

NEWS OF STEELTON

PRETTY WEDDING WAS HELD AT THE NEY APARTMENTS

Miss Marie M. Ney Became the Bride of Levi H. Kapp at a Midnight Service at Which the Rev. W. B. Smith Officiated

A midnight wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Ney, 190 North Front street, Saturday night, when Miss Marie M. Ney, their daughter, was married to Levi H. Kapp, formerly of Palmyra. The Rev. William B. Smith, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, officiated, and the ceremony was only witnessed by members of the two families and several personal friends of the bride.

At its conclusion a reception was held in the Ney apartments which was attended by twenty persons. This was followed by the serving of luncheon. The bride was attired in white voile and carried a bouquet of white roses. The couple was unattended. Both the contracting parties are well known in the borough and have hosts of friends. The groom is employed in the electric power plant of the Pennsylvania Steel Company. The color scheme of the rooms was of white, with many white carnations and white roses. Mr. and Mrs. Kapp will reside in their newly-furnished rooms in the Ney apartments, and as soon as a leave of absence can be secured, will take a wedding trip.

HELD SUCCESSFUL CARNIVAL

Nurse Fund Will Be Augmented By the Proceeds

Despite the threatening weather and the slight rain, the street carnival, held by the local Civic Club on North Second street, and the steel company lawn, Saturday afternoon and evening, proved a great success and approximately $400 was realized for the benefit of the nurse fund. The grounds were crowded all evening, the two great attractions being the presence and playing of the Steelton band and the splendid exhibition given by the Croatian and Serbian Sokols.

The grounds were handsomely illuminated for the occasion by hundreds of incandescent electric lights, festooned along the streets and through the lawn. The entertainment provided for the children consisted of the May pole dances in the afternoon and a sliding board. In the evening the High school girls held a May pole dance accompanied by the Steelton band.

STEELTON NOTES

The local W. C. T. U. will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. J. B. Martin, 141 Lincoln street.

The Rev. A. K. Wier will deliver the annual address to the convention of the Woman's Missionary Society of the East Pennsylvania conference at the United Brethren church in Columbia Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The recently organized Otterbein Brotherhood of Centenary church will hold its first devotional meeting to-night at 8 o'clock in room 10 of the church building. Officers of the brotherhood will be elected and an address will be delivered by the Rev. L. A. Stahl.

Under the supervision of Contractor H. C. Wright, building operations for the erection of the extension to the Centenary U. B. church building in South Second street will be started either to-day or to-morrow.

PRAYER MEETINGS SHOW INCREASED ACTIVITIES

Many Endeavorers From This Section Are Expected to Attend C. E. Rally To-morrow Evening in Tabernacle—Sunday "Firemen's Day"

The report of the prayer meeting activities of the Hillis campaign, just made public for last week, shows a considerable improvement over that of previous weeks. One hundred and twenty-two meetings were held in the six days, which were attended by 1,013 persons, 666 of whom offered prayers. The boosted chorus, which did excellent work Saturday evening, will meet for rehearsal to-morrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

All Christian Endeavor societies intending to attend the C. E. rally in the tabernacle to-morrow evening are requested to meet in Centenary United Brethren church and march from there to the tabernacle in a body. Large audiences greeted the Rev. L. A. Stahl in Central Baptist church and Mrs. C. E. Hillis in Centenary U. B. church yesterday.

A feature of last night's service in the tabernacle was the singing of a song composed by a Steelton young man, Charles A. Pierce. The Rev. Mr. Hillis spoke on the atonement. "The story of the blood was all through the Bible, and if you take that story away you take away the very life of the Bible. Jesus shed his blood for the life of many. Our religion is a blood religion. If you are ever saved, it will be by the blood of Christ. Atonement makes us one with God. You are redeemed by the blood of Christ, but you are not saved until you accept Jesus Christ."

About 500 members of the borough's volunteer fire department are expected to attend next Sunday afternoon's meeting in the Hillis tabernacle to hear a special lecture by the evangelist.

The executive committee has had extensive improvements made to the building for the purpose of making the atmosphere inside more comfortable.

FELONIOUS ENTRY CHARGED

Kosta Yrdonoff Committed by Squire Dickinson

Kosta Yrdonoff was arraigned before Squire Dickinson Saturday evening charged with felonious entry and larceny and in default of bail was committed to jail for court. The charge was made by Kostoff Milon, who conducts a pool room at 443 Myers street, and who accused Yrdonoff with entering the pool room late Saturday night, breaking the cash register and taking the contents, which consisted of $92. Of this amount Constable Peter Day, who made the arrest, recovered $30 from a woodpile at the boarding house occupied by Yrdonoff.

PERSONAL

Harry Anderman, after spending the week-end with his parents, North Second street, returned to his home, Sunbury, this morning.

Mrs. Sarah Herman, Felton street, is visiting relatives at Red Lion.

Baccalaureate Sermon to Graduates. The graduating class of the local High school, numbering 47, was well represented at the First Reformed church yesterday morning when the Rev. C. A. Huyette, pastor, delivered the annual baccalaureate sermon. The Rev. Mr. Huyette used for his theme the story of Solomon, and his talk teemed with good advice for the boys and girls to follow in their future life. Miss Margaretta Wildman, of Harrisburg, rendered a soprano solo and special program was sung by the Reformed church choir.

