DETECTIVE DURBAUGH IN DUEL WITH DESPERADO

Subdues Prisoner with Blackjack After Much Quick Sidestepping to Avoid Razor Cuts Which Captor Said Were Made at Him

Detective I. M. Durbaugh had an exciting time with a recalcitrant prisoner whom he had placed under arrest at the prisoner's home in Harrisburg last night and, according to the detective's version of the affair, had a narrow escape from being seriously slashed with a keen-edged razor before the handcuffs were fastened to the resisting one.

Earlier in the evening Durbaugh was given a warrant for the arrest of Ross R. Dickey, Hamilton street, Harrisburg, on information made by his wife, Bessie, who charged that her husband had committed an assault on her, showing numerous lacerations of the throat and neck where, she alleged, her husband had choked her on the evenings of May 6 and 7.

When the detective reached the Dickey home the man was found in bed. The warrant was served on the reclining man, who then arose, dressed and followed the detective downstairs. Under pretext of getting some article in the kitchen, Dickey led the way, closely followed by Durbaugh. In the semi-darkness of the room Durbaugh noticed the man grab something from a cupboard and turn defiantly on him. Quickly turning on a flashlight, he found the man had seized a razor, and it was only by quick sidestepping he avoided being cut by the many numerous thrusts Dickey aimed at him.

Pulling his club out, he finally landed a blow on Dickey's head which sent the razor-wielder to the floor and in a few seconds the steel bracelets were placed on the prisoner's wrists. In addition to the charge of Mrs. Dickey, the defendant will have to face charges of felonious assault and battery with intent to kill and resisting an officer which Durbaugh will present at the hearing to be held before Squire Gardner next week.

PARK DAY WAS A SUCCESS

Prof. Chas. S. Davis Supervised Work on Improvement
Park Day was a success, according to a statement made by H. C. Wright, president of the local Municipal League, this morning. More than 200 boys and adults assembled in the park tract at 8 o'clock this morning, all being put to work in distributing cinder over the walks and driveways, trimming trees and brush.
Prof. Charles S. Davis was in charge of the work all day. He had some assistance from H. C. Wright and Charles R. Holton throughout the day. Architect Manning, who drew the park plans, was also present to see that the work was done in a proper way. Cassel & Brounger donated a team of horses for plowing, while many of the men present used picks and shovels.

MANY AT HILLIS MEETING

Evangelist Discoursed Last Evening on "The Church in Action, or Revivals"—Splendid Singing

The tabernacle was well filled last evening and the splendid singing of the large choir was favorably commented on. A delegation of more than sixty persons, members of the S. of C. E., from the Highspire United Brethren church, had a reservation in the tabernacle and by request sang a selection. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Mr. Rhoad, pastor of the U. B. church, Highspire.

Evangelist Hillis preached from Psalms 86-6, and Isa 59-1-2. Theme, "The Church in Action or Revivals." He said: "The first text is the cry of the people after God; and the second text points out the failure of the church. A genuine revival is the normal state of the church. Those who strike at revivals, strike at the heart of the church and those who oppose revivals are like the devil who approves their attitude. The business people believe in a revival of business, and Christians should believe in a revival of religion. Some object to evangelistic movements because it takes money out of town."

He said "church people are bug house. To such people it is all right for a circus to take $50,000 out of town, but all wrong for the churches to spend $500 on a religious campaign for souls. It is all right for a prize fighter to win $100,000 in a single day, but all wrong for an evangelist to receive a few hundred dollars for six weeks of soul saving work. In many places they need a back door revival, that is turn useless members out of the church."

He closed his sermon by pleading for a revival of Christian responsibility, a revival of Christian work, and for a revival of the preaching of the old gospel. The Saturday evening meeting will be High school night or young people's service. The theme for this services will be "Elements of Success in Life."

