FOR A BAD COUGH

Here is a fine old-fashioned recipe for coughs, colds or catarrh trouble that is absolutely unequalled. Get from your druggist 1 ox. of Parmint (Double Strength) and add to it 4 pint of hot water and 4 ox. of granulated sugar. Take one table-spoonful 4 times a day.

No more racking your whole body with a cough. Clogged nostrils will open, air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has a stubborn cough, hard cold or catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial.

Save 8-year-old Sister as

Locust Gap, Pa., April 8 .- Mary early yesterday morning. William Gless-ner, 17 years old, was the first to

SANITY TO COST HIM LIFE

Slayer Who Recovers Mind to Be

BURGLARS AFTER MARSHALL

Vice President Had Just Taken Ou

Lawyer's Removal Notice

streets, Harrisburg, Pa. (Entrance on Third street).

Electrocuted Under New Law

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE

The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

sented in Collaboration With the Pathe Players and the Eclectic Film Con

"All right," nodded Jennings, ex-"All right," nodded Jennings, examining the order and finding it apparently all right.

Dan followed him in, taking the ladder and bucket upstairs, where Aunt Josephine was still reading.

"The man to clean the windows, ma'am," apologized Jennings.
"Oh, very well," she nodded, taking up her book, to go. Then, recalling the frequent injunctions of Kennedy, she paused long enough to speak she naused long enough to speak nietly to Jennings.

"Stay here and watch him," she whispered as she went out.

Jennings nodded, while Dan opened window and set to work.

Elaine now decided to go home.

From his closed car, the Clutching Hand gazed intently at the Dodge house. He could see Dan on the ladder, now washing the library window, is back toward him.

Dan turned slowly and made the sign of the hand. Turning to his chauffeur, the master criminal spoke a few hurried words in a low tone and

A few minutes later the driver might have been seen entering a near-by drug store and going into the tele-phone booth. Without a moment's hesitation he called upon the Dodge house, and Marie, Elaine's maid, an-

"Is Jennings there?" he asked.
"Tell him a friend wants to speak

'Wait a minute," she answered "I'll

Marie went toward the library, leaving the telephone off the hook. Dan was washing the windows, half inside, half outside the house, while Jennings was trying to be very busy, al-though it was apparent that he was watching Dan closely.
"A friend of yours wants to speak to you over the telephone, Jennings, said Marie, as she came into the The butler responded slowly, with a

No sooner had they gone, however, than Dan climbed all the way into the room, ran to the door and looked after them. Then he ran to the window. Clutching Hand was gazing at the house. He had seen Dan disappear and suspected that the time had come.

Sure enough, there was the sign of he hand. He hastily got out of the car and hurried up the street. All this time the chauffeur was keeping Jennings busy over the telephone with some trumped-up story.

As the master criminal came in by the ladder through the open window Dan was on guard, listening down the tieres. Jennings was returning.
"I've finished these windows," an nounced Dan as the butler reappeared.

"Now, I'll clean the hall windows."

Jennings followed like a shadow.

No sooner had they gone than Clutching Hand stealthily came from behind the portieres.

promptly. In the library Clutching Hand was busily engaged at that mo-ment beside the secret panel search-ing for the spring that released it.

"Confound it!" he muttered, search ing feverishly.

Kennedy, having made the arrangements with the telephone company by which he had a clear wire from the Dodge house to his laboratory, had re-

Dodge house to his laboratory, had rejoined me there and was putting on the finishing touches on his installation of the vocaphone.

Every now and then he would switch it on, and we would listen in t as he demonstrated the wonderful little instrument to me. We had heard the window cleaner and Jen; nings; but thought nothing of it at the time.

saw him listening more intently than

"They've gone out," he muttered, "but surely there is some one in the Dodge library."
"I listened, too. The thing was so sensitive that even a whisper could be magnified, and I certainly did hear Kennedy frowned. What was that scratching noise? Could it be Jennings? Perhaps it was Rusty.

Just then we could distinguish a sound as though someone had moved

"No—that's not Jennings," cried

Craig. "He went out."
He looked at me a moment. The same stealthy noise was repeated.
"It's the Clutching Hand!" he exclaimed excitedly.

A moment later Dan hurried into

A moment later Dan hurried into the Dodge library. "For heaven's sake, Chief, hurry!" he whispered hoarsely. "The Falsers must have fallen down. The girl herself is coming!"

Dan himself had no time to waste. He retreated into the hallway just as Jennings was opening the door for Marie took her wraps and left her. while Elaine handed her numerous packages to Jennings.

