THE STAR-INDEPENDENT

(Established in 1876) Published by
THE STAR PRINTING COMPANY.
Star-Independent Building,
18-20-22 South Third Street, Harrisburg, PaEvery Evening Except Sunday.

BENJAMIN F. METERS,
President. JOHN L. L. KUHN, WM. W. WALLOWER, Vice-President, WM. K. MEYERS, WM. K. MEYERS, Secretary and Treasurer. WM. W. WALLOWER V. HUMMEL BERGHAUS, JR., Editor. WM. H. WARNER, Business Manager. munications should be addressed to STAR INDEPENDENT, Editorial. Job Printing or Circulation Department, to the subject matter.

Entered at the Post Office in Harrisburg as second-class matter.

Benjamin & Kentnor Company, New York and Chicago Representatives. New York Office, Brunswick Building, 225 Fifth Avenue. Chicago Office, People's Gas Building, Michigan Avenue.

Delivered by carriers at 6 cents a week. Mailed to subscribers for Three Dollars a year in advance

THE STAR-INDEPENDENT
The paper with the largest Home Circulation in Harrisburg and searby towns.

THE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN ADVERTISERS.

Private Branch Exchange, Private Branch Exchange.

Wednesday, May 5, 1915.

MAY Thur. Fri. 7 10 11 12 13 15 14 22 16 19 20 21 17 18 25 27 28 23 24 26 30 31

MOON'S PHASES-Quarter, 6th; New Moon, 13th; First Quarter, 21st; Full Moon, 28th.

WEATHER FORECASTS

Harrisburg and vicinity: Fair tonight and Thursday. Not much change in temperature.

Eastern Pennsylvania: Partly cloudy to-night and Thursday. Moderate northwest and west winds.

YESTERDAY'S TEMPERATURE IN HARRISBURG Highest, 55: lowest, 49: 8 a. m., 49: 8 p. m., 53.

THE SIX-YEAR HIGH SCHOOL PLAN

The ideal plan of education, according to some authorities, comprises six years of instruction by parents in the home, six years of elementary school training, six years of high school teaching and six years of college discipline. If that plan is to be carried out there will be necessary a rearrangement of the work in all the grades in the public schools. Some rather impressive arguments have been advanced in an endeavor to prove such an arrange. ment would be decidedly beneficial, at least as it relates to high schools and grammar schools.

The ordinary arrangement in the public schools at present is eight years of primary and grammar school work and four years of high school study. The Bureau of Education in Washington advocates six years of elementary and six years of high school training, the latter to be divided into three years of junior high school and three years of senior high school. It is this latter plan which offers most advantages, in the opinion of many experienced educators.

Of the children in this country who finish eight or nine years of elementary school training, threefourths do not go on with their education, having reached the end of the compulsory attendance period. If the new plan were to be adopted generally, as it is most likely to be in the course of time, the pupils would be in high school two years before they would be free to leave their books, and would be better trained thus than under the old system. In the seventh and eighth grades, as commonly arranged at present, the students are to a large extent merely marking time.

The advisability of teaching domestic science in the upper grammar grades in this city has been under consideration of late. In the junior high school, under the proposed plan, the seventh and eighth year pupils could not only be given useful vocational training, but could be started in their studies of foreign languages, elementary sciences, history and literature as well.

The Harrisburg Rotary Club, in its meeting last night, voted to procure the services of some qualified man to report to the Club, and through the Club to the Harrisburg School Board, on the advisability of the adoption in this city of the sixyear high school plan. This step may or may not have a direct effect on the solving of Harrisburg's vexing high school problem, but it is at any rate a step worth looking into.

This city has been one of the last in the state to make a move to get rid of the detrimental ninth grade, reducing the elementary course to the usual eight years. It has the opportunity to be among the first to arrange for a six-year high school. In the general rearrangement of courses of study which must necessarily accompany the abolition of the ninth grade, and the introduction of domestic science and possibly of manual training in the seventh and eighth years, the new plan could be adopted with but little additional confusion.

