NOTE OF U. S. TO GERMANY OUT-TO-DAY

tees that attacks on merchantmen carrying non-combatants shall end and for reparation for violations of American rights in the war zone.

Few changes are believed to have been made in the document, the main principles as outlined to the Cabinet on Tuesday being maintained. While couched in friendly terms, it is firm.

It does not say what steps will be taken or what course will be pursued in the event of an unfavorable reply but indicated that the United States will spare no pains either by diplomatic representations or otherwise to obtain an acquiescence in its position.

Diplomatists Are Interested The text of the note was eagerly awaited by official Washington. The unofficial outlines published to-day increased the anxiety to learn the exact phraseology of the document. Diplomatists were especially interested in the text which they were prepared to cable to their governments as a matter of information as soon as copies could be obtained.

It is known positively that the United States government has had no conversations either in Washington or in the foreign capitals with other governments concerning the note or the course that will be pursued should Germany refuse to comply.

In some quarters friendly to Germany, the impression prevailed that the Berlin government would accede to the American demands and state its expectation that the United States would endeavor to secure the unrestricted passage of foodstuffs and conditional contraband consigned to the civilian population of Germany.

When the note is finally dispatched to Ambassador Gerard a copy of it will be delivered here to the German embassy. It will be transmitted via Rome and Vienna and in all likelihood may not be presented to the German Foreign office before late to-morrow because of the time that would be required for deciphering it by the American embassy staff in Berlin.

Although no mention is understood to be made as to the time when a reply is expected from the Imperial government the belief here is that the German Foreign office, realizing the state of feeling in the United States, will answer promptly.

Confidence in the President Officials who have seen the note made it clear to-day that it makes no specific demand for financial reparation for the loss of American lives but asks reparation in general terms and avoiding any impression that the loss of Americans on the Lusitania could be atoned by the mere payment of cash indemnities.

Although nearly a week has passed since the sinking of the Lusitania messages regarding the disaster continued to arrive at the White House to-day from all parts of the world. Practically all of them expressed confidence in the President.

Statement by German Embassy The German embassy issued this statement: "The German embassy stated to-day that no statement or intimation had been given by the embassy or any official of the embassy concerning what response would be made to the American note regarding the Lusitania."

"This was brought out by statements appearing in the press this morning to the effect that officials of the German embassy have outlined the position of the German government towards the American note regarding the sinking of the Lusitania and have declared that the reply would be a partial but firm refusal to cease submarine warfare against belligerent merchantships."

"It was pointed out that the German embassy officials are ignorant of the terms of the American note; that it had received no instructions whatsoever from its government regarding the note, and finally it was declared that no official connected with the embassy had expressed any opinion on the subject at all."

Hog's Bite Causes Farmer's Death Warren, Pa., May 13.—A bite on the hand by a hog caused the death here Tuesday night of Erick B. Erickson, 41 years old. Erickson, who owns a farm at Torpedo, was feeding hogs three weeks ago. One bit him on the right hand. He paid little attention to the bite. Blood poison developed, which caused death. WAR PERILS DO NOT DAUNT NEW STEAMSHIP IN RUSSIAN SERVICE

THE CZARITZA In future marine annals there will be a select little fleet of passenger steamships that were hardy enough to make their maiden voyages in the dangerous conditions of war time, and not least among these will be the new vessel of the Russian-American line, the Czaritza, which is expected to arrive in New York in time to start the return half of her maiden voyage on May 22. Better than her English sisters in this fleet, who have only to clear the danger zone about England to get clean away on voyages, the Czaritza begins hers from Archangel and for the first week almost will be fraught with possibilities not always pleasant. The Czaritza is the latest addition to the Russian-American line's fleet, which now comprises five fast twin screw vessels that maintain a regular fortnightly service between New York and Russia.