Dan watched every motion. "Put them away, Jennings," she

Jennings had obeyed and gone up stairs. Elaine moved toward the library. brary. Dan took a quiet step or two behind her, in the same direction. In the library Clutching Hand was now frantically searching for the spring. He heard Elaine coming and spring. He heard Elaine coming and dodged behind the curtains again just as she entered.

no one. Then she went quickly to the panel, found the spring and pressed it. So many queer things had happened to her since she went out that she had begun to worry over the safety of the papers.

The panel opened. They were there, all right. She opened the box and took them out, hesitating to break the seal before Kennedy arrived.

Stealthy and tigerlike, the Clutch-

Kennedy Shows Elaine the Little Instrument That Saved Her Life.

the hall as Dan went toward the window, about to wash it.
"I wonder whether I locked those windows?" muttered Jennings, paus-ing in the hallway. "I guess I'd better make sure.' He had taken only a step toward the library again when Dan watchfully caught sight of him. It would never do to have Jennings snooping around there now. Quick action was necessary. Dan knocked over a costly Sevres vase.

'There-clumsy-see what you've done!" berated Jennings, starting to. pick up the pieces.

Dan had acted his part well and

One of the maids was sweeping in | ing Hand crept up behind her. As he did so, Dan gazed in through the por-tieres from the hall.

With a spring, Clutching Hand leaped at Elaine, snatching at the pa-pers. Elaine clung to them tenacious-ly, in spite of the surprise, and they struggled for them Clutching Hand struggled for them, Clutching Hand holding one hand over her mouth to prevent her screaming. Instantly Dan was there, aiding his chief. "Choke her! Strangle her! Don't "Choke her! Strangle her! Don't let her scream!" he ground out.

They fought viciously. Would she succeed? It was two desperate, unscrupulous men against one frail girl. Suddenly, from the man in ar in the corner, as if by a miracle, came a deep, loud voice.

"Help! Help! Murder! Police! They are strangling me!"

The effect was terrific.
Clutching Hand and Dan, hardened in crime as they were, fell back, dazed, overcome for the moment at the startling effect.

They looked about. Not a soul.

Then, to their utter consternation.

They looked about. Not a seul.
Then, to their utter consternation, from the helmet again came the deep.
vibrant warning.
"Help! Murder! Police!"
Kennedy and I had been listening over the vocaphone, for the moment nonplused at the fellow's daring.
Then we heard from the uncanny instrument: "For Heaven's sake, Chief, hurry. The Falsers have fallen down. The girl herself is coming!"
What it meant we did not know. But

What it meant we did not know. But Craig was almost beside himself, as he ordered me to get the police by telephone, if there was any way to block them. Only instant action would count, however. What to do? We could hear the master crim-inal plainly fumbling now. "Yes, that's the Clutching hand," he repeated.

"Wait," I cautioned, "someone else

By a sort of instinct he seemed to recognize the sounds.

"Elaine!" he exclaimed, paling.

Instantly followed, in less than I can tell it, the sounds of a suppressed shuffie.

"He has selzed her—gagged her,"
I cried in an agony of suspense.

We could now hear everything that was going on in the library. Craig was wildly excited. As for me, I was speechless. Here was the vocaphone we had installed. It had warned us. But what could we do?

I looked blankly at Kennedy. He

I looked blankly at Kennedy. He was equal to the emergency. He calmiy turned the switch. Then, at the top of his lungs he shouted: "Help! Help! Police! They are strangling me!"

I looked at him in amazement. What did he think he could do—blocks

"It works both ways," he muttered "Help! Murder! Police!"

We could hear the astonished curs-ing of the two men. Also, down the hall, now, we could hear footsteps ap-proaching in answer to his call for help-Aunt Josephine, Jennings, Marie and others, all shouting out that there were cries in the library.

"The deuce! What is it?" muttered gruff voice.

"The man in armor!" hissed Clutching Hand.

"Here they come, too, Chief!" There was a parting scuffle. "There—take that!"

"A loud metallic ringing came from

Then silence! What had happened?

Electrocuted Under New Law
Auburn, N. Y., April 8.—Antonio Africano, sentenced to death nearly two years ago, but later sent to the State hospital at Dannemora after a commission had declared him insane, has now been found sane by the authorities of the institution and was brought back to Auburn prison to be executed. This action is taken under a new State law, which holds that an insane murderer may be executed as soon as he recovers his reason.

