SWISS FILE PROTEST ON THE ALLIES' BLOCKADE

Washington, April 21.—Dr. Paul Ritter, the Swiss Minister, yesterday presented to the State Department a copy of a protest his government has made to the allies against interference with shipping of products into Switzerland. He said his country was becoming more isolated as a result of its inability to import goods and that he was seeking the co-operation of the United States, especially in regard to goods manufactured in this country.

Secretary Bryan said the protest was the first, he believed, lodged by Switzerland.

He was unable to give the Minister any assurance that anything could be accomplished to relieve the situation.

CABIN DWELLERS OUSTED FROM THEIR HOME BY LAW

Constable Moves Furniture Into Roadway and Family Spent Night in a Nearby Vacant House—Will Sue Landlord

Carlisle, April 21.—Surrendering, under protest his right to occupy the primitive like log cabin on the Percy Harman farm, near Mount Holly, that a fortnight ago narrowly escaped destruction through an explosion of dynamite, Jacob Miller with his wife and several children stood at yesterday while Constable Jerome Kaufman and a deputy removed the Miller household effect and deposited them along the highway half a mile or so from the little home.

Last night the Miller family was temporarily quartered in a nearby house that for some time prior thereto had been vacant. Although he did not resist the efforts of the officers nor use drastic means to prevent the removal, as he is said to have once threatened, Miller yesterday was content with remarking that he will bring a suit for damages against Harman, the land owner.

He claims to have had a perpetual lease for the rental of the log cabin on the Harman farm, by which he was required only to furnish the land owner with "load of wood at intervals." Harman denies that and asserted further yesterday that if such a lease and been in force its provisions never were adhered to by Miller. Harman further claims that he many times advised Miller to move and that he was obliged to resort to legal action as an alternative.

"The Ham Tree"

"The Ham Tree," that very humorous and novel musical comedy which has proven such a successful vehicle for the display of Melnyre and Heath's exceptional portrayal of negro character, will be the attraction at the Majestic on Saturday afternoon and evening with the celebrated comedians again starring in their familiar roles, Alexander Hambletonian, the doleful, and Henry Jones, the hopeful. The production is staged by Ned Wayburn, master-craftsman of novel groupings and effects and the wizard director of dancing choruses. John Cort, under whose management Melnyre and Heath are starring, has supplied a competent company of principals to support his stars.—Adv.

"Twin Beds"

Selwyn & Co. recently received a letter from a man famous in the medical profession of this country, endorsing in the play, not only as a clean, wholesome, hilarious farce, but also for the hygienic principle it promulgated. The writer went on to say that if under would sleep alone and in an apartment with plenty of fresh air there would be much less disease and contagion. Local playgoers will have an opportunity of judging whether the sentiment of the physician or of Signor Monti are correct, when "Twin Beds" comes to Majestic Friday, April 30.—Adv.

Fun To-night at Colonial

This is the weekly country store night at the Colonial Theatre, and the management has planned some comedy surprises that promise one of the merriest nights of the season at the Colonial. The whole bill at the Colonial the first three days of this week is good. These acts will terminate their stay at the Colonial to-night, and to-morrow a new bill of vaudeville will replace them. One of the acts slated for the new bill to open to-morrow is the biggest act that ever was presented at the Colonial Theatre, or any other theatre for that matter where prices are as low as those at the Colonial are charged. "The Bachelor Dinner" is a big girl act of the musical comedy variety, with more than a dozen players in the cast, seven of them charming young women with a wealth of wardrobe and costume changes. There will be three other good acts on the same bill.—Adv.

At the Regent

An engagement extraordinary at the Regent theatre to-day is the Famous Players Film Company's presentation of "The Million," with Edward Abeles, the popular star, in the leading role. It is a four-part photo drama of Henry W. Savage's recent sensational successful farce production, which has won the distinction of possessing more laughter and wholesome fun than any comedy of recent years. The continuous mirth proceeds equally from the action, caricatures and situations of one of the most novel and ingenious plots ever presented on the stage or screen. The subject also presents one of the most remarkable examples of character acting supplied in many years in the impersonation of "Le Baron," the crook, by Mr. Abeles. In the course of the play the star is called upon to portray no less than six entirely distinct characters. The attraction will be repeated to-morrow, in addition to

Victoria Theatre

The large audience that attended this up-to-date theatre yesterday were led in their praise because of the clearness of the pictures. A new Simflex motion picture machine has just been installed and is of the largest type used outside of Philadelphia and New York. To provide entertainment of an exceptional character is the aim and ambition of the management and for that reason a $25,000 pipe organ has been installed recently and has been "the talk of the town." This wonderful musical instrument is played continuously during the presentation of our high-class pictures and each action of the play is given its proper tone of expression, thus making the charm of seeing the "novies" at the Victoria doubly attractive. VON BUELOW HAS HOPES OF NO RUPTURE WITH ITALY

Rome, April 21.—Prince Von Buelow, the German Ambassador to Italy, has requested the Associated Press to deny a rumor in circulation here to the effect that he had transferred the Villa Malta, his residence in Rome, to his brother-in-law, the Prince Di Camporeale, "in view of the approaching rupture between Italy and the central empires." Instead of there being a break between Italy and Austria-Hungary, Prince Von Buelow said to-day that he thought the negotiations conducted with his mission here were proceeding satisfactorily; they had given him confidence that what he termed "the good sense of the Italian people" would triumph in the end. The negotiations, according to Prince Von Buelow, were now mostly being conducted in Vienna, but as in all the discussion the contracting powers had been far apart in their point of view it was "taking a long time to come to any concrete conclusion."

PLENTY OF GERMAN POTATOES TO LAST UNTIL NEXT HARVEST

Berlin, via London, April 21.—The "Times Zeitung" says it learns from an authoritative source that the investigations made by the Federal Council into the recent potato ordinance disclosed the fact that there are sufficient potatoes in the country to insure the supply with absolute certainty until the next harvest. A majority of the larger municipalities, the newspaper says, already have bought sufficient potato to cover the needs of their citizens and that in certain provinces, especially Posen, there is a considerable surplus. The "Times Zeitung" does not say whether the supply of felder potatoes is sufficient for all needs.

Students' Attacks Close Institute

Milan, via Paris, April 21.—For several days past the students of the Polytechnic Institute, the highest engineering university in Italy, have been making attacks on Professor Max Abraham because of his German nationality. The situation became so grave that Senator Giuseppe Colombo ordered the institute closed.

Maximum Bread Price for Berlin

Berlin, via London, April 20.—In view of the wide range of prices charged in various sections of the city a maximum bread price of 43 pfennigs per kilogram loaf, or approximately 4 1/2 cents per pound, was established to-day. Bakers in the poorer quarters of the city already are selling bread at a price below this and it is thought that with the reduction in the price of flour announced for April 26 the price of bread will go still lower.

$200,000,000 Loan Sought by Austria

Berlin, April 21.—The Vossische Zeitung announces that Austria-Hungary is about to float a new war loan of $200,000,000 marks ($200,000,000). The proposal is to issue treasury bonds, payable after the war, from an indemnity, or otherwise.
