steam and is being escorted. I am sending naval attaché to Liverpool to examine the ship, which it now appears was outward bound from Liverpool to Delaware breakwater when she was torpedoed.

White House Officials in Doubt
The message from Consul Frost said the ship had "struck a mine or torpedo," but gave no details.

As soon as the dispatches were received at the State Department they were forwarded to the White House and immediately placed before President Wilson. As they did not make it certain whether the steamer had been hit by a mine or a torpedo they left unanswered the principal point that the President and his advisers wanted made clear.

Vessel Probably Struck a Mine
E. H. Duff, counsel for the company owning the Nebraskan, communicated with the New York office to-day and later at the State Department, said the circumstances of the affair, particularly the damage to the bow of the Nebraskan, indicated to him that the vessel struck a mine. The steamship officials with whom he talked in New York, had the same view although they had very little information. He said that no steps so far had been taken with a view to protest or representations.

Vessel Due in Liverpool To-night
New York, May 27.—The American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, owners of the American steamer Nebraskan, damaged by a mine or torpedo off Fastnet last Tuesday, received cable advices to-day, it was announced, stating that the Nebraskan had passed the Queenstown at a speed of eight knots and was due to reach Liverpool to-night. A British admiralty boat, the advices said, was conveying the Nebraskan. Officers and crew of the steamer presumably were at their posts aboard.

The message was not from Captain Green, a representative of the line said, but was received from the line's British connections. No word has been reached from Captain Green since his brief message yesterday, saying the Nebraskan had either hit a mine or been struck by a torpedo. It was thought that Captain Green would cable fuller details on his arrival at Liverpool.

Whether it was a mine or torpedo that disabled the Nebraskan was not disclosed in advices received here to-day. It was said that this point would not be determined till the vessel had been placed in dry dock at Liverpool, if then. The line's officials here, it was stated, had made no arrangements to dry dock the ship, having left the entire matter of the Nebraskan's repair and determination of the nature of her injury to their British representative.

NEWS OF STEELTON

STEELTON PYTHIANS WERE GUESTS OF LEBANON LODGE

Fifty Members Made Trip Last Evening In Fourteen Automobiles and Were Royally Entertained By Their Hosts

About fifty members of Steelton Lodge, No. 411, Knights of Pythias, were royally entertained by the Acme Lodge of Lebanon, last evening. Arrangements for the trip, which was made in fourteen automobiles, were completed by David J. Bechtold, Miles C. Bickel and W. J. Martin, all former Lebanon countians, but residents of the borough for some years.

The third rank was conferred in amplified form on a class of candidates by the Lebanon organization and the meeting was held in the new hall of Acme lodge, lately refurbished. At the close of the business session, a social time was enjoyed and addresses were made by prominent members of the order. A smoker and refreshments concluded the entertainment. The local party left Steelton at 6:30 last evening and returned at 1:10 o'clock this morning without a mishap.

WINTRY BLASTS LOWER THE TABERNACLE ATTENDANCE

Mrs. C. E. Hillis Officiated at a Testimonial Meeting Last Evening and Will Preach the Sermon This Evening—Women to Meet Saturday

Lack of heating facilities and the cold blasts of wind which swept down Second street greatly interfered with the attendance at the Hills tabernacle last evening. The services opened with a testimonial meeting, led by Mrs. Hillis, which lasted ten minutes. During its continuance many believers testified to the saving and keeping power of Christ.

Evangelist Hillis took as his text John 3:7, "Ye Must Be Born Again." He said:

"The new birth originated with the Lord Jesus Christ. All are born in sin by nature and all must be born again by grace. Baptism does not make people new creatures; they must be born also. Going to church is an excellent thing, but going to church will no more make you a Christian than going into a hen coop will make you a hen or going into a cow stable will make you a cow. Mere head belief does not make people Christians.

"The devil not only believes, but is orthodox. The devil believes in hell, and that is more than Pastor Russell believes. The devil believes every word of the Bible, and that is more than Mrs. Eddy believed; but what the devil believes does not make him a saint. You will never fix up a sinner by a few religious ceremonies. Jesus did not speak these words to a harlot, or a libertine, or an infidel, but to Nicodemus, a man more righteous than one-half of the members of churches. The new birth transforms the heart and the life, and that is the great need."

