R. J. CUNNINGHAM HIGHWAYS CHIEF

Appointed to Succeed
Bigelow, and Senate
Promptly Confirms
His Name

$8,500,000 FOR THE STATE ROADS

This Amount Provided Under Terms of Measure Introduced By Senator
Sprout With Endorsement of the Administration

Simultaneously with the confirmation by the Senate last night of Governor Brumbaugh's appointment of Robert J. Cunningham, county controller of Allegheny county, to the post as State Highway Commissioner, for a term of four years, to succeed E. M. Bigelow, resigned, came the introduction of a bill by Senator Sprout carrying an appropriation of $8,500,000 for general highway work for the next two years.

The bill was introduced following a conference with the Governor and it represents the views of Governor Brumbaugh, Senator Sprout and the chairmen of the appropriations committees of both branches of the legislature as to the amount which can be spared for road purposes.

Mr. Cunningham, who has been prominently mentioned for the highway commissioner since the resignation of Mr. Bigelow, has been prominent in Allegheny politics and served a term in the State Senate.

$300 For Each Mile of Road
Of the amount carried by the bill, $6,000,000 is specifically appropriated for the maintenance and improvement of State highways under the act of 1911 and its amendments. This means that the entire State highway system, including those roads added to the original Sprout plan two years ago, will be retained as State highways. This allowance will give about $300 per mile a year for State highways, and it is the judgment of Deputy Commissioner Hunter and Chief Engineer Uhler that this amount will be sufficient to keep the roads in very good condition and do considerable permanent work.

The sum of $600,000 is appropriated for the purchase or condemnation of turnpikes upon State highway routes; $1,000,000 is set aside for the construction and maintenance of State aid highways, and the remaining $1,000,000 is to be devoted to the payment of a portion of the expense of the maintenance of township roads, as provided by the Jones bill.

To Pay Deficiencies to Townships
Representative Jones has introduced a separate bill making provision for the payment of deficiencies due by the State to townships under the operation of this law.

The appropriation bill introduced by Senator Sprout provides that the appropriations made therein shall include and not be in addition to the amounts received by the Commonwealth for the licensing of motor vehicles during the next two years.

This prevents any question arising regarding the validity of the appropriation of the funds received for automobile licenses, which matter is now pending in the Supreme Court upon appeal by the Auditor General and State Treasurer from a decision of the Dauphin county courts on the application of the law of 1913, which provided that moneys received from automobile licenses should be devoted to highway purposes.

To prevent any delay or risk of trying up these funds, the present bill provides for a specific appropriation to the department.

McCLAIN TO FIGHT THE REGISTRATION REPEALER

Lieutenant Governor McClain declared last night that he will fight any attempt to put through the Senate the Habgood bill repealing the personal registration law for third class cities, which the House passed yesterday morning.

The law requiring personal registration in cities of the third class has been in operation for years. McClain was sponsor for the measure, and discussing the passage of the repealer by the House, he said:

"I cannot believe that there is any serious intent to repeal what I consider one of the most effective laws upon the

SKIN GOT DRY PIMPLES BROKE OUT

Could Not Sleep. Red and Itched. Eyebrows Fell Out. Used Cuticura. In One Month Skin Clear, Smooth Like Velvet. Eyebrows Grew.

333 Poplar St., Philadelphia, Pa.—"My husband's skin got dry and pimples broke out. At night he could not sleep; it would burn awfully. The pimples were red and they itched. His skin began to peel off his face. It made all his eyebrows fall out."

"He got some soap and ointment but they did not help him. I got the Cuticura Soap and Ointment for him and he put them on. He would first bathe his face with water as hot as he could stand for about fifteen minutes with soft sponge and Cuticura Soap, then he put the Ointment on his face and left it on all night. In the morning he would wash it off with the Soap and then put the Ointment on again. He would do that four or five times a day. In one month his skin was clear and now it is smooth like velvet and his eyebrows have come in nicely." (Signed) Mrs. Robert Pahl, June 12, 1914.

statute books. Certainly, if I find that there is a real movement in the Senate to concur in the Habgood bill, I will fight it to the limit.

There was not much of a fight in the House to prevent the wiping out of a law which has helped to make elections clean in third class cities. At that, the bill received a few more votes than the number required by the constitution to pass it. The vote was 111 to 38. The cities affected by the repealer are: Allentown, Altoona, Bradford, Carbondale, Chester, Corry, Easton, Erie, Franklin, Harrisburg, Hazleton, Johnstown, Lancaster, Lebanon, Lock Haven, McKeesport, Meadville, Monongahela, New Castle, Oil City, Pittston, Reading, Titusville, Wilkes-Barre and York.

No State Flower This Year

Pennsylvania will designate no official State flower this year. After the House defeated last night a bill which proposed the myrtle as the State flower, two other bills proposing the sweet pea and wild honeysuckle, respectively, were dropped from the calendar.

Equal Rights Bill Is Revived

The equal rights bill, making it unlawful for the proprietor of a place of amusement or accommodation to discriminate in the seating of patrons, was last night made a special order of business in the House for next Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. The bill was re-considered after a defeat and placed on the calendar.

Makes Railroads Liable for Fires

A measure making railroads liable for fires caused by the operation of locomotives was introduced in the Senate last night by Senator Hilton, of McKean. The bill does not apply in cities and boroughs.