FINE MOLLER PIPE ORGAN INSTALLED IN THE REGENT

Manager Magaro Announces He Will Soon Have An Opening Recital By A Prominent Musician For Market Street Motion Picture House

Continuing his policy of constantly adding to the attractions of his motion picture theatre, The Regent, 410 Market street, Peter Magaro, owner and manager, announced to-day that the $10,000 Moller pipe organ recently purchased from the manufacturers in Hagerstown, has been completely installed. Mr. Magaro is now planning a fine concert the date of which will soon be announced, on which occasion the organ will be used for the first time in a recital by an artist who will be especially engaged.

The Regent is the newest motion picture theatre in the city, having been in use only a few months since it was built. It is modern, artistic and comfortable in every detail and the addition of the organ, which is a part of the manager's originally announced plan, is intended to be the crowning touch to this beautiful theatre in the heart of the business district. The M. P. Moller Organ Company is an old established firm noted for the fine instruments it produces. The organ has been installed in the Regent and has 35 tones and the tone is pronounced wonderfully mellow and melodious. Two of the group of pipes are arranged, one at either side of the gallery in the front part of the building. These latter constitute the chimes and echo features of the organ.

The instrument will be played from a keyboard in the pit of the house, directly in front of the screen, by an artist of rare musical attainments who will be regularly employed by Mr. Magaro. His name will soon be announced.

From this keyboard also will be operated the unit orchestra consisting of a group of various kinds of musical instruments used in the motion picture screen. The orchestra will be so arranged that the various instruments can be played individually or collectively to produce effects to correspond with the action in the film plays. It is proposed at certain times during the regular programs in the theatre to have organ recitals of popular and classic music apart from the screen productions and at other times the organ music will be used to make the motion pictures the more effective.

The Regent is constantly maintaining the quality of its programs of pictures which from the first have been fine. The paramount program is used daily and in addition there are many Schubert productions thrown on the screen. The policy of daily introducing a famous stage star through the film medium has been most effectively used by Manager Magaro.

DR. CAROLYN GEISEL WILL ADDRESS WOMEN ON FRIDAY

Her Associate Speaker, With Flying Squadron of America, Will Be Dr. Ira Landrith, Educator and Former Moderator of Presbyterian Assembly

Of interest to women of church, civic and temperance societies of the city will be the meetings of the Flying Squadron of America on Friday at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. in the Grace M. E. church when Dr. Carolyn Geisel of the Battle Creek, Mich., Sanitarium and noted women of the country, is to make addresses, according to Mrs. M. Margery Steese, who is in charge of the effort of rallying the women of these societies to the meetings of this organization with speakers of national importance engaged in the nation-wide movement for a national prohibition amendment.

E. W. Weaver is chairman of the local executive committee arranging for the meetings and looks forward to capacity audiences to greet the Squadron which has now conducted three-day campaigns in over 200 leading cities of the country, making splendid progress in the fight to crystallize public sentiment for national prohibition with its eradication of the liquor traffic from American life.

With Dr. Geisel comes as associate speaker, Dr. Ira Landrith, a well-known educator and former moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly while the soloist will be Frederick Butler, of New York, who was formerly leading basso of the Alice Neilsen Opera Company. Mrs. Butler will be the pianist.

A graduate of the University of Michigan Dr. Geisel later took advanced courses of study at Petrograd, Russia, after which she did much research work at the Pasteur Institute in Paris. She also holds three American medical diplomas. Some years ago she took up the study of the scientific temperance phase of the liquor traffic, of the effect of alcohol on the human body, and in her forthcoming addresses she plans to tell of the ravages of rum on the human system from the viewpoint of the pathologist. Her topic will be "Alcohol and the Man Himself."

Dr. Landrith has been for years a leader of the International Y. M. C. A., and at the last convention of the organization was made president. He was one of the founders of the Tennessee Anti-Saloon League and has always been a leading official of the organization, being now a member of the executive committee. In association with Dr. Howard Grose he wrote at the Atlantic City convention, the prohibition campaign slogan of the great Christian Endeavor Movement, (of which he is one of international trustees), "A Saloonless Nation by 1920, The Three Hundredth Anniversary of Landing of the Pilgrims," the slogan which has since been adopted by almost every temperance organization in the country.

Those early impressions that the drug users had quit appear to have been too early. It is now feared that the worst is not yet known. Many cities report an astounding increase in the number of cases found by the police and hospitals. The evil was attacked none too soon.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

DIFFERENCES IN GRAPHITES

Information Especially Valuable to Motorists Who Doubt Superiority of Graphite Lubrication

The other day the writer was in a garage in town and happened to witness a demonstration of graphite as a lubricant for automobiles. It appeared so forcefully and he got such a new point of view about graphite that he thought motorists would appreciate knowing what he learned.

The man demonstrating is an expert on auto lubrication for the Joseph Dixon Crucible Company, of Jersey City, N. J.

First of all he explained the two different kinds of graphite—crystalline (flake) and amorphous or plain graphite. It was stated that the flake, no matter how microscopically divided, can never be anything but a flake. The amorphous breaks up into a fine powder. He then took some of the latter kind into the palm of his hand and began rubbing it with his finger. He noticed that it could not be rubbed off. That was due to its adhesiveness. As far as that, plain graphite proved very satisfactory, but to go a little farther, he wet the finger which he was rubbing and it could be noticed that it slid over the hand with difficulty, though the graphite still remained. Some one asked why, and he explained how the plain graphite had worn off the high spots and remained in the pores, giving the impression that it was all there. He repeated this process of wetting his finger and rubbing his palm several times and every time it became black after a slight contact with the graphite. This proved how easily the amorphous graphite would wear.

To show the superiority of crystalline he placed some of Dixon's Flake Motor
