GRIFFIN-ELLENBERGER WEDDING THIS EVENING

Daughter of Professor and Mrs. C. A. Ellenberger Will Become Wife of Boston Man—The Rev. Dr. John D. Fox Will Perform Ceremony

An unusually pretty wedding will be solemnized this evening at the home of Professor and Mrs. C. A. Ellenberger, 3207 Riverside Drive, when their daughter, Elizabeth, becomes the wife of Joseph D. Griffin, of Boston, Mass. The ceremony will be performed at 7 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. John D. Fox, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal church, under a canopy of fragrant pink and white blossoms. Decorations of pink and white will prevail throughout the house, and in the drawing room where the ceremony will take place masses of white lilies and pink roses against a background of Alabama smilax and palms will carry out the color scheme. The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, has chosen a toilette of white gros-de-londres trimmed with real lace caught up with orange blossoms. The skirt will be one of the pretty new models cut very short with a long train of net. Her veil of tulle will be arranged cap fashion and caught up with orange blossoms.

Mrs. Chester Payne, of Wichita, Kansas, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor and will wear her own wedding gown of white satin veiled in pink chiffon and trimmed with lace and pearls. She will carry pink roses tied to a tall white daffodil staff, with bows of pink satin ribbon and tulle. Miss Anna Margaret Miller as bridesmaid will wear white lace and pink chiffon and carry a pink staff and white roses. Gordon Hoople, of Syracuse University, will be the best man and William Richardson, of New York, will be the usher.

Mrs. L. Bent Weaver will play the wedding music, rendering the Lohengrin wedding march as the bridal party enters the drawing room and the Mendelssohn as a recessional. While the service is being read Mrs. Weaver will softly play, "Elsa's Dream." A reception will follow the ceremony after which Mr. and Mrs. Griffin will leave for an extended wedding trip along the New England coast. After June 15 they will be "at home" in Boston, Mass. Miss Ellenberger is a graduate of Central High School, class 1909, and of Syracuse University.

CHAIRMAN WOODWARD DINED

Governor in Speech Praises Work of Appropriations Committee
The House Committee on Appropriations last night dined its chairman, James F. Woodward, in the Harrisburg Club. The Governor complimented Chairman Woodward and the committee on their efforts to keep the appropriations within the revenues. Lieutenant Governor McClain gave to Mr. Woodward in behalf of the committee a diamond ring. Others who spoke were Speaker Ambler, Senator

Kline, President Pro Tem. of the Senate and Representative Gans, of Philadelphia.

BEIDLEMAN'S FEAST "DRY"

Resident Senator Entertains One Hundred Guests From Capitol Hill at Colonial Country Club

Leading his fellow Senators to two trolley cars, Senator E. E. Beidleman conveyed them out along the Linglestown pike to view the waffle vines and the fricassee chicken bushes at the Colonial Country Club last evening, and great was the glee of the lawmakers as they made merry at the festive board. At every session of the Legislature it has been the custom for years for the resident Senator to entertain his fellow Senators with other friends, and Senator Beidleman last evening entertained not only his fellow lawmakers, but also the members of the Legislative Correspondents' Association, heads of departments, members of the Governor's Cabinet and a few other friends in political life. There were more than a hundred who took the trip as the Senator's guests. In the dining room of the club was spread a typical Pennsylvania supper of chicken and waffles. During the feast an orchestra played and there was much singing, or what passed for singing, by everybody. When the request of "Gentlemen, be seated" was made Senator Beidleman announced that the orators who had primed themselves for the occasion looked disappointed, but it was just as well, for when the banquet was over everybody was "too full for utterance," albeit it was a "dry" banquet. The party returned to the Capitol by 8:30 and their trip back was marked by songs of more or less vociferousness.

Guests at Griffin-Ellenberger Wedding
Mr. and Mrs. C. Landis Rusy, of West Philadelphia, arrived here yesterday to attend the Griffin-Ellenberger wedding which takes place this evening.

