THE STEEL MILLS ARE BUSY, BUT TRADE BOOM IS LACKING

Export Business Expanding, Although Home Demand Is Small—The Consumption, However, Appears to be Gradually on the Increase

New York, April 16.—"The Iron Age" says the steel trade is going on in its own orderly way, scarcely measuring up to the scale of prosperity attributed to it in some quarters. Consumption, which seems to be gradually increasing, counting in steel that is going abroad, is for the time being greater than new buying.

The expansion in export business has been marked in the past six weeks. March contracts with foreign buyers of iron and steel products were probably in excess of 250,000 tons, not including 100,000 tons of shrapnel bars recently closed for France. No order has yet been placed here for 40,000 tons of rails for France, as reported, and the fantastic story of a large French order for bridges to span the Rhine scarcely needs denial.

A vast amount of shrapnel business has been and is still being distributed in this country by a Canadian interest which has an $8,000,000 contract with Russia, but with this as with a good deal else in war supply lines there are complications which make negotiations long drawn out. The disposition is growing to proceed very conservatively in regard to war contracts where many intermediaries are at work.

With half of April gone, there is some light on the situation as to prices of plates, shapes and bars, which were advanced to 1.20c., Pittsburgh, by leading manufacturers. Less weakness has appeared than a part of the trade predicted, yet new business in these lines is still limited. Sales of bars and shapes have been made at 1.20c., Pittsburgh, and Pittsburgh mills have taken plate business at 1.15c., while some Ohio plate mills have sold as low as 1.10c., Pittsburgh.

Some interest is shown in agricultural contracts for bars, but at 1.20c., Pittsburgh, the price is now $2 a ton above that at which most of last year's business was placed. Some concessions have been made in recent sales of reinforcing bars.

At Chicago, plate mill operations have been at a limping rate, so little car work coming out, and one mill was idle all of last week. The Chicago & Northwestern has decided to buy 2,000 box cars and 50 steel passenger cars.

Surprisingly, fabricating contracts booked in March, including elevated work and several large jobs figured on in preceding months, ran up to 64 per cent. of a month's capacity, figured on the basis of 2,100,000 tons a year. In the eight months of the war, the average of such work has been less than 35 per cent. of capacity.

In the lighter steel products the market has gone on in a humdrum way. Sheets have developed some weak spots, especially in galvanized, which have been offered to jobbers at 3.25c. to 3.30c. at Central Western mill. Tin plate shipments in March were the largest for one month in over a year. Wire products are less active, particularly fencing, and there is no indication of speculative buying.

A differential has developed in the sheet bar trade, Bessemer bars having sold at $20, Youngstown, as against $19.50 for open-hearth. American billets have sold at 135 shillings c.i.f. Liverpool, or $32.85, and even at present freights such business is quite attractive.

Reports agree that the melt of foundry iron is gradually increasing, due chiefly to the larger operation of machinery foundries. The malleable trade mends more slowly.

Southern furnaces have generally succeeded in holding the $9.50 basis for No. 2 iron, though pipe interest set out to establish a $9 price in their recent buying. Sales of one Alabama interest were 75,000 tons in one week of the movement.

One eastern Pennsylvania steel company has bought 45,000 to 50,000 tons of basic iron in the past week. Furnaces had little success in the effort to get an advance, most of this iron going at or below $13.25, delivered in the Chicago district as present buying. Sales of one Alabama interest were 10,000 tons still pending at St. Louis.

LUTHERANS IN FEDERATION

Initial Steps Taken to Unite All Synods in United States and Canada

Toledo, April 16.—Initial steps looking toward a federation of all Lutheran bodies in this country and Canada were announced here yesterday. Representatives of seven of the general organizations of the Lutheran church, meeting here, adopted a tentative constitution that will be presented to general organizations at their next conventions. The action of these will be reported at a meeting to be held in 1917, the place and date to be selected later.

The synods represent a membership of more than 1,500,000. The bodies represented include the Joint Synod of Ohio and other States, the General Synod, the Iowa Synod, the Danish Synod, the General Council, the Synod of Canada and the Synod of the South.

The plan to federate all the Lutheran bodies of the United States, having an aggregate membership of 2,250,000 communicants, has received an impetus from the forthcoming celebration of the 400th anniversary of the beginning of the Reformation, which will be observed in 1917. The proposition is not to bring the numerous branches of the Lutheran church into organic unity, but to bind them in a strong federation.

"There is a growing sentiment for unity, particularly among the younger clergy," said the Rev. Dr. Charles L. Fry, secretary of the Church Extension Society of the General Council. "All branches of the Lutheran church will observe the great anniversary in 1917, and it is proposed to take advantage of the enthusiasm and promote the federation movement.

"The great barrier to the success of the movement is the languages. We have large bodies of Lutherans in this country who speak only Swedish, while others speak Norwegian, Finnish, Danish, Icelandic, German and Slovak. If all could speak the same language, the movement would be certain to succeed."