TEN TWENTIETH CENTURY HEROES

It has remained for the twentieth century to have wireless heroes. Through all the heroic ages, commonly so-called, there were no men with similar accomplishments. The invention of wireless telegraphy in modern times has brought into being the hero who stays at his post in a sinking ship and ealmly sends calls for help through the air in the endeavor to save the lives of steamship passengers.

A week from to-day there will be unveiled in Battery Park, New York City, a memorial to the wireless heroes who have died at sea in the brave performance of their duty. Ten names will be inscribed on the monument. Seven wireless heroes lost their lives on the Pacific, two on the Atlantic and one on the Great Lakes.

Shortly after the Titanie went down, three years ago last month, the proposal was made that a memorial be erected to Jack Phillips, the wireless operator on that vessel whose courageous conduct at the time of the disaster, when recounted, evoked the admiration of the world. The plan was later made to include all wireless operators who have similarly lost their lives.

Two of such had gone down prior to the Titanic disaster. George C. Eccles perished on the steamship Ohio on the Pacific, August 26, 1909, and Stephen F. Sezepanek sacrificed his life on the steamship Pere Marquette on Lake Michigan, September 9, 1910. In the year 1911 there were no like losses of life, but there were several each intervening year until this one. The latest was the death of Walter E. Reker on the steamship Admiral Sampson in Puget Sound, August 25, 1914.

It is fitting that these men, heroes of a distinctly twentieth century sort, should not be permitted to be forgotten. More brave men like them will join their little group from time to time. The memorial will be to them all, a testimonial of public appreciation of the heroism required of a dispatcher of calls of distress on a ship doomed to go to the bottom, and to carry him with it, beyond the reach of the rescuers he summons.

COLLECTING WHAT OTHERS DISCARD

There have been many collectors of many different objects in a world so full of things. One whose hobby is as remarkable as any is a resident of Saginaw, Michigan, reported to have the biggest and most complete collection of theatre programs in definitely refused to grant the request the United States.

That person would be a dull person indeed who could not find much to interest him in such a collection,—a collection which is said to go back more to workers receiving less than $20 a than a hundred years to the time when the first week. The Postmaster General stated than a hundred years to the time when the first theatre programs were published in England, and then to show the origin of the theatrical business ent time for increasing wages. He rein the United States and trace its development up gards this rise as a burden which must to the present time. The programs reposing in that collection, copies of which had been discarded by theatre patrons as useless after the performances, are now interesting records of the amusements of other days.

There may be persons who have from time to and would, therefore, impose a very time formed little collections of programs which they have preserved after attending theatrical performances or musical entertainments. Such programs would be of personal interest to the possessors because the casts and the scenes which they list have been actually seen and enjoyed. They would be of no value, however, in tracing the histories of theatres, of productions and of performers in this country and England.

The difficulty in the way of collecting old theatre programs, of course, is that hardly anybody is interested in them, and as a consequence specimens have not been preserved as have valuable coins, captured near Driegrachten. As they stamps, autographs, books, pieces of chinaware and passed down the streets of Bruges, the other common objects of collection. The thousands Pe of dollars recently paid for autographs of the signers of the Declaration of Independence could not purchase specimens of desirable theatre programs of which no copies had been preserved at the time smiled and answered back, "Courage, of their issuance because they had seemed worth-comrades." Meanwhile the crowd show of their issuance because they had seemed worth-

Grandy is a bad loser.

A few more of Commissioner Taylor's $9,000-an-acre purchases would make a good sized hole in the $100,000 for the unauthorized demonstration. park loan.

When the City Commissioners picked to-morrow afternoon for a special meeting they must have forgot that it

Noxious animals become exceedingly noxious when their mans any data which might reveal the pelts, several years old, are sent to the capitol to prove full strength of the British navy. The claims for bounties.

tailor must be a foresighted fellow who is planning a and the Volunteer Naval Reserve occu-

TOLD IN LIGHTER VEIN

A DIFFERENCE

"Have you been operating in the stock market of late?" "No. I've been operated upon."-Judge.

