Harrisburg Chosen for Next Year's Meeting—Penrose Responds to Address of Welcome

Berwick, Pa., May 19.—Senator Penrose responded yesterday to the address of welcome of Clark Dickson at the opening of the State camp of the Patriotic Order of Americans. He spoke particularly to the women, who compose this twin branch of the P. O. of A., declaring the great work of building up America to be shared equally by them.

At yesterday afternoon's session Harrisburg was chosen as the place of next year's convention. The statistical report showed a membership of 18,000 in Pennsylvania. The order is especially strong in Philadelphia, which is represented by 50 delegates.

Officers for next year were nominated as follows: State president, Ella

Long, Portage; assistant State president, Harry Schull, Lansdale; State vice president, Abner Strausser, Altoona; assistant State vice president, Milton Delp, Philadelphia; State conductor, Clara Bergman, Ashland; assistant State conductor, John Nugent, Philadelphia; Gilbert Hamilton, Philadelphia; William R. Rodering, York; State secretary, George W. Schaffer, Reading; State treasurer, Margaret Neidig, Sellersville; State guard, Theresa Pierson; State sentinel, Cora Bostian, Milton; Letitia Scholl, Lansdale; Lottie Miller, Anville; Minnie Dressler, Reading; Wilhelmina Reifsnnyder, Philadelphia; Mary Preston, Berwick; State camp trustee, Sara Saek, Philadelphia.

A trip was made to the P. O. S. of A. orphanage at Millinville and through the Berwick steel plant. Senator Penrose accompanied the delegates on the tour.

WILLIAM GILLETTE, WHO IS TO APPEAR HERE TO-NIGHT

William Gillette's appearance in Charles Frohman's "tri-star" revival of "Diplomacy," in association with Blanche Bates and Marie Doro, marks his return to the stage after an absence of many seasons. It was at first supposed he had permanently retired to private life, but Mr. Frohman's persuasion has altered his decision and he will play Beauclere to the Countess Zieka of Blanche Bates and the Dora of Marie Doro. "Diplomacy" is to be seen at the Majestic this evening. Mr. Gillette's last appearance on the American stage were in 1910, when he was seen in revivals of his older successes, "Sherlock Holmes," "The Private Secretary" and "Secret Service."

May Not Pass the Hat

Park Commissioner Taylor to-day declared war on baseball teams that, reports say, pass the hat during games on the island playground and in that way raise money to pay expenses. Spectators are not obliged to contribute; the playgrounds are public and ball players are without authority to pass the hat, so Mr. Taylor said.

SENATE RETURNS NAMES AS GOVERNOR REQUESTS

The Senate last night acceded to the request from Governor Brumbaugh that it send back to him the appointments made during the recess by Governor Tener, in order that the Governor might look them over and see whether they were just what he required in the way of helps for his administration.

Following this action of the Governor, the Senate took up all of the appointments he had sent in up to that time and confirmed them. When Governor Brumbaugh first recalled the appointments of the members of the Public Service Commission there were some Senators who were disposed to resent his action and intimated that they would send the names back to the Governor if it suited them, and if it didn't they wouldn't. Then, when the Governor withdrew all of the names sent in by Tener, the Senate began to sit up and wonder "where it was at."

It finally came to the conclusion that the Governor had the whip-hand of the argument, and last night when the Senate met, Senator Crow, chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations, offered the following as coming from that committee:

"Whereas, on April 15, 1915, Governor Brumbaugh presented a communication to the Senate, recalling the nominations for members of the Public Service Commission made by his predecessor, Governor Tener, on January 5, 1915, and

"Whereas, on May 17, 1915, Governor Brumbaugh presented another communication to the Senate, recalling all the other nominations made by Governor Tener on January 5, 1915, which had not been acted upon by the Senate, therefore,

"Not abating the rights or prerogatives of the Senate in the premises, but believing it to be the sense of the Senate that the return of these nominations would effect a closer and more harmonious relation between the Chief Executive and the officers who will fill said positions, the Committee on Executive Nominations recommends that all of said nominations be returned to his excellency as he has requested, out of courtesy to the Governor's wishes, and submits and recommends the following resolution for the approval of the Senate:

"Resolved, That the chief clerk of the Senate be directed to return to Governor Brumbaugh the nominations herein referred to."

There was no discussion of the resolution and it was passed by a unanimous vote. The Senate at once went into executive session and confirmed all of the nominations Governor Brumbaugh had sent in up to that time, including those of State Health Commissioner Dixon, Superintendent of State Police Grooms, the new board of moving picture censors, the new brigadier general of the National Guard and various minor appointments. It was intimated last night that all of the appointments of a minor character, such as membership on boards and commissions, will again be sent in by Governor Brumbaugh in order that the credit for the appointments will go to him.

CIVIL SERVICE IS KILLED IN HOUSE

Goes Down For the Lack of Six Votes, Before an Eleventh Hour Attack

WOMEN AT POLLS WILL BE BARRED

Lower Branch Defeats Measure Designed to Permit Them to Act as Watchers Next November—Bill to Let Mayors Succeed Themselves

An eleventh hour rally of its opponents defeated the Walton civil service bill, affecting Harrisburg and other third class cities, in the House of Representatives last night. The bill lacked but six votes of passing, the vote being 98 for and 97 against, 104 being necessary for passage. The bill, after having passed both branches of the General Assembly and being sent to the Governor, had been recalled for the purpose of amendments and finally was knocked out.

