the foresight to heed the warnings that had been issued, and now that the threats of the Germans were carried out the picture becomes of great interest because many of those who have been reported dead or missing can be seen going aboard the ship. The picture was made with the consent of the Cunard Line Steamship Company. A bill of very good vaudeville is being offered at the Colonial to-day. Tonight will bring the regular weekly country store. Adv.

Victoria Theatre That the Victoria is fast coming into its own as the most popular motion picture theatre is being demonstrated by the large crowds that are attending for the past few weeks. To-day we present for the first time in this city the screaming Keystone comedy entitled, "Gussie Rivals Jonah." This great laugh-provoking comedy is in two parts and features Sidney Chaplin, brother of the famous comedian, Charlie Chaplin. "The Kite," a strong two-part K. B. production, and "The Movie Fans" round out an exceptionally attractive bill. To-morrow we present "The High Hand," in which that popular screen favorite, Carlyle Blackwell, plays the stellar role. Adv.

Edith Taliaferro at the Regent In the Paramount production of "Young Romance," presented by Jesse L. Lasky at the Regent theatre to-day and to-morrow, there is a dual interest. Edith Taliaferro, whose wonderful work in "Polly of the Circus" made her an international star, plays the principal role in the successful play by William C. DeMille. Her ability is well known to Harrisburgers, and supported as she is by an able company of stars, nothing but success has ever come of "Young Romance." But Edith Taliaferro is not the only person in the play who interests Harrisburgers. The other star is Mrs. Lewis McCord, widow of the late vaudeville actor, whose home was in this city, and brother-in-law of the late George Wanbaugh, who was one of the best-known newspapermen in this city. Mr. McCord's real name was Landis Wanbaugh, but when he went on the stage he assumed the name under which his widow now travels. When Mr. and Mrs. McCord appeared here in a vaudeville house they presented a sketch, "Welly Jones' Scoop," adapted from a newspaper story written by Wellington G. Jones, a local newspaperman, and printed in the Harrisburg papers as a news item, telling of the recovery of a sum of money lost by an express company. Adv.

15,000 ASK FOR CLEMENCY Final Plea for Frank to Go Before Prison Commission on June 7 Atlanta, Ga., May 12.—With the death rate for Leo M. Frank definitely fixed for June 22, attorneys for the condemned man are preparing for the final plea to be made before the State Prison Commission and the Governor for a commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment. Goodloe H. Yancey, secretary of the State Prison Commission, stated that the appeal in all probability would take its regular course and come before the board at the next scheduled meeting, the week of June 7. Fifteen thousand petitions for clemency for Frank were brought to the Capitol yesterday to be delivered to Governor Slaton by Miss Eleanor Post, a writer on a Cincinnati paper.

Department of Justice Will Take New Haven Case to Supreme Court Washington, May 12.—Plans were laid yesterday at the Department of Justice to test in the Supreme Court whether directors of the New Haven railroad, who testified before the Interstate Commerce Commission, gained immunity under the Sherman anti-trust law. William Skinner and J. S. Elton, indicted in New York, have had their pleas of immunity sustained by the Federal Court in New York. Attorney General Gregory, Solicitor General Davis and R. L. Batts, special assistant in the New Haven case, discussed the cases at a conference yesterday and a writ of error will be asked from the Supreme Court of the United States.

Canal Strike Ended Boatmen Going Back to Work Without Getting Pay Increase Mauch Chunk, Pa., May 12.—The strike of the Lehigh Canal boatmen is at an end, and the men are going back to work without receiving the increase, ten cents per ton, which they demanded. Many of the men and their families lived in the boats, and as the company was about to sink the boats to prevent them from dying out, they decided to go to work.