FEW RULES FOR NATIONAL FOREST SUMMER HOMES

The Secretary of Agriculture Promulgates Regulations for the Administering of the New Land-Leasing Law of the United States

Washington, D. C., May 12.—The secretary of agriculture has promulgated a set of regulations for administering the new law which provides that national forest land may be leased for summer home sites and other recreational purposes in tracts of five acres or less for periods not to exceed thirty years. This law supplements the revocable permit system under which recreational use of the forests already had developed considerably. Many users have been unwilling to make substantial improvements because of the uncertainty of tenure involved in the old form of permit, which, however, is still expected to meet the requirements of persons who are not likely to occupy the land for more than a few years, or to make elaborate improvements. The primary object of the "term permits," as the leases are called, is not to obtain revenue but to promote the use of national forest land for recreational purposes, say the regulations. At the same time, since permittees receive special benefits, it is regarded as only fair that they should reimburse the government for the expenditure incurred in administering the forests. The rates range from $5 a year up, in accordance with the location of the land, the demand for it, and the use to which it will be put. The district foresters are authorized to grant permits to applicants who intend to make improvements costing less than $1,000 and to use the land for a period not longer than fifteen years. All other permits will be approved by the forester at Washington. Applications must be filed with the supervisor of the forest affected, designating the location of the land desired, the use to be made of it, and the approximate cost of contemplated improvements. Examination and survey of the land will be made by the forest service free of charge. An application for a hotel or summer resort site must be accompanied by plans and specifications of proposed structures and a statement as to their probable cost. The law stipulates five acres as the maximum, and it is believed that much less than this will suffice for most persons, but permittees will not be placed close together except when it is necessary by heavy demand for land in a particular locality. Forest officers are instructed to prevent monopolistic control of desirable locations by individuals or groups and no permits will be given for lands which are subject to entry under the homestead law, nor for lands which will be needed for public or quasi-public purposes. Where provision for the needs of recreation users calls for such a course, the forest service reserves public camping or outing grounds, open without charge to all who desire to make use of them. The regulations provide among other things that permittees shall comply with State laws and the rules of the department of agriculture; that premises be kept neat and sanitary; that all reasonable precautions be taken to prevent forest fires, and that in the case of a hotel or resort the permittee shall conduct his business in a legal and orderly manner.

ALIVE IN A RUNAWAY DIVE

Man, Horse and Buggy Are Seen Plunging Over Precipice
Shenandoah, May 12.—While Morris Robin, a merchant, was driving in Brownsville, a suburb, yesterday, his spirited horse took fright from barking dogs and ran away. After going half a mile, the horse plunged down a 100-foot embankment, landing with Robin under the caped buggy. Sheriff Ditchey, of this place, driving along the lower road, saw the awful plunge, jumped from his buggy and summoning assistance, pulled Robin from under the buggy unconscious, just before the crazed animal kicked the wagon to pieces and would have kicked Robin to death. Robin, who was sprained with difficulty, afterwards was revived back and terrible lacerations, but may recover.

BOTH WERE STRONG.

But the Price Had a Shade the Better of the Flavoring.

"I don't kick at having to pay good prices," an irate patron of high priced restaurants was saying yesterday, "but I ask you, isn't $1.50 for garlic rather strong? As for me, the recollection almost makes me weep."

"I was giving a dinner for six last night, and as a part of the dinner I ordered two racks of lamb. The price on the carte du jour was $8 a rack. That's pretty high, but these are high times. I have a great opinion as to the merits of a dash of garlic in cooking, so to the waiter who took my order I suggested that the dish on which the lamb was to be served should be rubbed with garlic, as one frequently does in making a salad."

"When the bill came the item for the racks of lamb was not $16, but $17.50. The waiter could not explain the increase. I called for the head waiter. He went to the checker and came back.

"The rack of lamb plain would have been $16," he explained. "The extra $1.50 was for the garlic."

"One cent would have covered the cost of the garlic, and another cent would have covered labor and all overhead charges. I figure that the profit to the house on that garlic was 7500 per cent."—New York Times.

"What's the charge?"
"Outrageous and outrageous violation of the speed laws."—Judge.
