DOUBLE SENTENCE WHEN MAN MADE DEATH THREAT

Federal Judge Witmer Made Short Work of Counterfeiter Who Declared He Would Take Life of Detective Who Caused His Arrest

Sunbury, Pa., May 7.—After he had been sentenced to five years in the Eastern penitentiary for counterfeiting by Judge Witmer in the United States Court yesterday afternoon, George Masegano, Scranton, threatened to kill Detective Carticello, who testified against him. The Court called Masegano back and sentenced him to ten years.

Four others pleaded guilty also and were sentenced. Vincenti Picono got six years and six months; Caspar Marciante, four years and six months; and Tony Ducati and Michael Epositi, two years each, all in the Eastern penitentiary. All are from Scranton.

William H. Chapin, alias B. F. Brown, of Harrisburg and Lewistown, yesterday was sentenced to three months in jail at Lewistown by Judge Witmer in the United States court here for sending parcels of cheap clothing to dead persons' addresses, and then receiving money orders in payment, when they had never ordered the goods.

The Court told Chapin that he was a hard-hearted man to prey upon the sympathies of bereaved persons.

STRICKEN FATHER FORGIVES

Obtains Release of Motorists Who Killed His Daughter

Frederick, Md., May 7.—Struck by an automobile belonging to J. C. Roulette, of Hagerstown, Elise, 6-year-old daughter of C. R. Wood, was instantly killed in front of her home at New Market, last evening about 6 o'clock. The child had just stepped from the automobile freight truck of her father when the speeding automobile shot around its rear and struck her, breaking her neck.

Harry Miggins and J. E. Cochran, of Baltimore, who were in the car, were arrested, but later released upon the plea of the child's father, who declared the accident was unavoidable.

Gettysburg in the Movies

Gettysburg, May 7.—Gettysburg has been selected as one of the twelve Pennsylvania towns and one of the sixty-five towns in the United States, to appear on the ten reel motion picture film which will show the Lincoln highway and all its beauties. H. C. Osterman, official consul-at-large of the association, and R. E. Spenser, the official photographer, were in Gettysburg yesterday to make arrangements for taking the pictures about May 20.

Fell From Auto, Injured

Waynesboro, May 7.—C. M. Mills, of the firm of Mills & Bonebrake, was painfully injured yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock.

With Clyde Funk, he was on his way to Rouzerville in his auto truck to deliver when at Clayton avenue and Main street, he saw the double team of James Heefner running away.

He planned to stop the runaway but jumped before his auto was stopped and fell backward on the paved street, striking his head and making an ugly abrasion an inch and a half long.

GEM TREATED AS RUBBISH

Diamond Ring Voted at $1,600 Kick-about Theatre Floor

Frederick, Md., May 7.—Having been kicked about and passed as a piece of tin foil by about 500 persons a $1,600 cluster diamond ring belonging to Mrs. B. Eward Keener, wife of a prominent local architect, was picked up in the Empire theatre yesterday morning by William Storm, an usher, and returned it to its owner who paid a liberal reward.

Dr. Henry M. Boyer Dies

Carlisle, May 7.—Dr. Henry M. Boyer, 46 years old of Carlisle, one of the most prominent dental surgeons in this section, died yesterday morning after a month's illness as the result of septic infection received in practice. The deceased was graduated in dentistry in Philadelphia eighteen years ago. Doctor Boyer, who leaves a widow and child, was employed on several Philadelphia papers in the early '90s.

Bound Over For Court

Chambersburg, Pa., May 7.—Three Mercersburg men, Harry Kline, Ike Worley and Charles Miller, were arraigned before Magistrate Seiders yesterday afternoon on a charge of furnishing liquor to minors. All were held under $300 bail for the September session of court. Frank Pheil, another defendant in a similar case had previously waived a hearing for court.

Dead at Age of 77

Chambersburg, May 7.—Mrs. Aaron Lowry died Wednesday afternoon at her home at Attenwald. Mrs. Lowry was about 77 years of age. Mr. Lowry died fifteen years ago. Mrs. Lowry is survived by her only son, John B. Lowry, of Waynesboro.

Funeral services were held at her home this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Interment in Grindstonehill cemetery.

To Dedicate New School

Shippensburg, May 7.—Cards have been issued announcing the program and plans for the exercises that are to mark the dedication of the new "Model School" of the Cumberland Valley State Normal school, which will be held here on Friday afternoon, May 14, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

Lockjaw Fatal to Cabinetmaker

Earl, May 7.—John Epeneshied, 46 years old, a prominent cabinetmaker and undertaker, died yesterday from lockjaw, after suffering untold agony. He attended a funeral last Saturday and after returning home complained of a stiff neck and lockjaw developed. There were no bruises on his body. His widow survives.

27 1-4 Per Cent. to Siegel Creditors

Boston, May 7.—Final settlement of the claims against the Siegel Company, of Boston, on a basis of 27 1-4 per cent, was approved yesterday by J. M. Olmstead, referee in bankruptcy. The settlement was affected through the withdrawal of a claim of $2,000,000 for the lease of the store building occupied by the company. About $230,000 will be divided among the 1,700 creditors.

