FIGHT EASE UP ON WORK
Willard Did Not Box Yesterday Doing a Little Road Work—Johnson Goes Six Rounds to Further Reduce His Weight

Havana, March 31.—Willard did not box yesterday. He ran in the morning and in the afternoon swam at Mariano Beach and visited the race track. He is on edge for the fight and looks to be in perfect condition. He is careful now not to overwork. Johnson boxed six rounds. It was a very hot day, with a clear sky and a hot sun. Johnson has taken off much weight this week and says he will fight at 220 pounds. He weighed 217 in the Moran fight, 213 in the Flynn fight.

When betting started here Johnson was favorite at 3 to 1; the odds are now 9 to 5. Many here who saw the Paris fight say Johnson looked as good then, but tired badly after the seventeenth round. Willard is much better than Moran.

Havana, March 31.—Yesterday was a quiet one in the training camps of Jack Johnson and Jess Willard, the heavyweight pugilist who are to fight at the race course at Mariano, April 5, for the championship of the world in their class. The government officials are determined to take no chances of a serious accident due to a fight between such big men. They have appointed three physicians to attend at the ring side, with oxygen and other stimulants to revive the fighters in case of an unusual knockout or a fall. They say, however, that they will not interfere with the proper termination of the battle according to the code of the ring.

Pittsburgh Man Takes Place of Knockout Baker—Fights Wildly Philadelphia, Pa., March 31.—Leo Houck had for an opponent last night at the Fairmount A. C., Al Greaber, of Pittsburgh, who replaced Knockout Baker, of Wilmington, originally scheduled for the wind-up. Baker was kept from appearing by a severe attack of grip.

Houck fought an intelligent battle, constantly forcing the milling and landing hard and clean with jabs. He won all the way, though Greaber came back cheerfully for his punishment and was strong at the finish. In the semi-wind-up, Frankie Houck a brother of Leo, lost to Tommy Sharp.

JOHNNY KILBANE CLEVER

Uses Eddie Wallace, of Brooklyn, as a Punching Bag—Dundee Out-points Opponent

New York, March 31.—Little Eddie Wallace, of Brooklyn, proved nothing more than a mere punching bag for Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, in their ten-round bout at the Broadway Sporting Club in Brooklyn last night. The elusive Johnny fairly smothered his opponent with an assortment of hooks, jabs, swings and uppercuts, which several times had Wallace on the verge of a trip to slumberland.

Just near the close of the ninth Kilbane landed a terrific left on Wallace's jaw. The Brooklyn lad's knees sagged under him and it looked as if he was going to crumple up from the punch. However, he clinched and managed to last out the round. The weights were Kilbane, 130; Wallace, 126.

The champion received a tremendous ovation as he entered the ring. He looked to be in the best of condition and as the bell rang he began an incessant attack on Wallace's face and body. At first the champion was a little cautious, but after he got warmed up to his task he simply bewilderd Wallace with his speed and cleverness.

ALTOONA GAME CANCELLED

Central Victory Over Tech High Ended Very Successful Season—Won Nine Games

The game between Central High school and Altoona High, which was scheduled for this evening in Chestnut street auditorium, has been canceled and with this comes the close of the season for the older school. Central High has had one of its most successful seasons, losing but five of fourteen games, one on the home floor.

York had the honor of defeating the team on the home floor, but this was because Ford, the regular forward, was not in the game. York won twice, Steelton, Altoona and Williamsport each once from Central. The record for the season follows: Central 33, Pottsville 10; Central 25, York 40; Central 14, Williamsport 39; Central 28, State Freshmen 29; Central 59, Lebanon 19; Central 32, Shippensburg 24; Central 40, Williamsport 29; Central 22, York 24; Central 19, Steelton 22; Central 28, Lebanon 26; Central 27, Tech 23; Central 29, Altoona 32; Central 32, Steelton 26; Central 34, Tech 23. She runs a farm of eighty-eight acres near Old Furnace, takes in washing three and four times a week and walks an average of two miles a day. Since she sustained a sprained ankle half a century ago she has not needed the services of a doctor. She was born in Sussex county and never has been out of it.

"Within the Law"
While "Within the Law," the intensely interesting play of modern conditions in New York life by Bayard Veiller, was in the height of its successful run, which lasted two years at the Eltinge Theatre, the management decided to give a special performance before the blind of New York City and this charitable intention was carried out with the aid of the Matilda Ziegler Magazine for the Blind. More than 1,000 sightless persons "saw" the play. They came from the Home for the Blind, the Industrial Home for Blind Men and Women, and scores of private homes. Many had never been in a theatre before. The curtain went up noiselessly, but the ears of the blind told them and they applauded.

Before each act, Herman Bernstein, a blind lawyer of 149 Broadway, New York, arose in a box and explained just what was to happen. The scenes were set as usual in deference to the keenness of hearing of the sightless audience. The actors appeared in street clothes. Never before has such genuine pleasure, such keen attention and grateful appreciation been seen in a theatre. Special programs in raised type were distributed to the audience.

When asked about the play at the end of the performance, Lawyer Bernstein said that he had "seen" it six times. "That is why I could explain it to the others," he continued. "Some of these blind people will be talking about 'Within the Law' until the day they die." The audience was very happy and went away chattering and carrying their theatre programs to read again when they got home.

Mr. Veiller's stirring melodrama, which proved its interesting qualities when it was shown that even the sightless might enjoy it, will be seen at the Majestic this afternoon and evening with a cast of well-known players. Clara Joel will be seen as Mary Turner, the shop girl heroine of the play.—Adv.

