Loyal Sock coal is clean, free from slate, does not clinker in the stove, retains fire longer than any other coal, and is from one dollar to one dollar and twenty-five cents cheaper than Anthracite, at MALLORY'S Coal Yard.

The Canton Sentinel this week prints an article from the Reporter of August 24, 1847, giving an account of a gathering of the ROCKWELL family, and adds that Col. WILSON is the only one of the persons mentioned in the account now living.

As HARRY GORE, accompanied by Miss HATTIE RODGERS, was driving one of BATT LANE'S rigs along York Avenue last evening, the buggy broke just in front of E. T. Fox's, leaving the occupants with the hind wheels and body of the vehicle, while the frightened animal, still attached to the forward wheels, dashed down Main street. In attempting to turn the corner at Bridge street, the horse fell. The only damage sustained was the injury to the wagon. Liverymen ought to be careful to know what condition their carriages are in when they send them out.

LOTTERIES.—Lotteries are said to have been first employed by the Genoese government as a means of aiding its revenue. The pernicious example was speedily followed by other states, nearly all of which have adopted lotteries at some time or other to increase their income. While they have achieved this end, they have not only robbed the working community of their hard earnings, they have lessened their habits of labor and thrift by creating false hopes of sudden and handsome gains. Between 1816 and 1828 France derived from lotteries an annual income of 14,000,000 francs, but forty-three years ago they were suppressed, and the year following a large increase of deposits were found in the savings banks of the country. In 1841 Prussia got from them 800,000 thalers, and Austria 3,600,000 florins. The first lottery in England was in 1859, and its profits went to the improvement of public works, but the consequences were so obviously mischievous that it was abolished by an act of parliament in 1826. In Italy, lotteries are still tolerated, and their effect is most injurious, keeping the poor population in still greater poverty. In some of the states they are still tolerated, and wherever they are they work incessant ill.

Several young ladies of Canton gave a leap-year party at Citizens Hall last evening.

Superintendent's Notes.

January 28, 29 and 30.—Visited schools as follows: Tuscarora, Indian Hill, F. C. Oviatt; Edinger, Newton Drake; Keeney, O. W. Barrowellitt; Aekley; Lillian Vaughan; Palmer Hill, Phebe Strickland. Directors C. H. Johnson and Martin Keeney also visited the schools. Indian Hill, a school of 50 pupils, is well governed and taught. Mr. Drake's first term seems successful, and Mr. Edinger, who accompanied to the school said that patrons were well satisfied. Aekley school was orderly and studious, but patrons wish more attention to writing. Miss Strickland needs the co-operation of parents and director in her commendable efforts in discipline.

Also, accompanied by directors Hewitt, Martin Fee and Cornelius Bump, visited schools of Wyalusing as follows: Joint, Susie McGuire; Inghamtown, W. Van Auker; Merryall, Alma Cooley; Keelerville, Lizzie Frisbie; Camptown, Miner Hines and Lettie Fuller; Oak Hill, John Ingham; Lime Hill, G. Verbryck. The pupils in these schools were advised, commended and encouraged by Rev. Mr. