HARDEST FIGHTING YET TO COME, SAYS U. S. WOMAN'S HUSBAND NOW IN THE WAR

London, April 22, 1.25 P. M.—Arthur Hamilton Lee, M. P., who was a British military attaché with the United States army during the Spanish-American war and who married Miss Ruth Moore, of New York, is at present serving as a colonel on the continent. He has written a letter home from the British headquarters in France in which he says:

"The allies have it in their power to win, but this does not mean that victory is close at hand or that the hardest fighting and the heaviest losses are not yet to come. The vast German armies occupying and devastating a great part of France and most of Belgium are held in check, it is true, but in no sense are they defeated. Our men at the front are keen, skilled and determined, and our victory at Neuve Chappelle has filled them with enthusiasm and confidence. Their one desire now is to advance, but this they cannot do without better support from their mates and rulers at home. They fully realize that the casualties already incurred must be doubled and trebled before victory finally is won. They cannot understand why the greatest manufacturing country in the world should not supply them with sufficient shells eight months after the outbreak of the war and they express themselves freely on this subject. In the meanwhile we all must make up lost time, not counting the cost. Men and shells in an increasing stream, is the need of the hour."

CONVERSATION OF CARAFA AND SALANDRA ABOUT THE WAR CAUSES DISCUSSION

Rome, April 21, 8.20 P. M., via Paris, April 22, 2 A. M.—Much discussion has been aroused by the interview with Senator Riccarda Carafa, published to-day in the "Messaggero" regarding his conversation with Premier Salandra concerning the war situation and the subsequent official statement denying that the premier made "any concrete statements of any kind," when informed by the Senator that Prince Von Buelow, the German ambassador, was pessimistic over the success of negotiations between Italy and Austria. The premier was quoted as having said "impelled by the paramount interests of our country we will proceed with our duty against all our antagonists."

A careful inquiry regarding the incident discloses that Senator Carafa talked with Prince Von Buelow on April 15 when negotiations between Italy and Austria were about to be broken off owing to the difficulty experienced in regard to a compromise. The German ambassador was greatly disappointed and expressed this feeling to Carafa. The latter, after discussing the question with other Senators, considered it his duty to communicate to the premier the views of the German diplomat. About the same time persons at the foreign office observed that Prince Von Buelow seemed more depressed when he left the room where he had been received by Foreign Minister Sonnino.

Since that time, however, there has been a break in what seemed a hopeless deadlock in the negotiations. This evidently resulted from some concessions made either by Italy or Austria. Senator Carafa, therefore, gave publicity to his interview with the premier just at a time when negotiations with Austria had been resumed and when Prince Von Buelow had again become hopeful that they would be successful.

HEROISM OF AN AVIATOR SENT TO BOMBARD PART OF BELGIAN COAST THRILLS

Paris, April 22, 5.20 A. M.—A story telling of the heroism of an aviator described as "de M.," whose father was killed in one of the first engagements of the war, has been sent to the "Petit Journal" by a correspondent with the northern army.

"De M.," was sent with a sergeant to bombard a corner of the Belgian coast where the Germans had been showing exceptional activity. They had to pass over a region where Roland Garros accomplished his most sensational exploits and where the Germans had installed a hundred anti-aircraft guns.

The aeroplane was piloted safely through a storm of shells while the sergeant dropped bombs, according to instructions, and then turned towards the French lines, rising to a height of 9,000 feet to avoid the hail of shrapnel. Suddenly a German shell smashed the front wheels and hurled through the machine, severing the aviator's left foot. The aeroplane began to plunge downward, but "de M.," gritting his teeth and righted the machine, keeping it headed towards camp. The sergeant, who thought they were done for, supported the pilot with his left arm while with his right he started to pencil a farewell letter to his mother. They

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Adv.

INDUSTRIAL HOME FIRES CAUSED BY 10-YEAR-OLD

John Rodkey, an Inmate, Confesses to Detective Ibach He Caused Three Blazes—Telephone Gossippers Cause $200 Damage in West End

Following the third fire at the Children's Industrial Home yesterday, an investigation revealed the fact that this blaze and the two fires Monday were started by John Rodkey, a 10-year-old inmate. The boy made a confession to Detective Ibach, who quizzed the inmates of the institution.

John said he started the fires in closets on each occasion, igniting some bed clothes with matches he found in the cellar. The blaze yesterday was discovered in time to be extinguished with hand extinguishers after the building was filled with large volumes of smoke.

The little fellow said he set the place on fire only to be mischievous. It is likely he will be placed in charge of a probation officer, who will take him before the next term of juvenile court.

A fire yesterday afternoon partly destroyed the home of Charles Reese, 1641 Fulton street, resulting in a $200 loss. It was stated by Fire Chief Kindler that little damage would have been done had it not been for some women who were holding a chat on the telephone, and who refused to release the line when informed of a fire in the vicinity.