SURPRISE FOR MRS. HARTMAN

Friends Presented Flowers and Enjoyed Social Time

Mrs. Mary Hartman was agreeably surprised at her home, 329 Lincoln street, last evening in honor of her sixty-sixth birthday. The house was handsomely decorated with flowers and the table colors consisted of blue and white. Music was the main feature of the evening, selections being rendered by William Taylor and Lloyd Hartman. Miss Hartman was presented with a basket of flowers and at a late hour refreshments were served to the following:
Mrs. Mary Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Rumberger, Mrs. Edward Hartman and children, Verna, Lloyd, Earl and Harry; Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hartman and children, Ethel, Paul and Harper; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deibler and daughter, Mabel; Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Hartman and children, Clarence, Helen and Thelma; Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Hartman, Mrs. Clara Hill, William Taylor and Miss Celia Hartman.

Photoplay To-day

Charles Chaplin, the world famous comedy actor, the funniest and most ridiculous laugh producer of the age, is at the Photoplay to-day in "By the Sea." It is not necessary to say much of Charlie. He's known by everybody from five to seventy-five. Come in and get your funny bone tickled. Get rid of your grouch. "Greater Than Art," a three-reel Edison masterpiece, is a wonderful drama, showing Gertrude McCoy and Edward Earle in this great story of a woman sacrificing her honor through her great love for art, to find that "Greater Than Art" is her new soul-thrilling and pure love for another young man for whom she sacrifices her future in art for which she already had paid a price. An unusual and strong theme, powerfully played with rare emotional power, showing the struggle between the two loves. "The Lonely Lovers," a two-reel Selig, finishes up this Saturday program.—Adv.*

DONALD BRIAN ONE OF THE FIRST MODERN DANCERS

If you talk of modern dancing—which quite a few "eccentrics" are doing these days—it is Maurice and Walton, the Castles, Joan Sawyer, very seldom Donald Brian, one of the three stars in "The Girl From Utah." But it was the man who dances and sings so expertly in this musical comedy coming to the Majestic Wednesday evening, May 12, that started the new type of ball-rolling. Most of us have forgotten the fact that when Mr. Brian made himself the waltz king—or, more accurately, prince—"The Merry Widow" it was the original "hesitation" that danced into fame with him.—Adv.*

BRYAN MISTAKEN, DECLARES BROWN

Attorney General Says Proposed Compensation Law Doesn't Violate Italian Treaty

HE DEFENDS THE MEASURE

Head of Pennsylvania Law Department Takes Issue With the Federal Secretary of State Who Wrote Letter to Governor Brumbaugh

Secretary Bryan, of the Department of State, Washington, it became known here to-day, addressed a letter to Governor Brumbaugh stating that "the Department is of opinion that the proposed compensation act, now under consideration of the Legislature, is violative of the provisions of the treaty of February 25, 1913, between the United States and Italy," in that it apparently discriminates against alien dependent widows and children not residents of the United States as compared with residents in the matter of the amount of compensation to be paid; discriminates against alien dependents not residents of the United States, as compared with residents, in the matter of computing future installments of compensation, by providing for the payment of such alien dependents of less amounts than are to be paid to residents; and, also, discriminates against alien non-resident widowers, parents, brothers and sisters as compared to resident relatives of the degrees mentioned."

Governor Brumbaugh referred the letter of Secretary Bryan to Attorney General Brown, who to-day answered Secretary Bryan to the effect that, after careful consideration, "I respectfully beg leave to differ from your conclusions."

After quoting the provisions of the proposed workmen's compensation law, and the treaty between the United States and Italy, Attorney General Brown says: "The proposed workmen's compensation act is in no sense violative of the rights secured by this treaty. It provides that citizens of Italy residing in the United States shall be protected in respect of their rights, including that form of protection granted by State or national law which establishes a civil responsibility for injuries or death caused by 'negligence or fault.' The right to recover compensation under the proposed act is not predicated on 'negligence or fault,' but compensation is provided for regardless of the cause or circumstances of the injury, except where the injury is self-inflicted, or where the act does not come within the purview of the treaty. And further, acceptance of the provisions of the act is not compulsory, and any one who does not elect to accept them may sue for full damages in the same manner as heretofore for any injuries sustained."

Attorney General Brown then discusses the various provisions of the act and says they do not violate any of the provisions of the treaty.
