AUTOMOBILE INJURIES PROVE FATAL TO YOUNG BOY

Steven Path, Aged 6 Years, Died Shortly After Being Struck By Big Touring Car Near Front and Dupont Streets, Last Evening

Steven Path, aged 6 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Path, 595 South Third street, was struck by an automobile yesterday and so badly hurt that he died in a short time. The accident occurred shortly before 6 o'clock last evening in the vicinity of Front and Dupont streets.

The auto was in charge of Howard Landis, of Yoe, York county, as chauffeur, and with him in the machine were Mrs. B. P. Taylor, owner, by whom Landis was employed, two other women, a man and a child.

According to witnesses the child with one or two other foreign children were playing on the street just prior to the accident. Noticing a street car coming toward them the children made a concerted rush for the opposite side of the street, all escaping unharmed but Steven who happened to be nearest to the auto coming in a direction opposite the street car. Although allowed to go at a low rate of speed, before Landis could stop the large car, the child was struck with some force and hurled to the street. Death was caused by a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain.

Shortly after the accident Landis was placed under arrest by Detective Durnbaugh and furnished bail last evening before Mayor Royal for a hearing before Squire Gardner, Thursday afternoon on a charge of manslaughter.

BEAUTIFUL SETTING IN MINSTREL FIRST PART

Japanese Garden Will Be Reproduced by Local Funmakers at the Annual Show for the Benefit of St. James' Catholic Church

A beautiful setting representing a Japanese garden will be used by the Original Home Talent Minstrels for the minstrel first part of their show which will be given on Tuesday evening, May 11. The entire circle will wear full dress, an innovation as far as the costuming is concerned. New ballads, rickety and funny end songs, interspersed with up-to-the-minute jokes will afford plenty of action to keep the audience in a joyful mood.

The finale, "Nightingale in Dixie Land," will close the first part. This skit will be presented by the entire company, the comedy parts being played by the eight end-men, while the musical portion will be given by the well-trained chorus of twenty voices. An olio of real merit will be given, balancing a performance which will eclipse all past effort.

IMPROVEMENTS GUARANTEED

Centenary U. B. Church Will Spend $10,000 in Enlarging

At a church extension meeting held yesterday by the congregation of Centenary United Brethren church, $5,182.50 was pledged of a total amount of $10,000 required to make the increase in housing facilities needed by its ever-growing Sunday school. These contributions will be paid in one year and will insure the improvements, plans for which will be presented to the congregation Thursday evening, May 6.

The official board of Centenary United Brethren church yesterday morning decided to suspend all church services on week days during the time of the Hills evangelistic campaign, which starts in the Borough May 2. The Sunday evening services will also be suspended during the same time.

HOW TO BE SLIM

By Winifred Grace Forrest.

If you are too fat and want to reduce your weight 15 or 20 pounds, don't starve and weaken your system, or think you must always be haunted at an account of your fat, but go to W. H. Kennedy, or any other good druggist, and get a box of Oil of Koraen capsules, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week and note what a pleasant and reliable method this is for removing superfluous fat from any part of the body.

It costs little, is absolutely harmless and I am sure a week's trial should convince anyone that it is unnecessary to be burdened with even a single pound of unsightly fat.

Brakemen for 107, 101, (2), 110, 103, (2), 112.

SLICING THE BALL

A Few Happy and Helpful Hints for Gloomy Golfers

A large percentage of golf gloom arises from slicing. A golfer's idea of a hole is to stand on a hot tree for a million years and slice balls out of bounds. The chronic slicer is a wretched figure, and he falls as low as he can when, giving up hope of ever hitting a straight ball, he aims a quarter of a mile to the left of the flag.

There are at least seven causes of slicing. The commonest is the vicious practice of bringing the club head down outside the line of the ball's flight. This imparts a rotary motion to the ball, and the flight of it describes a crescent. You do this nine times out of ten. But do not despair. We can help you. We can teach you to hit inside the line.

Buy from a commission merchant a basket of very, very hard eggs and give these to the caddy to carry. When you tee your ball or come up to it on the fair green, place an egg about three inches away from the ball, and an inch or so back of it. Now swing, being careful to keep the club head from straying beyond the line; otherwise you will smash the egg and scatter the malodorous contents. Before a dozen eggs are broken you will quit slicing or be asked to resign from the club.

If the egg remedy fails, procure a piece of dynamite and use that instead. This will effect a permanent cure.—B. L. T. in Chicago Tribune.

KNOW WHEN TO DISOBEY

What Joffre's feeling were when, at the end of this eight hundred miles' arduous march, he found his comrades dead can be better imagined than described. What was more galling still, he found instructions at Timbuctoo telling him to return immediately and leave a junior officer in charge, preparatory to evacuation. With the ingratitude of genius, Joffre knew when to disobey. He stayed, and by doing so ultimately earned the gratitude of the French government. For not only did he administer a crushing blow to the Tuaregs, clearing the district round about for two hundred and fifty miles, and, in four separate expeditions, defeating the most dangerous of the neighboring tribes, but while carrying on this terrific, guerrilla warfare he introduced many reforms in Timbuctoo itself which ultimately transformed a ruined and desolate town into one which could look forward into a period of security and prosperity.

"Luck was on my side," Joffre said modestly, when he was afterwards congratulated on his brilliant achievement and promoted lieutenant colonel for his "valuable work." "I might," he said, "have met with the fate of Bonnier and 'Boiteux had the Goddess of Good Fortune not attended me," refusing to acknowledge that it was really his caution, foresight, military genius and indefatigableness which enabled him to bring his column through so successfully.

At the same time a little incident occurred on this expedition which might have brought about quite a different result. While still some distance from Timbuctoo Joffre's left eye was attacked by a poisonous insect. "The doctor feared that the commander might lose his eyesight, and advised a bandage. But the patient refused, saying, 'I could not command my troops if I were blindfolded.'" Then you must wear blue spectacles," said the doctor. But the desert is not the place to find blue spectacles, and General Joffre's eye became worse. The doctor foretold blindness, but Joffre merely smiled. His luck would hold good, he said. Sure enough one day the mail brought a package to a soldier who had been sent to the rear, from General Loyre, the man's uncle. General Loyre being a personal friend of Joffre, the latter took upon himself to open the package, and the first thing he found was a pair of blue spectacles.

"You see, I was right in having faith in my luck," Joffre is reported as having explained, and in this way his sight was saved, although his eye has ever since been clouded over with a thin veil.—Strand Magazine.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Adv.

What Russian Soldiers Think of "Germanism"

In the May "American Magazine" Captain Granville Fortescue, writing a report of the great war on the eastern frontier of Germany, gives the following picture of the Russian common soldier is one of the most patient of creatures. He has all the qualities of a willing horse. He follows his officers blindly. Judged by American standards, he lacks initiative; but in the war of the trenches initiative plays little part. You can put a company of Russian soldiers into a trench and they will stay there until they are all killed, captured or frozen. When it so happens that all their officers are disabled they have one simple rule—to charge. They have received orders that under no circumstances must they go back, so they merely go forward.

"I don't believe that they know much of what the war is all about, but they have a distinct dislike for the Germans. It is said that they never did understand why they were fighting the Japanese, who were a people practically unknown to them. But the 'German-skis,' they have been told, want to take a big slice of Holy Mother Russia. No sacrifice is too great to prevent this. Judging from the great masses of soldiers in the trenches and these include regiments from the Emperor's Guard division and the Siberian Fusiliers, I believe Russia to have the finest raw material for her armies of any nation of the world."