Africano, who has been in Dannemora prison since September 22, 1913, was convicted of killing Pietro Luciano, in Rochester, February 12, 1913.
Under the law, Governor Whitman is required to fix a date for the execution. In the library, recovering from their crock of surprise, Dan cried out to the Clutching Hand. "The deuce! What is it?" looking about, Clutching Hand quickly took in the situation.

"The man in armor!" he pointed Dan was almost dead with fright

"Here they come, too, Chief," he gasped, as, down the hall he could hear the family shouting out that someone was in the library.

With a parting thrust, Clutching Hand sent Elaine reeling. She held on to only a corner of the papers. He had the greater part of them. They were torn and destroyed, anyway. Finally, with all the venomousness of which he was capable, Clutching Hand rushed at the armor suit, drew back his gloved fist, and let it shoot out squarely in a vicious solar plexus "There-take that!" he roared. The suit rattled furiously. Out of it spilled the vocaphone, with a bang

Vice President Had Just Taken Out Insurance Against Robbery
Phoenix, Ariz., April 8.—"I telegraphed last week for some burglar insurance," Vice President Thomas R. Marshill said cheerfully when told yesterday that his residence in Indianapolis had been robbed. "I wonder how I'll square myself with the insurance companies."

Mr. Marshall was reached at the home of his father-in-law, W. E. Kinsey, at Soottsdale. home of his father-in-law, W. E. Kin-sey, at Scottsdale.

It has not been learned if anything of value was taken. Mr. Marshall's neighbors found that a window had been broken and that partly burned matches had been scattered all over the house, but seemingly no effort had been made to open drawers or closets. on the floor. on the floor.

An instant later those in the hall rushed in. But the Clutching Hand and Dan were gone out of the window, the criminal carrying the greater part of the precious papers.

Some ran to Elaine, others to the window. The ladder had been kicked window. The ladder had been kicked away, and the criminals were gone. Leaping into the waiting car, they had been whisked away.
"Hello! Hello!" called a apparently from nowhere.

"What is that?" cried Elaine.
She had risen by this time, and was gazing about, wondering at the strange voice. Suddenly her eye fell on the armor scattered all over the floor. Liveryman Takes His Life Stroudsburg, Pa., April 8.—William Adams, a local liveryman, yesterday committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart. He was found a few minutes after the shot was fired, his clothing all ablaze. Business reverses are the cause of suicide. She spied the little oak box.

Apparently the voice came from Besides it had a familiar ring

"Yes-Craig!" she cried. "That is my vocaphone—the little box that hears and talks," came back to her. "Are you all right?" "Yes—all right—thanks to the voca-

She had understood in an instant. She seized the helmet and breastplate to which the vocaphone still was attached and was holding them close to Kennedy had been calling and listening intently over the machine, won-dering whether it had been put out of business in some way.

"It works—yet!" he cried excitedly

"Elaine!"

"Yes, Craig," came back over the faithful little instrument.

"Are you all right?"
"Yes—all right?"
"Thank heaven!" breathed Craig, Thank neaven: breathed class, pushing me aside.

Literally he kissed that yocaphone as if it had been human!

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Asks for 1,000 Women Workers
Reading, Pa., April 8.—Miss Dora
Cain, in charge of the personal service end of the Stough campaign, to begin here the last week of this month, issued a call for 1,000 women for this feature of the revival. Three Held Prisoners Under Auto Laneaster, Pa., April 8.—Three persons were held prisoners under an overturned auto at Intercourse half an hour. The car, driven by A. M. Rogcrs, tinsmith, of Intercourse, skidded, struck a rock and overturned, pinning befineath it Rogers, Miss Lacretia Erisman and Miss Florence Pickel. A passerby discovered their plight. Rogers is badly hurt. C. V. NEV

CARRIAGE WORKS BURNE

ary Thought to Have O

Incendiary Thought to Have Caused Disastrous Fire

Chambersburg, April 8.—A fire believed to be of incendiary origin completely destroyed the carriage works of L. R. Steck, formerly the shops of Freeze & Shartle, yesterday morning at 12.45. Within a short time the property was completely destroyed together with a number of vehicles under construction.

In less than two hours the blaze was gotten under control by the citizens and the fire prevented from spreading to adjoining buildings. The loss will amount to several thousand dollars, partly covered by insurance.

CIRL LOSES LIFE IN BLAZE Dead at Age of 78

Waynesboro, April 8.—Mrs. Elizabeth (Bonebrake) Snively, wife of David Snively, died at her home a short distance west of Waynesboro, at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, aged 78 years.