DEFINED AT LAST

Willie Willis—"What's a 'neutral,' pop?"
Papa Willis—"It is the punching-bag on which the belligerents practice between rounds."-Puck.

FEELS BETTER "Your husband is looking so much better nowadays, Mrs.

"Yes, it's the new treatment. He's been trying some immunity baths."-Buffalo Express.

CONSIDERATE

Rider-"Why didn't you sound your horn when you saw the man in the road?" Driver-"I thought it would be more humane if he never knew what struck him."-Judge.

APT COMPARISON

"Why do you compare my marksmanship with lightning?" asked the recruit. "Because," replied the instructor, "it never hits twice in the same place."-Washington Star.

HE'S A BRUTE

A New York woman who is suing for divorce testified that she used to play penny ante poker with her husband to keep him at home, but without success. A man who could be indifferent to such devotion must be utterly heartless.-Washington Herald.

TRADE PICKING UP

"I see our traffic with Iceland is increasing."

"Leif Ericson landed on these shores, sailing from there in the year 1000."

"And I notice last week another ship from Iceland arrived."-Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

HARD RED PIMPLES ON FACE AND NECK

Itched Terribly. So Disfiguring Dreaded to Go Out. Used Cuti-So Disfiguring cura Soap and Ointment. In a Month Completely Healed.

3167 Gaul St., Philadelphia, Pa.—Small pimples broke out over my face and neck and gradually swelled into hard red*pimples. They itched terribly and were so disfiguring that I deraded to go one dreaded to go out.

Sometimes the itching was so intense that I scratched until they bled.
"I used all kinds of remedies without relief until I heard a friend mention Cuticura Soar and Ointment. I sent for a free sample and and offitment. I soft for a free sample and afterward bought some. After using them a week I saw signs of improvement and in a month's time I was completely healed and have never been troubled since." (Signed) have never been troubled since." (Sig Miss Lena M. Guntz, Sept. 3, 1914. Keep your skin clear, scalp clean free from dandruff, and hair live and gl Cuticura Soap, with an occasional u Cuticura Ointment will do it.

With 32-p. Skin Book on request. A dress post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boton." Sold throughout the world.

Tongue-End Topics

Britain Bans Higher Wages

The British Postmaster General has of the postal employes for a bonus of a dollar a week to meet the increased cost of living caused by the war. bonus asked for was to be paid only that the rise in the cost of living is not by itself a sufficient reason at the presbe shared in common by all classes in the country. Moreover, he explains, compliance with this request from the postoffice workers would make neces sary corresponding grants to all gov ernment employes of a similar status heavy burden on the treasury. The pos tal employes are arranging for protest meetings with the object of urging the cabinet to reconsider its decision.

Belgians Cheered Against Orders

Seventy Belgian prisoners who recently passed through Bruges in charge of a guard of German cavalry received a resounding welcome from the Belgian inhabitants of the town, notwithstanding the orders of the German municipa authorities that no demonstrations were to take place. The prisoners, who in eluded infantrymen and engineers, were cople of the town gathered along the sidewalks. Hats and handkerchiefs were waved in the air and there were shouts of "Vive la Belgigue," "Leve Belgie" and "Leve de Koning." The prisoners ered them with gifts of fruit, chocolate, sandwiches and cheese. While the enthusiasm was at its height, some of the German horsemen charged the crowd. It is said that the municipal authorities will assess a fine against the populace

New British Navy List

The first official British navy list ever issued without the names of ships has just appeared. It was evidently consid ered necessary to conceal from the Gerlist of officers and men on active serv-The burglar who stole six brand new suits of clothes from umns, while the Royal Naval Reserve a tailor must be a foresighted reliow who is planning a heart-smashing campaign at the seashore well ahead of time. The seashore well ahead of time. lowing rated as lieutenant commanders: The Duke of Manchester, the Duke of Westminster, Filson Young, novelist; D. C. Calthorp, novelist; Lord Loughborough, of Olympic games fame; L. G. Chiozza-Money, the writer of economics, and others. There are several pages of names of ladies composing Queen Alexandra's Royal Naval Nursing Service. The lost of siek quarters in all parts of the United Kingdom covers eight pages.

