ALFRED R. HOUCK IS BURIED IN LEBANON

Officials Attend Services In Neighboring City This Afternoon-Flow ers and Notes of Condolence

A number of State attaches asso-ciated with Alfred R. Houck, in the Department of Labor and Industry, in which Mr. Houck was chief clerk of the Bureau of Statistics, went to-day to Lebanon to attend the funeral of Mr. Houck, whose death occurred at his home there on Saturday.

Mr. Houck, whose death occurred at his home there on Saturday.

Governor Brumbaugh stopped in Lebauon on his way home from Philadelphia, by motor, and was at the house during the services. Among those who went from Harrisburg direct were John Price Jackson, Commissioner of Labor and Industry: Dr. John C. Price, chief medical inspector of the division of hygiene; William H. Horner and Wilson I. Fleming, of the Bureau of Statistics. Among Mr. Houck's other Harrisburg friends who attended the funeral from here were Senator E. E. Beidleman, Secretary W. Harry Baker, of the Senate; Frank A. Smith, Freeman C. Gerberich and George M. Harry. The Bureau of Statistics sent a large sheaf of five dozen American Beauty roses as a floral tribute.

The funeral was held at 2.30 o'clock from the home in Hathaway Park. Services were conducted by the Rev. J. Leonard Hynson, pastor of the Fourth Street Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Houck was an officer and member. Interment was made in Mt. Lebanon cemetery.

The body lay in state at his home from 12 o'clock noon to 2 p. m. The casket was surrounded by many magnificent floral tributes. It was one of the largest funerals in Lebanon in many years. Republican leaders from every ward of Lebanon and from every district in the county, who had been associated with Mr. Houck, who for years was the Republican leader here, attended the services.

Telegrams of condolence poured into Lebanon on Saturday and today to Henry Houck, Secretary of Internal Affairs of Pennsylvania, and father of the late Mr. Houck, and also to the members of the latter's family. Telegrams were received from United States Senator Boies Penrose, State Senators Edward H. Vare, James Mc. Nichol and many other prominent med

ARE POURING IN ON MAYOR

Royal Says He Intends to Enforce the Recently Prepared Rules of the Police Department Governing the Operation of Automobiles

Persons in the vicinity of Second nd Walnut streets on Saturday night witnessed several narrow escapes from lessness of drivers of automobiles, and in each instance it happened that the cars were in the jitney service. Fortu-nately nobody was injured, but a little girl who had attempted to cross the street unattended narrowly missed being run down; no warning being sounded by the driver of the auto. Witnesses said the pace was entirely too fast for that time of night at a crowded corner where four sets of trolley tracks come together.

In this connection Mayor Royal said the police are now handing to each jitney driver in the city a copy of the recently prepared rules of the Police Department governing the operation of

"I have been loath to enforce the

"I have been loath to enforce the laws with any severity against the jitney drivers," said Mayor Royal, "for the reason that when arrests of these reckless drivers are made there are always some people to raise the cry that I am acting in the interest of the street car company and against a means of transportation that is intended for the accommodation of the public. I'll grant that this service is an accommodation to the public, but the men who render this service should be made to observe the laws, and I propose to enforce the laws on any auto-car driver, no matter who he is, whether he is driving a jitney or a private car.

Wants the Rules Understood
"As for this enforcement of the law

"As for this enforcement of the law being in the interest of the street car company, that is mere rubbish, and hardly worth noticing except that it creates a wrong impression. I believe that when the card of rules I am sending out is understood by jitney and other drivers there will be general compliance, for I have instructed the officers to make arrests without fear or favor.

pliance, for I have instructed the of ficers to make arrests without fear or favor.

"I agree with a good many people that the running of jitneys has assumed a recklessness that must be stopped. In one day I had an experience twice with the same driver. He ran his car recklessly, passed a street car when it stopped to let passengers off and almost had a collision. When I had him before me he put up such a plausible plea that I let him go with a warning, but on the same evening he was again reported for reckless driving, and when I get through with that man he will know that he cannot disregard the law and defy the rules.

"It is not a pleasant thing to call these men to account, but in justice to people on the street who barely escape injury, in all fairness to the people who have rights on the thoroughfares, to say nothing of the fact that it is my sworn duty to enforce the law, I propose to put a stop to the reckless driving of the jitney busses. Ignorance of the law will not be taken as an excuse.

Receives Many Complaints

Receives Many Complaints "There are some people who they do not know the laws, but no they do not know the laws, but no man has a right to run a vehicle, the running of which is regulated by law until, he familiarizes himself with the law. A man was arrested the other day for a particularly atrocious violation of the traffic rules, and he made a plea that he did not know there were traffic rules. He found out.

traffic rules. He found out.

"My determination is not born of recent occurrences, but of a series that have been happening for some time, and I have been receiving so many complaints against reckless jitney driving that it is necessary now to put a stop to it once for all. Chief Hutchison will have the matter in charge and that is a guarantee that unless men obey the laws they will be arrested, and when they are arrested, and the evidence is sufficient, I will do the rest."