SUBMARINES AND COMMANDERS IN BIG NAVAL REVIEW

MAJESTIC Wednesday, May 12, "The Girl From Utah." COLONIAL Every afternoon and evening, vaudeville and pictures. VICTORIA Motion Pictures. PHOTOPLAY Motion Pictures. REGENT Motion Pictures. PALACE Moving Pictures.

"The Girl From Utah" There are two remarkable features in Charles Frohman's great tri-star musical comedy cast of Julia Sanderson, Donald Brian and Joseph Cawthorn in "The Girl From Utah," which make this musical comedy unique and will undoubtedly be greatly appreciated when it is presented at the Majestic next Wednesday evening. The first is the revival of the old-time prologue and epilogue of bygone days. The curtain rises to reveal a plain plush background, before which appear the three stars attired as jesters, who in song invite the audience to accompany them to the delightful Land of Let's Pretend. Then, just before the closing ensemble, the stars reappear and sing the epilogue, thanking the audience for its appreciation of their efforts. The other feature is a burlesque on the movies. In a grotesque imitation of the Wild West motion picture, Miss Sanderson is seen as a helpless frontier wife, Donald Brian as a dashing cowboy villain and Joseph Cawthorn as the sturdy pioneer husband, who shoots down the cowboy villain for invading his home. The whole thing is a scream from start to finish and always convulses audiences. The sale of seats opens Monday at 9 a. m. Adv.

"Royal Cabaret" Draws Big Houses In "The Royal Cabaret," the Colonial theatre is presenting the latter half of this week, the really best musical and dancing offering that has ever been shown at the busy corner theatre. Beautiful scenery, charming music and whirlwind dances by a company of nine persons combine to make this act a headliner that will stand out among all the headliners the Colonial ever played. As a result of booking this excellent act the Colonial is doing record-breaking business this week. There are three other very good acts on the same bill. The Four Slickers are a comedy quartet calculated to make the soberest face turn to laughs. Crowley and Newton are a refined couple, who do a turn on the song and dance order that is full of good things from start to finish. A. J. Farrell offers a novelty cartoon act of the same type as that shown by Bert Levy, an Orpheum favorite. Adv.

"The Lost House" at the Victoria Every Tuesday and Friday will hereafter be known as Mutual masterpiece day at the Victoria. To-day we present Richard Harding Davis' famous picture entitled "The Lost House." This great Mutual masterpiece is in four parts and was produced under the personal direction of David W. Griffith, America's highest paid motion picture director. "The Lost House" is a thrilling and a vital drama. It is a whirl of swinging, tingling movement from the first striking scene until the smashing climax is reached. It rings true to life although it is one of the most exciting plays of mystery and adventure you ever saw. The leading part of the heroine is artistically played by Miss Lillian Gish. Wallace Reid and F. A. Turner are two other stars who play important parts of this great Mutual masterpiece. Adv.

Photoplay To-day "Pawns of Mars," a Broadway star feature in three parts, showing that the God of war is no respecter of persons. It strikes vanquished and victor alike, and the just suffer with the unjust. The plot cannot be improved upon and it is acted with the utmost care and skill. The picture is bound to create a stir among movie fans who like a well played war drama. See the excitement in camp when the high-powered bombs start dropping from the aeroplane and see how John Temple, inventor of a new wireless wave, destroyed the enemy who have stolen the powerful explosive from Dr. Lefone, a celebrated chemist. See real tests of high-powered bombs and many other real military maneuvers. The part taken by Dorothy Kelly, who is blinded by an accident explosion of her father's chemicals is very touching. "A Race for a Crossing," Episode No. 24 of the "Hazards of Helen," railroad series, and "The Conspiracy at the Chateau," two-reel Essanay, finish the show. Coming Saturday, Charlie Chaplin, in "By the Sea." Adv.

Watch Your Children Often children do not let parents know they are constipated. They fear something distasteful. They will like Rexall Orderlies—a mild laxative that tastes like sugar. Sold only by us, 10 cents. George A. Gorgas

PATHETIC SCENE IN WAR HOSPITAL

CARING FOR BLINDED SOLDIERS. The newest war hospital for wounded in England is one especially for soldiers who have been blinded in the fighting. Queen Alexandra participated in the opening of the hospital. Two men who were blinded in the fighting at Ypres are seen being led about the grounds by one of the London society women who helped to establish the hospital.

WORKHOUSE AFTER BIG MEAL Starving, Eats 8 Eggs, 23 Rolls, Then Gets 30 Days New York, May 7.—Charles Uges, who said he had been a superintendent on the Panama canal and has a wife and five children in Canada, yesterday proved to Detective Daly his story of starvation was true by consuming eight eggs, twenty-three rolls, two bowls of oatmeal and three cups of coffee. Uges was arrested for asking alms. Daly was so impressed with Uges' story that he took him to a nearby lunch room. Uges was sent to the workhouse for thirty days.
