MISS JANE ADDAMS PREDICTS U. S. WILL NOT ENTER WAR

Berlin, Via London, May 21.—Miss Jane Addams has arrived in this city to present to the Foreign Office resolutions adopted at the women's peace conference held recently at The Hague. She expects to have a conference with Foreign Minister Gagov before Sunday and possibly to see Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg as well. She lunched yesterday with United States Ambassador Gerard, who, it is understood, will assist her in an unofficial capacity. Miss Addams will go next to Vienna and then to Bern and Paris upon the same mission. She expressed the belief to-day that there need be no fear of serious eventualities between the United States and Germany. "President Wilson and Secretary Bryan both are firmly opposed to war," she said. "It seems as though the whole world has gone crazy. There must be some little spot left where reason will rule." While under normal conditions unofficial visits of women to foreign governments in the interests of peace not only are fruitless, but are considered foolish, the present plan, Miss Addams declared, is meeting with a reasonable measure of success.

CHANGE CHAPEL SESSIONS

One Exercise Held Daily for Students at Central High—Seniors to Have Class Day

A new system in conducting chapel exercises at Central High school was started Wednesday, when, instead of holding the twice weekly exercises for both sessions, the entire student body turned out in the auditorium between 12.30 and 12.45 o'clock. The only objection to the new plan was that a few of the students claimed that it made them late for dinner. Senior class day will be held this year for the first time since 1910 in the school auditorium some time between June 11 and commencement day. In the meantime committees will be appointed to make arrangements for the trip to West Point and Washington, D. C., as well as select the class motto. Governor Brumbaugh has been selected to deliver the baccalaureate sermon and the Rev. Henry W. A. Hanson, pastor of the Messiah Lutheran church, chosen as class historian. Miss Pauline Hauck and David Burns as class prophets and Charles Glessner a class poet. Characters for the Senior play have been picked by Miss Swartz and final arrangements have been completed. The play will be held in Chestnut street auditorium June 11. The following Seniors will take leading parts in the play:

AMERICAN PHYSICIANS ARE EAGER TO SERVE AUSTRIA

Washington, May 21.—Unverified press reports from Vienna that Austria-Hungary was in dire need of army surgeons and would pay six or seven dollars a day have brought a flood of letters to the Austro-Hungarian embassy from physicians all over the United States, offering their services. Most of the letters carefully inquired as to the honorarium, but others merely indicate a willingness to depart at once if the offer of transportation and expenses is included. As the embassy officials have had no official news of the subject, they are telling the applicants to apply to Vienna.

Jap Emperor Hopes for Harmony

Tokio, May 21.—Emperor Yoshihito, who formally opened the Diet yesterday, in the presence of princes and ambassadors, expressed the hope that deliberation would be conducted in a spirit of harmony that would assist in bringing about the passage of needed laws. There are indications that some opposition will develop to the government's Chinese policy.

RAISE DOUBTS OF SUICIDE

Autopsy of Young Beauty May Support Another Theory

Allentown, May 21.—The funeral of pretty Margaret Matthewson, 22 years old, found dead, supposedly a suicide, last Sunday, was halted by an order from the Coroner and District Attorney for an autopsy. She was found dead at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Berryman, in South Allentown, and a bottle of poison was discovered in the orchard. After the body had been removed to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Matthewson, North Catawauqua, Dr. John Schneller, the family physician, declared he could not discover any trace of poison and made such hints at foul play that her parents reported to the authorities. Coroner Goheen has empaneled a jury which will hear evidence in the Court House this evening. It is said if the testimony should support the suspicions of the authorities there will be sensational developments.

MANY ATTEND TECH OPENING

Building Filled With Spectators to See Students at Work

One of the most largely attended receptions ever given by the students of Technical High school took place last night, when the ninth annual opening was held, there being hundreds of people in attendance. Every shop and laboratory was in full swing and as the students applied themselves to their tasks large processions of spectators stood by and watched them. A number of students who were not at work over the bench and forge made themselves useful as guides. As the curious body of spectators entered the building the first attraction to greet them was a concert, given in the main auditorium by the Tech orchestra under the direction of G. W. Undergrove and the leadership of David Heffelfinger. Among the interested observers present was Prof. Howard G. Dibble, the new principal of Central High school.

BIRD'S OWN BURGLAR ALARM

Flicker, Pecking Insects, Starts Music It Likes

York, Pa., May 21.—A mischievous flicker has taken a fancy to sounding the burglar alarm over the First National bank in Wrightsville. The first few times the bird indulged its odd whim the false alarm attracted a stir in the neighborhood. It is suggested that an insect on the surface of the bright gong may have been pecked up by the strong-beaked bird, and thus its knowledge of the musical qualities of the bell was acquired. The flicker being of the woodpecker family, its rapid tattoo exactly imitates the manner in which the gong would be sounded by the electric tapper.

Clara Kimball Young at the Regent Theatre To-day Only

Clara Kimball Young, in the role of heroine, has a wonderful opportunity to display her ability as an emotional actress in "Hearts in Exile," by Owen Davis from the novel by John Oxenham. Shubert feature in five reels. Among the wonderful scenes in this thrilling play are the chase of the cowboys across a Siberian ice field—the plunge of a horseman into a fissure in the frozen river. But, after all, these are incidents. The great heart interest of the play centers about the tragic figure of a woman lawfully wedded to two men and pursued by an agent of the Russian police. To-morrow a special Saturday show. Gen. M. Cohan presents "Stop Thief," a comedy-drama in five reels. Adv.
