PATCH BROTHERS are paying the highest market price, in cash, for good butter.

FOR SALE, VERY CHEAP.—A. K. P. uniform. Cost about $25—has never been soiled—will be sold for $10. Inquire at this office.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. SHAPPEE have lost another and their only remaining child, a little girl about 4 years old, of the dreaded disease diphtheria. She died yesterday evening.

Persons who send personal or other items to the REVIEW, must accompany them with their names, otherwise no attention will be paid them.

Judge MORROW lost a valuable Alderney cow on Friday night. The bovine was apparently well when fed in the evening, but was found dead in the stall in the morning.

Mr. DOUTRICK, our merchant tailor, finds attachment to his old home stronger than his desire for wealth, and has decided to close up business here, and return to his home in Bethlehem. As an evidence of appreciation of the patronage bestowed upon him here, he proposes during the few weeks which remain before his departure to offer his stock of elegant furnishing goods, and winter suitings at greatly reduced prices. Those who have the means to do so, can make money by making their purchases for the present year now.

A paper on "The Disadvantages of City Boys," by Rev. WASHINGTON GLADDEN, of Springfield, Mass., is announced for an early number of St. Nicholas. The article is said to be based entirely on personal statistics, gathered from a hundred prominent business men, concerning their surroundings, habits of life, etc., during boyhood. They exhibit a remarkable showing of the "Disadvantages of City Boys," and enforce strongly the author's hints toward a successful life. The paper, moreover, is addressed directly to the boys themselves.

Conductor JOHN BUCK, of S. L. & S. RR., suffered a paralytic shock Saturday afternoon. He was apparently in his usual good health at 3 o'clock when his train left the Court House, but before leaving the Barclay depot he was prostrated by a stroke of paralysis, which instantly rendered him helpless and unconscious. He was at once taken to his home, where he still remains in the same condition.

Mr. BUCK appeared in his usual health and buoyancy of spirits when he boarded his train, and it is believed had no warning of the attack which so suddenly rendered him helpless. His condition is most critical, and his physicians say that there is but the faintest hope of recovery.

Mr. BUCK has always been a kind hearted, generous man, and has hosts of friends who will minister to his wants, and do every thing in their power to restore him.

P. S.—Just as we are going to press, we are informed of Mr. BUCK's death, which occurred at 1:20 this afternoon.

Apropos to the Robert Rakes Centennial, to be celebrated this year in England, Rev. EDWARD EGGLESTON has contributed to the Midwinter Scribner a paper of "Present Phases of Sunday School Work," in which he makes some friendly criticisms of methods of teaching much in vogue, and of certain false tendencies apparent to him in much of the best meant effort. Mr. EGGLESTON has all his life been identified with Sunday school work, and the Church of Christian Endeavor, in Brooklyn, has been doing unique and successful mission-work by the methods to which he inclines. At the beginning of a year in which there will be much meaningless panegyric on the system, his suggestions may well challenge the attention of thoughtful Christian people, and indeed of parents everywhere.

Tired Out.

[Can any one tell who is the author of these delicate and tender lines?]

He does well who does his best;
Is he weary? let him rest.
Brothers! I have done my best,
I am weary—let me rest.
After toiling oft in vain,
Baffled, yet to struggle fain:
After toiling long, to gain
Little good with mickle pain,
Let me rest. But lay me low,
Where the hedge-side roses blow;
Where the little daisies grow,
Where the winds a-maying go;
Where the footpath rusties plod,
Where the breeze-bowed poplars nod:
Where the old woods worship God,
Where His pencil paints the sod;
Where the wedded throstle sings,
Where the young bird tries his wings:
Where the wailing plover swings,
Near the runlet's rushing springs!
Where, at times, the tempest's roar,
Shaking distant sea and shore,
Still will rave old Barnesdale o'er,
To be heard by me no more!
Tired and thankful let me rest,
Like a child that sleepeth best
On its mother's gentle breast.

Personal.

R. J. SHERMAN, mail agent on the S. L. & S. RR., was too ill to go out on Saturday.

A. A. JARVIS, of Cooperstown, N. Y., is in town.

Col. OVERTON will accept the thanks of the REVIEW for a copy of the "Report of the Lands of the Arid Regions of the United States," &c., by Maj. POWELL.

Col. J. H. HORTON and wife, of Ithaca, were in town Saturday.

Mrs. E. P. HAMMOND is visiting in town, and is the guest of her sister, Mrs. MACFARLANE.

Mrs. KENYON and daughter, Miss FANNIE, are visiting at FRANK BROWN'S.

HARRY TAYLOR, manager of the Dramatic Club, went to Philadelphia last evening.

Miss EMMA JARVIS, who spent her holiday vacation with her parents, at Cooperstown, N. Y., has returned to school in this place.

FRED J. HUNGERFORD spent his holiday vacation in Binghamton, but is home again, and ready to resume his duties at HUMPHREY BROTHERS & TRACY'S factory.

When Mr. and Mrs. W. K. MARSHALL went home on Friday evening they found their house filled with a company of congenial neighbors, who had "dropped in" to spend the evening. The pleasant affair had been kept a profound secret, and the host and hostess were taken completely by surprise. The visitors, however, had made bountiful provision in the way of refreshments, and the evening was most enjoyably spent.

Rev. COURTLANDT WHITEHEAD, of Bethlehem, occupied the pulpit of Christ Church yesterday. He renders the service admirably, and is a scholarly, earnest and impressive preacher. Both discourses yesterday were full of seed thoughts, which could not have failed to find lodgement in the heart and mind of the most indifferent listener. The Reverend gentleman's diction is perfect, while his earnestness bears testimony to his entire conviction of the truths of the Bible, and that he has an experimental as well of intellectual knowledge of the Saviour.

There has been considerable interest created over a case which has been in progress in this place during the week. Mrs. Caroline F. Wright, who died in June last, left a will, the provisions of which are nearly as follows: To Mary S. Norwood she gives $500; J. D. Gosline $500; Edwin B. Gosline $500; Geo. Gosline $500; Mary E. Russell $300; Abbie

J. Ford $300; Nancy C. McDonald $300; S. Alonzo Norwood $300; to Thomas Gosline's three oldest girls, Ruth, Eva and Edna, $200 each; Emma Gosline $200; Mary J. Rockwell $200; Carrie Gosline $200; William R. Fowler $200; Bertie and Minnie Horton $200 each, and other bequests of personal property. The will is being contested by one of the legatees, William R. Fowler, of Washington. He is represented by Messrs. Williams & Angle; J. W. Stone and Delos Rockwell appearing for the defense. James H. Coddling, Esq., of Towanda, was appointed examiner, and has been hearing the case. The examination opened Monday at 1 o'clock P. M., and continued until Wednesday at 10 o'clock in the morning and was then held for further hearing.—Canton Sentinel.

IMPORTANT TO SCHOOL DIRECTORS AND TAX PAYERS—The following decision of the Superintendent of Public Instruction is of great importance to tax-payers as well as directors, as violation of the law upon the subject will deprive districts of the State appropriation, and subject Directors to severe penalties:

DEPARTMENT OF PUB. INS., Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 1, 1879.

There is but one time in the year when directors can adopt a new series of text books for the schools under their charge, or change old ones, and that is between the time of electing teachers and the opening of the schools. Section 23, Act of May 1, 1854, says: "That immediately after the annual election of teachers in each school district of the state, and before the opening of the schools for the ensuing term, there shall be a meeting of the directors or controllers and teachers of each district; at which meeting the directors or controllers shall decide upon a series of school books, in the different branches to be taught during the ensuing school year; which books, and no other, shall be used in the schools of the district during said period."

Such is the law, with this exception, that books cannot now be changed more frequently than once in three years.

J. P. WICKERSHAM, Superintendent Public Instruction.

A Word With My Customers.

Two years ago, when I came among you a stranger, you kindly extended to me a generous patronage, and our relations have been of the most cordial and I trust mutually beneficial character. I am certain you have all shown me that you were friends indeed, and I have striven to merit your confidence and patronage, and now being about to return to my old home, not because "I love Caesar less, but Rome more," I desire to give you all some evidence of my appreciation of your friendship, and have decided to offer my entire stock of GENTLEMEN'S FURNISHING GOODS, WINTER SUITINGS, &C., at greatly reduced prices during the remainder of my stay in Towanda.

The goods will be disposed of at a sacrifice in order to close out stock. Hoping to see all my old customers and many who have never visited my store, I remain

Faithfully Yours,
J. DOUTRICK.