7 o'clock yesterday morning, aged by years.

She suffered a cerebral hemorrhage one week ago and never rallied from this.

Mrs. Snively was born February 5, 1837, on the Dr. J. H. Koons farm, east of town, the daughter of Daniel and Margaret (Stoner) Bonebrake. She spent practically all of her life living in this section. Glessner, 8 years old, was burned to death and two others seriously injured in a fire which destroyed the homes of John Glessner and Peter Schoeber

Ran Auto Into Bank
Gettysburg, April 8.—Losing control of his five passenger automobile, as he was descending Heyser's Hill, west of Fairfield, Tuesday afternoon, Duke Woods, of York, was forced to run the car into a bank in order to prevent serious injuries to himself and the other occupants of the car who included his wife, his mother, Mrs. Woods, of Fairfield, and his aunt, Mrs. Kate Sample, also of Fairfield. awake and attempt the rescue of his seven sisters.

Groping his way along the hall, Glessner was able to reach his small sister in a room at the rear of the house. Throwing a blanket about her, he staggered back to the window. Breaking a window, he threw her down to the crowd which had gathered. She was caught in the arms of her frantic father, who, with the aid of neighbors, rescued six of his children.

"Mary is still in the house," shricked the father as the flames leaped through the windows, and he tried to return. The crowd prevented him, but up above his son heard the cry and he returned along the hall. At the wake and attempt the rescue of his

Children Observe Curfew
April 8.—While officers

Ohldren Observe Curfew
Carlisle, April 8.—While officers watched the streets until after 10 o'clock, they were unable to locate any violators of the new curfew ordinance which went into effect Tuesday evening. Liberal advertisement of the provisions of the act have made it generally known and 8,15 o'clock last evening witnessed a general clearing of the streets by the children under a legal age. e returned along the hall. At the ead of the stairs descending to the econd floor, where the child was rapped, he was met with a rush of flames.

A crash heralded the fall of the second floor into the flames. William dragged himself up to the third story and hung over the window sash while the flames swirled around him. Then he threw his body forward and fell to the ground Cattle Perish When Barn Burns Hagerstown, April 8.—Two horses and one cow were killed yesterday in a fire that burned a large frame barn on Martin L. Smith's farm, tenanted by Daniel Witmer, near Hagerstown. Ten steers were rescued. he threw his body forward and fell to the ground.

John Glessner searched the ruins with pitiful haste all morning. At 11 o'clock he found the charred bones of his daughter. He is seriously burned.

The house was owned by the Phila-delphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company and the loss is $3,000, cov-ered by insurance.

WAR SWAMPS LIMBMAKERS

Glass Eyes Will Also Be in Demand
20 Years Through It Pittsburgh, April 8.—Artificial limb factories in England, Germany and France are utterly holpless under the pressure of orders for peg-legs and arms. Consular appeals have been made to manufacturers in this country

made to manufacturers in this country and factories here are swamped with orders, which will result in overtime for months.

C. W. Feick, a local limb manufacturer, says that artificial eyes and nosseven will be in demand for the next 20 years as a result of the war.

The French Red Cross reports 15,000 amputations already, Make-believe legs range in price from $35 to $125; cheap bucket arms, $12.50, while stumps may be bought from $7.50 upward.

ROB PATIENT'S LONE WIFE

Masked Burglars Take Advantage of Husband's Stay in Hospital
Hazleton, Pa., April 8.—Taking advantage of Samson Jones, of Park View, being in the State hospital, two masked men broke into the Jones home at night, woke up Mrs. Jones, compelled her to give up $35 which she had concealed under her pillow and fled.

Mrs. Jones ran out of the house in her nightlethes and alarmed the neighborhood, but no trace of the burglars was found.

HOW FAT FOLKS MAY BECOME SLIM

Be Moderate in Your Diet. Breathe Deeply, and Take a Little Oil of Korein

Fat person, particularly those from 10 to 30 pounds above normal weight, will be interested to learn that they may easily reduce their weight without starvation diet or tiresome exercise.

This can best be done by being moderate in your diet, so that you will not over-tax your assimilative organs, by

C. H. Backenstoe, Esq., has removed his law offices from No. 14 North Third street to the Bergner building (Rooms Nos. 203 and 204 second floor) northwest corner of Third and Market cumulations in the system wherever located.

Even a few days treatment should show a noticeable reduction in weight, the fiesh should become firm, the skin smooth and the general health improved, in fact your footsteps should even become lighter, your work seem easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling take possession of your whole being.

