Cut Down Your Coal Bill

Coal prices are at their lowest now and will not change until July 1. Pea coal is only $4.95 a ton now, the lowest it has been for a number of years. Wise housekeepers are cutting down their coal bills by filling their bins with range and furnace coal while the saving prices are in effect.

LOSSES AND GAINS FEATURE THE STOCK MARKET TO-DAY

War Specialties Fall Back Again at the Outlet of Trading, Then Rising and Declining Alternately—Trading
Was Relatively Light

By Associated Press.
New York, May 4.—Wall Street.— War specialties fell back again at the outlet of to-day's trading, pressed steel car losing 6 1/2 points and the declines of 1 to almost 2 points in General Electric, American Locomotive, Baldwin and National Lead. U. S. Steel yielded half a point on heavy offerings.
Standard railways were mostly lower while minor stocks of that class made slight gains. Coppers were variable.
There were partial recoveries before the end of the first half hour.

The market repeated its course of the previous session, rising and declining alternately, with indications of further selling at every favorable opportunity. Foreign offerings were not a factor, although Steel and Coppers were sold for European interests in moderate amounts. Trading was relatively light, becoming increasingly dull towards midday, when representative shares showed general gains. Industrial and the miscellaneous group presented a mixture of losses and gains, motor issues being especially strong.
Bonds were irregular.

SERVING DEATH DEALING MUNITIONS TO RUSSIANS

SERVING AMMUNITION TO RUSSIAN TROOPS
You would scarcely want to change places with the brave fellows at the front during this cruel European conflict after viewing this picture, showing Russian troops being supplied with ammunition, while the thermometer hovers about the Zero mark. War is all that General Sherman said about it.

FIGHTS PAYING HER LAWYER

Mervin H. Bogner, Who Seeks Divorce, Says Wife Can Hire Counsel Mervin H. Bogner, of Steelton, vigorously objects to paying for the services of the attorney who is to defend his wife, Nellie, in the divorce suit he has lodged against her and so stated in papers his counsel filed in court this morning. The wife denies the charge that she deserted Bogner willfully and maliciously and without reasonable cause and has obtained a rule to show cause why he should not pay her lawyer who will fight the charge.

The Bogners were married in New Cumberland, on December 22, 1909, and they separated on March 22, 1901, the date on which Bogner contends he was deserted. They lived together but three months. Mrs. Bogner claims she always was and even now is willing to live with her husband and she further asserts that she was obliged to depart from him because of the treatment accorded her by Bogner's sister, with whom the couple lived.
Bogner claims that his wife is financially able to employ counsel to prepare her case. He declares that he has paid his wife $1,500 since the separation. This money was paid in installments of $5 a month under a court maintenance order.
