for the second half, and, while a number of 5,000-ton lots were included, there were scores of sales of 500 and 1,000 tons.

So quietly was the Buffalo coup executed that other districts scarcely felt a tremor, but it is to be expected that, as in November, when Buffalo furnaces sold 250,000 tons in ten days, foundrymen in the Central West and the Chicago district will come into the market. Thus far furnace companies in those sections have not offered concessions such as have resulted from the large production of Buffalo iron, but in the Cleveland district in the past week lower prices have been made on Indiana business. These, with the unsettling of Southern prices due to liquidation of warrant iron, have made a weak market. However, some important Southern makers have refused offers of $9.25, Birmingham, for the second half.

In the finished steel market the main features are continued operations by most of the larger companies on a 70 per cent. scale, further large war orders from abroad and a volume of new domestic business somewhat less than that of shipments.

The expiration on March 31 of some of the contracts at 1.05 and 1.10c, Pittsburgh, for plates, shapes and bars is counted on to bring in specifications freely in the coming week. On April 1, according to the schedule announced by leading makers some weeks ago, 1.20c is to take the place of 1.15c, Pittsburgh, as the forward delivery price on the three heavy products. As with advances in the wire trade, the effort will be to get specifications on provisional business closed at 1.15c.

There is still surprise at so good a volume of business as the mills now have, with railroad buying so limited; but the domestic sources are wide-spread. While shipments in the next two months may exceed new orders, implement and other large bar contracts are counted on to restore the balance in June. The country's remarkable export trade of February and in iron and steel lines the greater foreign sales of March are adding to hopeful sentiment.

Items in the latest export sales are 12,000 tons of rails which the Steel Corporation will ship to the Orient; 15,000 tons, principally plates, booked for Japan, in the Chicago district; 110,000 boxes of tin plates for China, Japan and India; 25,000 tons of bars wire closed by one Central Western company and 10,000 tons by another; 6,000 tons of sleep and small billets bought at Youngstown for England. On the last named $1 a ton more than domestic prices was realized.

The Mahoning Valley members of the union look for favorable action on the third Amalgamated Association vote, to be taken this week, on the proposed sheet and tin plate wage reductions. This would start mills which the union has held in line with difficulty.

Sheet bar prices show some variation, but sales of 6,000 and 9,000 tons of Bessemer bars are reported at $21, Pittsburgh. In Ohio a 5,000-ton sheet bar inquiry is pending.

The advance of $2 on galvanized wire products is not general. The decline in spelter is a factor; but it remains to be seen how long spelter users, whose abstention caused the decline, can stay out of the market.

London reports that American independent steel companies will establish a joint selling agency there at least premature. Thus far there is more agitation of the proposal in London than on this side.

AWAIT RUNNING OF SHAD

Fishermen Anxious to See Working of New Fishway in Dam
Marietta, March 26.—The fishermen along the Susquehanna river are anxiously awaiting the running of shad, especially to see if the new fishway in McCall's Ferry dam will be a failure or a success.

The season opened last Saturday but no shad have as yet been captured. Many men through the fishing season made considerable money and since the dam was constructed few shad were caught here. From the general opinion of the men, since the fishway has been completed, they assert that fishing for shad is a thing of the past in Lancaster and York counties.

Land Turtle Over 100 Years Old

Wrightsville, March 26.—David P. Moore, sexton at the Fairview cemetery, has in his possession a land turtle which he found near his home and according to marks on the shell is over a hundred years old. The inscription, "J. D., 1814," is cut on the bottom of the shell and can be easily seen. The initials "W. H. H." are cut on the top. It is the largest turtle ever seen in this section.