At the Orpheum
Local theatrogoers who miss the Orpheum's current bill will be missing a good deal. In the first place they will be missing the opportunity to see Henrietta Crossman and her very capable company in an excellent dramatic sketch called "Thou Shalt Not Kill." Incidentally they will be missing the opportunity to see Miss Crossman at popular prices, for the first time in Harrisburg. Miss Crossman is one of the few stars who have forsaken the legitimate stage in preference to vaudeville. The play and the players are receiving words of praise by all who have seen it. This dramatic act is surrounded by an array of some of the best mirth producers the Keith market boasts of. Swor and Mack, for instance, the minstrel cut-ups, who are without a doubt the most popular black face funsters who ever appeared at the Orpheum.

A close second to them for good fun are Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGreevy, the "rube" character artists, who are certainly a scream from start to finish. Such quaint rural fun hasn't been seen here in moons. Almost as popular as either of these two is Milo! There's a nice cash prize awaiting you at the box office if you don't get some of the best smiles of your life at this comedy surprise act. Diamond and Grant, the aged dancers in some of the latest ball dances, is one of the bill's decided novelties. In fact there isn't a dull minute in the whole Orpheum bill.—Adv.

At the Colonial
All aboard for Dreamland, thence to the North Pole and return to Harrisburg, all in twenty-five minutes, and if you don't say you had the trip of your life, your opinion won't harmonize with most who have journeyed thusly. The trip from start to finish is a blaze of light, song, beauty and fun and is undoubtedly the finest and most clever "big" act, the "Busy Corner" has seen. Arthur Lavine and company, mostly girls, present it, and if you want to see it you'll have to hurry "round the bend" to "Busy Corner" for it is here only for the first half of the week. Newhoff and Phelps, in songs and comedy; Teed and Lazelle, presenting a comedy called "Delmonico's Upside Down," and the Two Loves, in a clever vaudeville roster.—Adv.

The Regent
To-day and to-morrow the Regent Theatre will host one of the famous productions in which John Emerson presents "The Conspiracy."

The film version of "Conspiracy" with John Emerson is a powerful Paramount Film play in four reels. "The Conspiracy," is a detective comedy drama of modern New York and is full of laughs and thrills. John Emerson created the role of the detective in the original stage production and is co-author of the play, men even to better advantage on the screen than before the footlights.

Friday—Featuring "Alias Jimmy Valentine" in five reels, the leading role acted by Robert Warwick.—Adv.

Victoria's Pipe Organ Greatly Enhances the Pleasure of Motion Pictures
Every day people tell the management of the Victoria theatre how much better they enjoy the picture plays since the installation of the new $25,000 Hope-Jones unit pipe organ orchestra. This new innovation has taken the town by storm and the players are roundly applauded after the rendition of the various classical pieces of music.

During the presentation of high character motion pictures the player of the pipe organ follows the various actions of the silent drama very closely and gives each and every action its proper tone expression. This unique feature can be enjoyed by the patrons of only very few theatres throughout the country, and in Harrisburg only at the Victoria. Owing to an error in booking the feature, "From the Manger to the Cross," this picture will not be shown to-day; another strong offering has been secured in its stead. On Friday the Victoria will present one of the greatest religious photo dramas that have ever been produced. It is entitled "The Life of Our Saviour," a seven-part feature in 9,000 feet of beautiful natural film, depicting the main events in the life of Christ.—Adv.

Old-fashioned Concert
The old-fashioned concert which will be held Monday evening, April 5, in Technical High school auditorium under the auspices of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals promises to be one of the largest and most successful affairs of the kind ever given in this city. The program will consist of old-fashioned dances, old-fashioned costumes, stage settings and choruses. The cast include a large percentage of Harrisburg's best musical talent. It will be one of the enjoyable events of the season.

Chaplin at the Photoplay To-day
Charles Chaplin, that funny guy who has the world laughing, comes to the Photoplay to-day in a single reel Esau comedy, "In the Park." Charles can use his eyes and he is some first, too. "The Fork in the Road," a two-reel Selig drama, and "The Only Way Out," two-act Lubin drama, complete the day's program. To-morrow Tom Moore and Marguerite Courtot, featured in a three-reel Kalem drama, "The First Commandment," a beautiful story well told and acted.—Adv.

Scranton, Pa., March 31.—Chief of Police John Roberts, of Wilkes-Barre, yesterday made a demand on the city authorities for a reward of $500 offered for information that would lead to the arrest of the slayer of Mary Quinn, who was murdered by a negro a dozen years ago. Thomas B. Aldrich, newspaperman, also has made a claim for the reward. William Peagroam, a negro, was convicted of the murder and is serving a term in the Eastern penitentiary.

ORDER 'AUTOMATIC STRIKE'
Union Leaders Instruct 10,400 Chicago Painters to Walk Out
Chicago, March 31.—Orders for an "automatic strike" of union painters and decorators went out yesterday from the headquarters of the Painters' District Council. Every member of the local unions is directed to "call himself out" Thursday morning unless his employer can show an agreement bearing the signature of L. F. Lindelof, secretary of the council, contracting to pay the union scale of wages—70 cents an hour—for the next two years. The union has 10,400 members.
An innovation in labor negotiations was tried here yesterday when the Decorators and Painters' Club, composed of employers, sent letters direct to the employees urging them to "avoid useless strikes."