The Catlin Senate bill permitting mayors of third class cities to succeed themselves was passed in the House late yesterday afternoon. There were but eleven votes against it.

A blow was given to the cause of woman suffrage when the Vore bill to allow women watchers at the polls in November was defeated by 88 to 99. Representative Stern, of Philadelphia, raised the point of order that the bill was unconstitutional in that it permitted watchers who are not qualified electors to be at the polls. The Speaker referred the question to the House and the point of order was defeated. Afterward the bill was voted down, however. A motion to reconsider was made by Representative Aaron, of Philadelphia, but it was voted down. This killed the bill, as it cannot be revived again.

The bill increasing the salaries of the heads of the State Police Department was defeated, as was another bill, pending to make a requirement for membership on the force one year's residence in the State, instead of as present requirement of service in the United States army. The Buckman bills, designed for the protection of bull frogs and tadpoles, were dropped from the calendar by almost unanimous consent.

The Senate bill providing that third class city tax collectors shall collect all taxes in certain classifications as to population was dropped from the calendar. The House passed the Senate bill amending the party government act so that State committees shall elect the National committee. An effort to reconsider the defeated constitutional convention bill was defeated. The Senate bill giving eminent domain to owners of mines and quarries for trails was dropped from the calendar. MRS. ROESSING CALLS 99 REPRESENTATIVES "UNFAIR"

Mrs. Frank M. Roessing, president of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association, last night made the following comment on the defeat of the women watchers bill:

"The House of Representatives, by its defeat of the women watchers bill, has given Pennsylvania the dubious distinction of being the only Commonwealth in this country to refuse to pass such a bill when the women asked for its protection to assure a fair vote on the suffrage amendment at the polls. All other States where the question of woman suffrage has been referred to the voters have granted the women this assurance of fair play without quibble or delay. This was exemplified in the neighboring States of New York and New Jersey when the Legislatures of both these States passed such bills as the members of the Pennsylvania House rejected last night.

"We recognize, however, that this is the action of only a few men and that the thousands of men voters whom these legislators profess to represent, will show their love of fair play by overwhelming a vote on election day that a great victory will be accomplished.

"Taken all in all, I feel that the action of the House in defeating our bill is a good omen. It tends to indicate that the interests who naturally oppose woman suffrage are so fearful that a majority of the voters will give the women of Pennsylvania the ballot this year that they have taken this method to make victory as difficult as possible.

"The defeat of the bill merely means that our fight for fair play has begun. We shall appeal from this unfair treatment at the hands of ninety-nine legislators to the thousands of voters of Pennsylvania for justice."

SENATE IN EARLY HOURS MAKES MERRY WITH SONG

The usually staid and dignified Senate gave itself up to fun and frolic for an hour last night and early this morning. During that time all dignity was won to the winds and bill prevailed. It was during a recess and several of the page boys, near the clerks' desk, began to sing. They sang well, too, and the refrain was taken up by several Senators nearby, and in a short time quite a glee club had been formed. They sang all of the popular songs. The crowd increased and the glee club became a chorus, with about a hundred members in it, and the way they sang was enough to make the electrolators rattle.

There were numerous solos, the Rev. Thomas W. Davis, the chaplain, of Philadelphia, singing "The River Shannon" and other songs in a clear baritone voice. There was a duet by Senator Crow, with a silver-toned tenor, and Senator McNichol with a rich Milesian bass. Between the singing there were remarks from Senator Kline who conducted the revel, and finally Colonel Davies, of Coaldale, a "coal baron," was made the presiding officer and frequently interrupted when he essayed to talk.

When Senator Kline left the chair he called on George J. Brennan, the live wire newspaper man from Philadelphia,

$6,000,000 TO REPAIR ROADS

None of This Can Be Used For New Construction, Says Cunningham

State Highway Commissioner Cunningham told a delegation from Lancaster county yesterday that it had been definitely decided that the amount of money available for maintenance and repair of State highways during the next two years will be $6,000,000. He said this will make it impossible for the State to do any new construction work as $3,000,000 a year will be barely sufficient to maintain the ten thousand miles of highways comprising the Sproul system.

The Lancaster delegation sought to have the road from Lancaster to Ephrata reconstructed. The delegation was headed by Senators Geberich and Homsher, and by Representatives Hoffman, Rhoads and Hishman. Others in the delegation were G. M. Wechter, C. F. Steiner and H. E. Romig, all of Akron, and Charles M. Reiling, chairman of the Good Roads Committee of the Lancaster Automobile Club, and representing also the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce.

The plant will employ 400 men, and it is believed here that it is to be utilized in taking care of contracts recently secured from the European war zone.

SCENE AT GREAT PARADE REVIEWED BY THE PRESIDENT

SAILORS MARCHING UP BROADWAY AT SIXTY FIRST STREET

Here is a general scene of the great parade in New York which was reviewed by President Wilson. One of the most striking features of the day was the enthusiastic demonstrations of approval which the President encountered. Whether in the reviewing stand, where he stood bareheaded with the rain dripping upon his thinning hair, or during his passing through the streets, wherever he was seen he became the centre of warm ovation from friends and strangers alike. Always he smiled his pleasure, for the demonstration proved not only the strength of our fighting ships. It proved the unanimity of the people in support of their chosen Executive's stand in defence of the same principles for which an infant American navy fought successfully more than a century ago.
