DISCREDITING STORIES OF RUSSIAN VICTORIES THE CAUSE OF PERMYSL'S FALL

Permysl, Friday, March 26, Via Petro-grad, March 30, 12 Noon, and London, 2.35 P. M.—Refusal to credit stories of Russian arms contributed largely to the ultimate fall of the Permysl fortress, according to the opinion of certain Aus-trian officers who went through the siege. The Russian advance was grad-ual and for this reason it would appear that the Austrians overlooked its seri-ousness. They neglested their oppor-tunities to bring in provisions in quan-tity when these were presented, and tity when these were presented, and later had to pay for this neglect. Austrian soldiers within the fortress who Trian soldiers within the fortress who spoke of Russian successes were severe-ly dealt with by their superiors. The correspondent who came into Permysl with the Russians Monday, March 22, has since talked at length with a number of Austrian officers, one of whom spoke of the days of siege as follows:

ows: "The morale of the men within the fortress was good at the outset, but it underwent a change after the bat-tered armies of Generals Dankl, Auffortress fenbach and Bruderman straggled into Permysl. These crowds of tired, rag-ged and hungry troops, driven in from outside battle fields filled the town of outside battle fields filled the town of Permysl as well as the fortress. They lay about the streets and from this time things for us changed for the vorse. We overlook opportunities to bring in provisions. We made endeav-ors to keep out other detachments of our soldiers who had been defeated by the Russians. We began conserving our soudies. But even so we would not our supplies. But even so we would not believe that the Austrian defeats at believe believe that the Austrian defeats at the hands of the Russians were se-rious. Starvation began and aviators were our only means for the replenish-ment of supplies. "The fate of this fortress was de-cided after the sortie of the 19th. When this was driven back the Rus-sians were within 1,800 yards of our outer line. Then the terrific bombard-ment followed. In one open space 10. ment followed. In one open space 10,-000 Austrians and Hungarians were massed and the ground was soon covered with dead and wounded."

ered with dead and wounded." Continuing the Austrian officer de-scribed the last hours of the fortress as awful. No doubt of the outcome ex-isted in any one's mind and it was with a sense of relief that the garri-son at 5 o'clock Monday morning saw the white flag of surrender.
