NOTED EXPLORER TO BE HERE

Dr. Douglas W. Johnson Will Lecture Before Natural History Society

Since the highly successful appearance in this city of Sir Douglas Mawson, the Antarctic explorer, the Harrisburg Natural History Society has been requested to bring other eminent explorers and scientists to Harrisburg. In consideration of this popular demand the Society will again offer to the public an opportunity to hear a big man on a big subject.

Dr. Douglas W. Johnson is the man and the subject is the "Grand Canyon of the Colorado." Dr. Johnson is Associate Professor of Physiography at Columbia University and is identified with the leading scientific and exploration societies of America. For many years he has lived in Arizona close to the Grand Canyon and has penetrated to practically all parts of this extraordinary and sublime spectacle of nature. He is peculiarly equipped to tell of this scenic wonder. He has lived with its influences until it has taken possession of him and inspired him to follow geology as his life's work. His appearance here will be in the Technical High school auditorium next Wednesday night.

Get a Victrola Now and Have Easter Music in Your Own Home

The spirit of Easter giving has within the past few years assumed vast proportions.

And a charming sentiment it is. Easter, with its gladness of victory will be of more significance to you if there is a Victrola in your home to play the Easter music.

Easter is a most natural time to give the family a gift that will bring gladness all the year. That gift will find its best expression in the Victrola.

In our Victor booths you can hear any or all of the Easter music. And at the same time you can have our salesman explain how it is possible for you to have a Victrola in your home for Easter. They range in price from $15.00 to $250.00, on convenient terms.