Hard Labor

A definition of hard labor appears in the decision of the court in People versus Haurahau, 75 Mich., 621, as follows:

"Hard labor in itself is not infamous or degrading. On the contrary, it is ennobling and is the foundation upon which reposes all true progress in mental and moral development.

"The infamy and degradation consist in its being involuntary."—New York Sun.

End of the World

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

"Little Mary Mack"
"Little Mary Mack," a new musical comedy, will make its first appearance here at the Majestic theatre to-morrow afternoon and evening. This production will go to Philadelphia immediately after its engagement here and after several weeks in that city will be an attraction on Broadway.

"Little Mary Mack" has many claims to distinction, its authors having given to the playgoers a strictly American musical comedy, thus shattering all precedent.—Adv.

"The Ham Tree"
It is said that John Cort has given McIntyre and Heath one of the best productions these world famous comedians ever had in his magnificent revival of the successful musical comedy "The Ham Tree," which comes to the Majestic Saturday afternoon and evening, April 24. McIntyre and Heath have been before the public in negro acts for nearly forty years, and they are regarded by all authorities of the stage as the two ablest men in their line of impersonation. They are surrounded by an excellent company, which includes a great chorus of dancing girls and boys. A dancing team of thirty of America's best soft shoe buck and wing dancers appear in one feature of the performance. "The Ham Tree," is a notable play not only because of its departure from the beaten paths in musical productions, but also from the standpoint of scenery, costumes and equipment. The large cast of principals, includes some well-known musical comedy favorites. —Adv.

At the Regent
The Gustave Frohman production of "The Fairy and the Waif," at the Regent theatre to-night is a timely story that deals with the outbreak of the great European war. Children will be especially interested in the juvenile actors, Mary Miles Minter, Percy Helton and Willie Archie, who will delight them with their pathos and humor while the grown-ups will be gripped by their acting and the plot of the play. The pretty little daughter of a British army officer, left alone when her father was called to the front, drifted into a theatre and became a fairly in a Christmas production. At the dress rehearsal she fell from a cloud. She was not injured but was berated by the stage manager that she rushed out into the night in her fairy costume and disappeared. The waif sees her and believes that his prayer has been answered. Many pathetic situations follow and the play is finally brought to a happy ending. To-morrow Manager Mengar will show "The Valley of the Missing," a film already seen by thousands and proclaimed to be one of the greatest successes of the present day.—Adv.

Hypnotist with Colonial
The success with which Colvin has begun a three-day engagement at the Colonial theatre, proves that vaudeville audiences are always ready to look at a clever hypnotist. Colvin is one of the best in his line that has ever appeared in Harrisburg and he is keeping his audience in constant laughter. On the same bill with him are the Harmony Trio in popular songs; Mercedes Bock and company in a comedy playlet, and Lew Fitzgibbon, an expert xylophonist. This rounds out one of the best shows that the Colonial has had this season.—Adv.

Noma Talmadge at Photoplay To-day
Clever Noma Talmadge, the 19-year-old star of the Vitaphone Company plays the leading role to-day in "Janet of the Chorus." A jolly two-act dramatic comedy in which Miss Talmadge's work as a comedienne is well shown. As Janet, the head of the chorus, she marries Barry whose uncle is a woman hater. Shortly after the marriage uncle puts in his appearance, but Barry and Janet solve the problem by introducing Janet as his little niece. Of course, the inevitable discovery follows, but the young people get out of it in a way that makes this feature a comedy gem. Our general Friday railroad story "A Life in the Balance," is also shown with daring Helen Holmes in the leading role. Special to-day S. P. C. A. lecture and stereopticon slides on anti-vivisection.—Adv.

German Sailor Ends Life
Allentown, Pa., April 16.—Herman Schadel, said to have been one of the interned German sailors from New York harbor, who came to Coplay two weeks ago and got a job as machinist in a cement mill, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by shooting himself.

NATIONAL BOWLING FETE

Some of the Most Expert Bowlers Competing in Tournament

New York, April 16.—Some of the most expert bowlers of the National Bowling Association were on the list of individuals and teams to roll in the national tournament here to-day. New high scores were expected. To-day was the last one of the tournament for the five-man teams, as Saturday, the closing day, will be devoted to the singles and doubles.

Paul Loetje, a member of the Rosedale Bowling Club, of New York, had the best individual score to his credit when the bowling was resumed to-day, having rolled 276 last night. The record of 288 for the national tournaments was made by Otto Kallusch, of Rochester, in 1912.

The only change in the leaders of the various divisions was the appearance of the Rosedale Club in a tie with the Atlantics, of Brooklyn, for second place in the five-man contest.

Section Hand Electrocutted
Lebanon, April 16.—While walking along the tracks of the P. and E. railroad at Avon, yesterday, William Price, section foreman, found the lifeless body of a man named Miller, a section hand lying on the ground with his hands wrapped around a wire which dropped from the overhead wires of the Weaver Company. Miller left the section gang to look after the lights along the tracks about 9:30 a. m. He was 32 years of age and lived on East Weidman street, this city.