Every person who is ten or fifteen Son Killed by Train; Widow Critical Shenandoah, Pa., April 8.—Thomas Horan, Jr., 16 years old, the only son of Mrs. Thomas Horan, widow, of Girardville, was instantly killed yesterday by a Philadelphia express train.
The mother is prostrated and in a critical condition.

Every person who is ten or fifteen surely person who is ten or fifteen by the streament a trial. You will probably find that it is just what you need.—Adv.

Boy Killed Under Trolley Car Mahanoy City, Pa., April 8.—Rushing in front of a Schuylkill Railway car at Mahanoy Plane yesterday, John Dudash, 2 years old, son of Michael Dudash, was cut in two before the pow-er could be shut off. AWNINGS Ends Lovelorn Life
Shenandoah, Pa., April 8.—Rejected by a pretty country girl, Bartholomew Nascavage, aged 25, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid.

General upholstery, slip cover and carpet work done. Jos. Coplinky

Successor to H. A. Vollmer 1208½ North Third Street Harrisburg, Pa.

"After a trying day visiting my patients, a chew of PICNIC TWIST soothes my nerves and calms and fits me for the morrow.

ers of the Chewers'

er produced.

Are the greatest thinkers

"It is the soft, mild leaf of PICNIC TWIST that is so satisfying. It does not possess the de-pressing 'after effect' of dark 'heavy' tobaccos. There's the same difference between PICNIC TWIST and 'heavy'.

right coffee and one that is muddy and The sweetness of PICNIC TWIST-its long lasting chew appeals to the men who know GOOD chewing tobacco.

tobacco as between a good cup of just

MANY FIRES YESTERDAY

Buildings on Bonnymeads Farms De stroyed With $2,500 Loss-Local vicinity kept Harrisburg fire fighters quite busy yesterday, when property to the extent of several thousand dol lars was destroyed. The heaviest of these fires occurred at the Bonnymeads farms east of Paxtang, when the home of James Pearl Gardner was burned along with some valuable lumber and several small tool houses. The ber and several small tool houses. The loss was estimated at $2,500, which would have been much higher had it not been for the local companies who kept the flames from igniting the residence of Mrs. A. P. L. Dull.

The fire started when employes built bonfires in the field. A strong wind arose and carried the sparks to a pile of lumber. The farm hands tried to extinguish the flames by hand apparatus, but it soon got beyond their control.

In order to save the gardner's control.

In order to save the gardner's house which stands nearby the Friendship chemical apparatus was sent for, but before it arrived the house had already caught fire. Assistant Fire Chief Halbert then sent for the Hope stand nearly fire. steam engine.

The engine was placed beside small brook and in a short time se small brook and in a short time several streams were playing on the burning building. At different times the flames endangered the residence of Mrs. Dull, but the firemen succeeded in keeping them away from the building in keeping them away from the building.

Last night the firemen were again called out to extinguish a fire at the home of George Dash, 546 Camp street. The fire was caused by the exploding of an oil stove and in a short time the flames ate their way to the adjoining house, occupied by Charles Carman. The total loss was estimated at $500.

In the earlier part of the day a number of other small fires kept the

In the earlier part of the day a number of other small fires kept the firemen on the run.

CORPSE NOT AN ASSET

Bill of Sale on Girl's Body After Death Figures in Bankruptcy Des Moines, April 8.—The body of Miss Dollie Morgan, of Denver, after her death would be of no value and wertax your assimilative organs, by getting plenty of resh air, by breathing deeply and by taking a few drops of oil of korein four times a day.

Oil of korein four times a day.

Oil of korein four times a day.

Oil of korein may be obtained from any good druggist in capsule form (five drops to the capsule) take one capsule after each meal and one before refiring at night. They cost little, are absolutely harmless, are pleasant to take and are designed to reduce fatty accumulations in the system wherever located.

Even a few days treatment should show a noticeable reduction in weight, the fiesh should become firm, the skin smooth and the general health improved, in fact your footsteps should even become lighter, your work seem

Confess to Robbing Roommate

When William Gritman, Joseph Smith and Frank Miller applied at the police station for lodging last night, they were surprised to find they were wanted there. The complaint was made by Winfield Hershey, a roommate, who said he was robbed of $1.10. Later the three confessed to the theft.