Lewis Argues For Roney Bills

William Draper Lewis, of Philadelphia, and William A. Magee, former Mayor of Pittsburgh, appeared before the House committee on Judiciary General yesterday and urged the re-consideration of the Roney constitutional convention bills. The measures will likely be given to a sub-committee with instructions to make an early report.

Bill to Help City Firemen Delayed

The bill appropriating $5,600 for the several companies in the Harrisburg fire department was postponed in the House last night. The measure was attacked by Representative Baker. Representative Wildman, the sponsor, was not present and Mr. Swartz had the measure postponed.

Sousa and His Band To-night

It has been remarked repeatedly that, notwithstanding the exaggerations of his imitators, Sousa is the sanest of the bandmasters of the generation. He eschews the meaningless and wholly theatrical mannerisms which are affected by so many other leaders for the sole purpose of attracting attention and eliciting comment. Sousa leads with an easy grace that seems to be a part of the music he is conducting, yet with a masterful precision which absolutely controls the wonderful body of musicians banded together in his name. The programs presented by Sousa and his band always contain something new, and we are wondering what special treat will be offered when they appear here at the Majestic this evening.—Adv.

David Warfield

A very pretty sentiment marks the appearance at the Majestic to-morrow evening of David Warfield, who will once more, under the direction of David Belasco, appear as Simon Levi, in "The Auctioneer." This is the character that brought him his first great fame on the legitimate stage thirteen years ago. The occasion will be a happy reunion for both the older and younger generation of theatergoers, who will be enabled once again to view this great artist in a role that commands the love and sympathy of all. Affectionate old Simon Levi, the Hester street second-hand dealer, was the first of Mr. Warfield's notable creations and without a doubt it ranks as his greatest achievement. Certainly it is the characterization that seems to appeal most to the popular fancy, if the ovations that have been tendered this beloved artist wherever he has appeared so far this season, are any criterion.—Adv.

"Little Mary Mack"

An agreeable surprise is in store for local playgoers, in "Little Mary Mack," which comes to the Majestic theatre Saturday matinee and evening. This musical comedy, unlike other musical comedies, is a strictly American play. There is not the semblance of Europeanism or other alien quality about it. Hitherto it was considered indispensable that some scene should be laid in a picturesque corner of the Old World, but the producers of "Little Mary Mack" have defied tradition.

Delbert E. Davenport, producer of "Little Mary Mack," also is the author of the book and lyrics. The music is by Newton Ashenfelder and Sigmund Romberg. Fred Bishop, who staged "The Three Twins," "My Best Girl" and "The Debutante," directed the dancing in "Little Mary Mack," which was staged by Edwin T. Emery, of the Shubert forces.

Girls to Run Country Store

Everybody who ever purchased anything from a paper of pins to furnishings for a new home, will agree that the task of shopping is made less arduous when the customer deals with a fascinating miss on the other side of the counter. At the Colonial theatre's "Country Store" this evening, a half dozen of the prettiest girls in vaudeville will take charge and wait on the customers that go to the stage for their gifts. These girls are the living models in the "Haberdashery" act that is being talked of so widely as one of the best features the Colonial ever offered. After they have completed their routine work of displaying the beautiful garments that belong in their act, they will take a hand at the Colonial's weekly store event and pass these articles out to customers as they come to the stage. This will be a novelty that will make the Colonial's Country Store well worth attending to-night. "The Haberdashery Girls," are one of a bill of four acts that combine to make the present program at the Colonial very good. To-morrow there will be a new bill which will continue for the remainder of the week. This will be headed by Colvin, a sensational hypnotist who has made audiences laugh in almost every city from coast to coast.—Adv.

At the Regent

Dustin Farnum, remembered by hundreds of theatergoers in Harrisburg as the star in "The Virginian" and other famous plays of like calibre, will make his first appearance to-day as a "stilt" actor in Jesse L. Lasky's presentation of "Cameo Kirby" at the Regent theatre. "Cameo Kirby" is only the third "movie" production in which the popular actor has participated, and it was only by special arrangement that he could be engaged to take the stellar role. "Cameo Kirby" is a Southern story, full of thrills and human interest, and brings back scenes of many years ago. Auction sales of slaves are shown in every detail and races between boats on the Mississippi near New Orleans make the picture unique and picturesque. "Cameo Kirby" will be shown to-night and to-morrow.

For Friday, Manager Megaro announces

"The Fairy and the Waif" and for Saturday a film, "Valley of the Missing," which has just been released.—Adv.

At Photoplay To-day

Special three-reel Lubin dramatic production, "The White Mask," is the headliner to-day at the Photoplay theatre, along with our regular first-run program of the best film manufacturers in the world. We wish to announce to the public that "we have cut the price, but not the show," and each day will be seen the regular two and three-reel feature productions of the licensed manufacturers. Maurice Costello, of the Vitagraph Company, plays to-day in "The Heart of Jim Brice."—Adv.

Art and Nature

Art is the revelation of man, and not merely that, but likewise the revelation of nature, speaking through man. Art pre-exists in nature, and nature is reproduced in art. As vapors from the ocean, floating landward and dissolved in rain, are carried back in rivers to the ocean, so thoughts and the semblances of things that fall upon the soul of man in showers flow out again in living streams of art and lose themselves in the great ocean, which is nature. Art and nature are not, then, discordant, but ever harmoniously working in each other.—Longfellow.