French Commander's Frankness

General Tremeau, who recently died from injuries received in an automobile accident, was virtually the commander in-chief of the French army during the period of his service as vice president of the Higher War Council. He is well remembered by all the officers who served under him for his vigor, quickness of decision and plain way of speak After the annual army maneuvers in 1910 in the Champagne province, he addressed the general officers as is usual under such circumstances. He started out in the usual honcyed tone and finished as follows:

"Gentlemen," he said, "if the Great Emperor had been able to come back among us and witness the maneuvers that we have just accomplished upon the scene of his glorious exploits, he would find that we have borne ourselves in a particularly piti-

The severity of his criticisms made him a great many political enemies and it was his, more than anything else, that brought about his resignation in 1911.

LAWYERS' PAPER BOOKS
Printed at this office in best style, a lowest prices and on short notice.

THE GLOBE

OPEN TILL SIX

THE GLOBE

A Surprise Sale of Men's Clothes

Here's a short story of the quickest and best clothing transaction we've ever made-a story of our purchase of a large portion of the surplus stock of L. Adler, Bros. & Co., of Rochester, N. Y., makers of the celebrated ADLER-ROCHESTER CLOTHES.

Monday 5.00 P. M., Proposition made.

Monday 5.05 P. M., Proposition accepted.

Monday 6.00 P. M., Order wired to house.

Tuesday A. M., Goods shipped by express. Wednesday 4 P. M., Suits arrived. Wednesday 8 P. M., Suits on display in our windows.

To-morrow (Thursday) Morning at 8 O'clock Suits Will Be Placed On Sale—All at One Price

When you consider that ADLER-ROCHESTER CLOTHES are never sold less than $20, you can form an idea of what this sale really means to you. You need not be much of a mathematician to figure out how easily you save $5.25 AT LEAST—a big saving "worth while."

Beautiful Worsteds, elegant Cheviots, Shepherd's Plaids, Scotch Homespuns, English Tweeds, Natty Flannels and Tropical Worsteds, in three and two-piece models-many of them silk

And the Boys, Too, Come in For Their Share of the Savings—A Great Sale of Boys' Sturdy Suits at Prices "Way Down" From Regular

Boys' $4.00 and $5.00 $2.95 Suits at . Boys' $5.50 and $6.00 $3.95 Suits at Boys' $6.50 Suits spe- $4.85 Right-Posture Suits at . .

Wear-resisting Cheviots, Cassimeres, and Serges that won't fade-many of the suits have two pairs of pants-all sizes 6 to 18 years.

Boys' 50c Khaki Pants at 39¢ The kind that "wear like iron" and Boys' Tapeless Blouse Waists at 29¢ Of splendid quality madras in plain and striped effects.

"The Friendly Store"

CARDINAL GIBBONS TO ATTEND PEACE CONGRESS

According to report, Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, will attend the World Court Congress to be held at Cleveland, Ohio, May 12-14. The congress has for its purpose the establishment of an international court of justice through which it is hoped to eliminate war. Others who will attend include Mr. William H. Taft and Mr. Alton B. Parker.

REPORTING LEBANON COURT

Elmer W. Deck, an expert stenog rapher, of this city, is acting as court stenographer at the special May sessions of common pleas court, of Judge Henry, At Lebanon, in the absence of John Ruth, the regular stenographer, who is in attendance on the session of the State Senate. Mr. Deck will report the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor in Harrisburg, May 11 to 14.

Kills the germ that causes the hair to fall out and will keep the scalp healthy.

George A. Gorgas

LAWYERS' PAPER BOOKS
Printed at this office in best style, at lowest prices and on short notice.

A Bald Head Only Indicates that the scalp has been neglected. recommend that you use "93"

Rescale Hair Tonic
Kills the germ that causes the hair to fall out and will keep the scalp healthy.