Bicycle Thieves Again At Work Bicycle Thieves Again At Work Within a period of one hour three bicycles were reported to the police yesterday afternoon as being stolen.
One wheel, owned by Thomas Camalodo, was found. One of the other two wheels was taken from 1313 North Second street, and another from 105
North Second street. Another wheel, the owner of which is not known, was found at 36 Balm street.

Stroke Fatal to Wealthy Man
Sadsbury, Pa., April 8.—Joseph C.
Walker died yesterday on his 83d birthday anniversary from a stroke.
He was considered the wealthiest man in this section and was affiliated with a number of banking institutions. He was a graduate of the Unionville Academy, and was engaged in the mercantile business in this section many years. He was one of the organizers of the Gap National bank. He was a member of the school board and leaves a widow and several children.

YORK GETS NEW INDUSTRY

Standard Chain Company to Move Its Standard Chain Company to Move Its Plant at Marion, Ind., to That City York, Pa., April 8.—The Standard Chain Company yesterday amnounced that it would move its plant at Marion, Ind., to this city as soon as improvements to double the capacity of the Ness plant in this city are completed. The company has six plants and a rolling mill, and it is stated that its business is showing a marked improvement.

Provement.

The new buildings here will consist The new buildings here will consist of a chain forming department, 400 feet long and 78 feet wide, and a welding and shipping department, 320 feet long and 176 feet wide, in addition to an office building, 60 by 45 feet. All the structures will be built of brick and steel.

When the enlarged plant is in operation employment will be given 800 men. About 150 men are employed on day and night shifts at present.

KANSAS WOMEN LOSE

Feminist Candidates Defeated in Leav-enworth and Sabetha
Topeka, Kan., April 8.—Women candidates for office in the municipal elections in Kansas Tuesday generally fared badly at the hands of the voters.

Returns yesterday from Sabetha show-ed that out of a ticket composed en-tirely of women only one candidate ed that out of a ticket composed entirely of women only one candidate was elected. At Leavenworth, Mrs. Iva Marshall, candidate for Mayor, was defeated 6 to 1 by E. W. Crancer, re-elected.

J. E. House, newspaper writer and author, was elected Mayor of Topeka.

C. W. Green was re-elected Mayor of Kansas City.

FIVE AUTO CRASH VICTIMS

One Woman May Have Been Injured Fatally Norristown, April 8.—Five persons were injured in an auto accident evening at Jeffersonville, when cars came together and one was push-ed into a telephone pole and badly damaged, snapping the pole at the damaged, snapping the pole at the base.

The injured were Mr. and Mrs. William Williams, of Spring City, their son, Charles Williams, 7 years old, and Mr. and Mrs. George Botz, also of Spring City. Mrs. Botz received injuries that may result fatally. Her scalp was badly torn and she is suffering from concussion of the brain.

The others were all cut and bruised but no bones were broken. Botz was the only one able to leave the hospital after having his injuries attended to.

Taking Care of the Children
No parent would consciously be careless of the children. Joe A. Rozmarin, Clarkson, Nebr., uses Foley's Honey and Tar for his two children for croup, coughs and colds. He says, "We are never without Foley's Honey and Tar in the house." A distressing cough, sleepless nights, and raw, inflamed throat lead to a run-down condition in which the child is not able to resist contagious or infectious diseases. Foley's Honey and Tar is truly healing and prompt in action. It relieves coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Geo.
A. Gorgas, 16 North Third street.—
Adv. Taking Care of the Children

Rea Sells Home Farm Rea Sells Home Farm
Altoma, Pa., April 8.—Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, yesterday sold his farm in Turkey Valley, south of Hollidaysburg, to J. G.
Bagshaw, a farmer, who will take possession at once. The farm had been in the family many years.

Argued About War, 24 Stabbed
Mt. Carmel, Pa., April 8.—Five Hungarians were seriously stabbed and 19 other foreigners received knife thrusts in a riot at Exchange over an argument on the European war. A number of the combatants were arrested.

To Attend Banquet at Reading
Frank C. Hoffman, a past grand chief of the Knights of Golden Eagle, will attend the thirtieth anniversary of Reading Castle No. 49, in the grand ball room of the Hotel Berkshire tomorrow evening.

W. W. STRAUSBAUCH MECHANO-THERAPIST

Removed from 349 S. 13th St. 1 Rooms 308 & 309, No. 8 Market Sq., Trustee Building

See "Exploits of Elaine," Eighth Episode, In Motion Pictures, Victoria Theatre, Saturday, April 10 READ THE STORY IN THE STAR-INDEPENDENT EVERY WEEK