The fire broke out in a small shanty owned by Adam Kreig, which adjoins the Reese property. A neighbor who saw the flames hurried to the telephone to call the Reily Hose Company, but when lifting the receiver he found the line was engaged. When the parties were asked to release the line a few minutes they refused. An alarm was then sent in from box No. 62, Fourth and Hamilton streets, but when the company responded the shanty was already a mass of flames, which had eaten their way into the Reese home.

Firemen also responded last evening to a call at Sixth and Cumberland streets. On arrival they found a chimney had been afire on Grape avenue, which was quickly extinguished. The Susquehanna company was called to extinguish a blaze which started in the ruins of the Montgomery warehouse.

EXPLAINS NEW GAME CODE

Wild Life League Summarizes Measure Which Was Approved By Governor To-day

For the information of sportsmen throughout the State The Wild Life League of Pennsylvania, which has been leading the fight for the adoption of better game, fish and forestry laws in the present Legislature, gave out today the following summary of the new game code, known as House bill No. 119, which was approved this morning by the Governor.

"The Phillips act, known as House bill No. 119, or the new game code, was introduced by Representative Joseph E. Phillips, of Clearfield county. It is the most advanced and comprehensive piece of game protective legislation ever enacted in this State, striking at the last vestige of market hunting by forbidding the sale of rabbits and squirrels killed in the State and forbidding the shipment of game except when accompanied by the shipper. It forbids the ownership, transfer, sale or transportation of ferrets except under license which will only be granted by the Game Commission for good reasons. It forbids the taking of bear in any way except by the use of a rifle or gun shooting only one ball and forbids the trapping of bear in any way. It prevents hunting for hire, by making it illegal for any man paid as a guide or in any other way as a hunter to give, sell or present game of any kind to his employer and similarly forbids the employer receiving game from such employe or guide. It fixes the game seasons as follows:

"Squirrels of all kinds, grouse, woodcock, quail, wild turkey, Mongolian or ring-neck or English pheasant, black birds, Hungarian quail, October 15 to November 30, inclusive;

"Rabbits and hares, November 1 to November 30;

"Deer, December 1 to December 15;

"Bear, October 15 to December 15;

"Raccoon, October 15 to December 31.

"It fixes the bag limits as follows:

	Per Day	Per Week	Per Season
Wild Turkey	1	1	2
Deer, (male)	1	1	1
Bear	1	1	1
Grouse	5	20	30
Quail	8	25	40
Woodcock	10	20	30
Hungarian quail	4	10	20
Ring necks	4	10	20
Squirrels	6	20	40
Rabbits	10	30	60
Hare	3	15	30

Ring-neck pheasants raised strictly in captivity may be killed by their owners on their own premises during the open season without regard to number.

It is made unlawful to shoot at any doe or fawn, the penalty being the same as that provided if the deer is killed and similarly the wounding or killing in any manner of female deer and fawns is forbidden.

JITNEY AIDS IN ARREST

James Johnson Wanted For Arson Captured at Boyd Station

The first jitney to aid in an arrest came into service when a long run was made to Boyd station early this morning, where Policeman Graham, of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad arrested James Johnson, a colored man, on a charge of arson.

Johnson, who said he resides at Richmond, Va., claims he started a fire in a nail keg at a small flag station at Boyd, to keep warm. In a short time the building, which is frame, was a mass of flames and before the railroaders could extinguish the blaze it was destroyed.

The matter was instantly reported to Policeman Graham, who at once began a search for the colored man. A jitney happened along and the officer was rushed to the place just in time to see a man answering Johnson's description coming toward him.

On the way back in the jitney he confessed to setting the place on fire, but said it was not done intentionally.

KAISER AMENDS THE PRIZE RULES GOVERNING ITS NAVY

Berlin, via London, April 22, 9.50 A. M.—Amendments to the prize rules governing the operation of the German navy signed by Emperor William and Admiral Von Tirpitz, published in the "Reich Anzeiger" were designed as a reprisal for the decision made by England and her allies contravening the declaration of London of February 26, 1909.

Under the new order field glasses, nautical instruments, pig lead, aeroplanes, coal and coke are made absolute contraband. Several other commodities were added to the list of contraband including wool, rubber, iron and several other ores. The regulation prescribed that these articles shall be assumed conditional contraband destined for the enemy if consigned "to order or to a person whose name does not appear in the ship's papers, or a person in the enemy's territory."

In such a case it is provided that a ship shall be liable to capture even if bound for a neutral port.

The order directs also that conditional contraband may be confiscated without regard to the consignee when

Grow "Quality" Late Cabbage

To obtain a cabbage crop with 95 to 98 per cent. perfect heads, you must have a high grade seed. The highest grade seed obtainable is Schell's "Quality" seed. Some of the favorites among the home and market gardeners—

New Late Cabbage, Ni-tram—No better late-cabbage grown; large heads, extremely hard, solid, fine grained, and with that "quality" taste; unexcelled for keeping; few outside leaves which grow upright, permitting closer planting—just the variety for the small home garden.

Large Late Flat Dutch—Immense heads; flat and of the best quality.

Danish Bullhead—One of best hard headed, round, late Cabbages grown; unexcelled for its fine flavor, firmness of grain, beautiful ball-shaped heads, and keeping qualities.