It was announced last night that Mrs. Hillis will preach to-night's sermon in the tabernacle. Professor Stahl will address a meeting for women only on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the subject, "Amusements." The booster chorus will sing at next Sunday afternoon's meeting for men in the tabernacle.

The second campaign hymn composed by Charles Pierce, a local boy, was sung at the Hills tabernacle last night by Professor L. A. Stahl, the choir leader, to music written by Professor Yates, pianist with the Hills party. The hymn introduced last night is entitled, "Jesus Is Knocking."

NEARLY ALL WAR RELIEF FUNDS SPENT IN THE CITY

Final Report of Committee Issued by Mrs. Gilbert Tells of Methods of Operation During Winter's Campaign

Of the $12,494.97 contributed by the public and general committee members of the Home and War Relief Committee for relief work last winter, $11,906.61 was spent in this city for supplies upon which needy women worked, and in wages for them; $294.17 was spent in janitor services, freight and postage, while $294.19 was turned over to the Red Cross.

These details are made public in the final report of the work of the committee, issued last night by Mrs. Lyman D. Gilbert, chairman of the executive committee. Brief explanation of the method of operation of the committee, together with the details of how the funds for the work were obtained, is given. The success of the entire undertaking is due to the co-operation of the four divisions into which the general committee was divided.

The report reads in part as follows:

"The actual management of the work was taken care of by the heads of the supply division, the home relief division, the Red Cross division and the foreign relief division, and too much cannot be said of the co-operation, intelligence and faithfulness shown by all the members. A special feature of special feature of the operation of the operation of these four divisions was the positive connection that existed between each, one division being a feeder to the other and so on. For instance, the supply division purchased materials and prepared these materials for sewing, the home relief division gave the sewing out to the applicants and the Red Cross and foreign relief divisions received the finished articles and packed and shipped them to the unfortunate wounded and refugees in Europe.

"The Red Cross and Foreign Relief Divisions, in addition to taking care of this portion of the work, prepared numberless bandages and other articles of this nature, and organized sewing circles to produce these supplies. As they furnished their own material no funds for this purpose were taken from your treasury.

"The work of the Home Relief Division was our most important branch, feeling as it did with the relief of Harrisburg needy women; and their organization was scientifically worked out and so well executed that only deserving applicants were given work; special investigation having been carried out in conjunction with the Associated Charities to this end. Full statistics cards are in the files of this Division giving the name and full history of each applicant. This file will prove a valuable asset for the Associated Charities, or for other relief bodies which may be formed at some future time.

"There was one feature connected with this emergency work that your committee and sub-committees feel was productive of much good and resulted in more efficiently carrying out the work—and that was the broadened acquaintance which it brought about among the residents of Harrisburg, producing a better understanding between those who were asking work and those who were giving it out.

"The sincere thanks and appreciation is extended to all those who by

OUT OF JAIL AND IN AGAIN

Charles Grayson Recommended to Prison After Serving Six Months

When Charles Grayson, colored, was leaving the Dauphin county prison yesterday, where he had served a six months' sentence, he was again arrested and recommitted by Constable Emanuel, on a charge of aggravated assault and battery preferred by Samuel Lack, a grocer at 10 Cowden street. He was given a hearing last night before Alderman Bayles and held under $500 bail for court.

Lack testified that Grayson came to his store on July 28, last, and purchased a peanut stick. For this he paid a cent and after he had eaten it he told the grocer that he gave him a nickel and wanted his change. When Lack refused to give the change Grayson became angry and, it is alleged, struck the grocer in the face, knocking him down and then kicking him.

A warrant was issued for his arrest at that time but he escaped and was later arrested on a charge of highway robbery for which he served six months.

MISS EUGENIA KELLY ARRIVING AT THE YORKVILLE COURT

In one of the most dramatic scenes ever staged in a New York court room Mrs. Helen M. Kelly and her nineteen-year-old daughter Eugenia, who had been on trial for three days charged with incorrigibility by her, recouled their differences and exchanged regrets over the turn their domestic affairs had taken, had the case dismissed and promised to resume their life together. The mother claimed her daughter, who is an heiress, was a frequenter of the tango palaces along Broadway, and her admirers were those to whom the mother strenuously objected. "Al" Davis, who is shown in the picture, is one of her admirers.
