

"The Thinkers of the Country Are the Tobacco Chewers" said one of the greatest thinkers this country ever produced.

Says the Carpenter: "Every time you see a good joint, it means some carpenter has put in some clear thought and followed it up with a steady, sure hand."

"It's when you have a ticklish job to do that you need a chew of PICNIC to whet brain and hand to a cutting edge without any dulling after effect."

You can take chew after chew of PICNIC and get all the uplift without that after effect of heavy, dark tobacco.

Only the mild mellow part of the leaf goes into this soft, convenient twist. That's the secret of its sweet, long-lasting flavor and its extraordinary mildness.

ANOTHER BRITISH WARSHIP IS SUNK IN DARDANELLES

London, May 27.—The British battleship Triumph has been torpedoed and sunk in the Dardanelles. A majority of the crew were saved. The announcement was made last evening by the Admiralty through the Official Press Bureau. Complete details are lacking.

The Admiralty's announcement follows: "While operating yesterday in support of the Australian and New Zealand troops on the Gallipoli Peninsula, H. M. S. Triumph, Captain Maurice Fitz-Maurice, was torpedoed by a submarine and sank shortly afterward. A majority of the officers and men are reported to have been saved, including the captain and commander."

The submarine which fired the torpedo was chased by destroyers and patrolling craft until dark. The Triumph is the fourth great British battleship to be lost in the bombardment of the Turkish forts at the Dardanelles. The French have lost one battleship, the Bouvet, which makes a total of five first class warships sent to the bottom since the attempt to clear the way to Constantinople was begun, in addition to the loss of at least three submarines, and the serious damage of several other battleships, cruisers, destroyers and transports.

Berlin, May 27 (Thursday).—A Constantinople dispatch to the "Tageblatt" says that the British battleship Triumph was sunk by a single torpedo and that she disappeared in seven minutes.

ITALIAN SOLDIERS, ON TO FRONT, SING NATIVE SONGS

Udine, Via Paris, May 26, 11.10 P. M.—The passage through Udine of Italian soldiers of various nationalities, most of them singing the songs of their native birth, tends to lighten the already great enthusiasm of the population. One cannot but note as these happy, singing soldiers pass the vast difference between them and the rigid, taciturn Austro-German soldiers.

Both the military and the civilians of Udine have joined in their welcome of Lieutenant General Count Cadorna, the Italian commander-in-chief, who by reason of his extreme vigor and despite his 64 years seems to imbue everybody with perfect faith in his leadership of the Italian forces. Much faith also is placed by the populace in Cadorna's chief assistant, General Perro, who is cold, calculating and mechanical in his military work, but is declared to be a great leader of men.

POPE BENEDICT ABHORS THE TERRIBLE WAR, NOW IN ITALY

Rome, May 26, Via Paris, May 27, 9.10 A. M.—"The hour which we are traversing is painful, but our prayers will go out more frequently and more fervently than ever to those who have in their hands the fate of nations," is a declaration made by Pope Benedict in a letter to Cardinal Vannutelli, published in the "Osservatore Romano," the Vatican organ. The pontiff recalls his first encyclical, in which he urged the belligerent nations to make peace, but points that his voice was unheeded and the war continued until the "terrible conflagration has extended to our beloved Italy."

EMMANUEL, HEAD OF ARMY, ISSUES EDICT TO SOLDIERS

Rome May 26, Via Paris, May 27, 8.15 A. M.—King Victor Emmanuel upon taking supreme command of the Italian army and navy issued the following order:

"Soldiers on land and sea: The solemn hour of the nation's claims has struck. Following the example of my grandfather, I take to-day supreme command of Italy's forces on land and sea with the assurance of victory, which your bravery, self-abnegation and discipline will obtain."

"The enemy you are preparing to fight is hardened to war and worthy of you. Favored by the nature of the ground and skillful works, he will resist tenaciously, but your unshaken ardor will surely vanquish him."

"Soldiers, to you has come the glory of unfurling Italy's colors on the sacred lands which nature has given as the frontiers of our country. To you has come the glory of finally accomplishing the work undertaken with so much heroism by our fathers."

R. R. JUNCTION OBJECT OF ATTACK BY AUSTRIAN SHIPS

Milan, May 26, Via Paris, May 27.—Destruction of the railroad junction evidently was the object of the bombardment of Ancona by an Austrian squadron which raided the Italian coast Monday, according to additional details which have been received here. The warships appeared off Ancona about midnight, accompanied by two aeroplanes, which flew over the city.

The bombardment began at 3 o'clock and continued two hours. Shells of all sizes were fired. The guns were trained not only upon the railroad yards, but upon the military hospital, the Bank of Italy and two barracks.

Slight damage to the railroad was caused by shell fire between Porto Recanati and Porto Civitanova. The Austrian warships retired from Ancona when an Italian fleet appeared.

Because of reports that the Austrian squadron had been signaled from an Ancona brewery, all Germans employed there were arrested as spies.

LITTLE HEROINE CRIPPLED FOR LIFE WHILE RELIEVING THIRSTY SOLDIERS

Relieving the grim picture of suffering and death in Gallia is the story of little Rosa Zenoch, eleven years old, sister of one of the Austrian soldiers defending her home town, who did not understand why the big guns spoke in such terrible tones, but did know that soldiers were thirsty and must have water. Disregarding her mother's instructions to go into the cellar and hide, Rosa ran to the well, filled a large earthen jug and carried it to her brother and his companions who were defending the town. She made several trips to the well and back again without misfortune overtaking her. Then a shrapnel shell burst, screaming behind her and she fell wounded. Lying in her little cot in the hospital, with her right leg amputated above the knee, Rosa often asks about the soldiers and why they fight with guns.
