They brought rather interesting news concerning the count. It appears that he and the baron had quarreled, and at the time of my friends' departure from Vienna it was pretty generally understood that there would be a duel. "I never liked the baron," I said, with a grim smile that could not have been misinterpreted, "but I hope to heavens he isn't killed."

FINGER VERDICT, $10,043

Two, and a Thumb, Yield Richest Return on Record. Pottsville, Pa., May 21.—For the loss of two fingers and a thumb, Michael Wloski, an employe of the Eastern Steel Company, was awarded $10,043.93 by a jury here yesterday. This is one of the largest verdicts ever rendered in the local courts for an injury not attended by fatal results.

seaport. Colingraft Titus elected to accompany his sister the entire length of the journey, with the faithful Blake and Rosemary.

Billy Smith was to meet us a few miles outside the town for which we were bound, with a word of warning if there was anything sinister in the wind. I heard afterward from Poopenyke that the departure of the countess and Rosemary from the castle in the gray, forlorn dawn of that historic 14th was attended by a demonstration of grief on the part of the four Schmicks that was far beyond his powers of description, and he possesses a wonderful ability to describe lachrymose situations, rather running to that style of incident, I may say. The elder Schmicks wailed and booohooed and proclaimed to the topmost turrets that the sun would never shine again for either of them, and to prove that she was quite in earnest about the matter Gretel fell off the dock into the river and was nearly drowned before Jasper junior could dive in and get her. Their sons, both of whom cherished amorous feelings for Blake, sighed so prodigiously all the way down the river that the boat rocked. Incidentally during the excitement Jinko, who was to remain behind and journey westward later on with Mrs. Titus and Jasper junior, succeeded after weeks of vain endeavor in smartly nipping the calf of Hawkes' leg, a feat of which he no doubt was proud, but which sentenced my impressive butler to an everlasting dread of hydrophobia and a temporary limp.

LOOK FOR A YORK SYNOD

Lutherans See Abundant Material With 20,000 Members. York, Pa., May 21.—The formation of a York county synod of the Lutheran Church will be taken under consideration by a committee appointed at the York county conference of the West Pennsylvania Synod, which came to a close yesterday at Holtzman.

The suggestion was made by the Rev. Dr. F. G. Gotwald, of York, secretary of the Board of Education of the Lutheran Church, who stated that there are 20,000 communicants, 80 churches and 40 pastors within the proposed bounds, and that these could be more effectively served by the more direct supervision possible under a close organization.

The committee appointed includes Dr. Gotwald, the Rev. Dr. George W. Ender, the Rev. G. A. Getty, the Rev. Frederick S. Geesey, P. A. Elssesser, George E. Neff and Edward Heib.

Wild Cat Falls Inn Opened

Marietta, May 21.—The Wild Cat Falls Inn was formally opened yesterday under new management, Anthony L. Resch, of this place, being the proprietor. The improvements to the resort and its surroundings and other things contemplated will make it one of the best in the State for an outing. The thirteenth annual club dinner will be served next Friday at the club house, and hundreds of men from various States are invited. Planked salmon will be served.

Manheim Rector Resigns

Marietta, May 21.—The Rev. Dr. A. Blose, rector of St. Paul's church, Manheim, has resigned to accept a call to Christ church, Condensport, Potter county. During his pastorate at Manheim the congregation and Sunday school were increased in membership. He delivered many special addresses in the county also.

Sponge Cake Secrets

The beauty of sponge cake lies largely in their lightness, and this is attained with eggs beaten to the utmost degree of frothiness. But another characteristic appeals to us and that is the various flavors that may be given to the simple mixture. There are lady fingers, Savoy's, jelly, chocolate and fruit rolls, as well as layer, loaf and sunshine cakes to be made over the one simple recipe.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

What is a reasonable price to pay for salt? Is coarse salt safe to use for cooking? Why is some salt more salty than other kinds? How can it be kept from caking in the cellars?—Vexed. Reply.—If by coarse salt you mean crushed rock salt such as it is used for freezing purposes, it is not fit for food. The bag salt that sells at about five cents a two-pound sack is sufficiently refined for cooking. The very fine salt in fancy boxes is not any more pure than cheaper grades, but it is of beautiful whiteness and pleases particular diners. Salt does lose its savor; we have good authority for that. Sometimes this is from moisture, often it is from being heated. I have seen salt kept in the warming oven where it becomes hot and then cold and this soon makes it good for nothing. Try various brands until you are suited, but remember salt acts directly upon the kidneys and it must be pure to wholesome.

Sponge Cake No. 1

Separate and beat six eggs. Sift three cups of flour with two and a half cups of powdered sugar. Measure one cup of water and add flavoring to it. Mix all this together quickly and bake without jarring. Rose water, almond extract, orange

Do you knead baking powder bread? Mine is not light and is yellow.—Betty.

Reply.—Mix and bake as though for baking powder biscuits; you must surely be using a poor grade of baking powder or a dark colored flour. Baking powder bread should be white, light and tender. To-morrow—Use of Chasing Dish.
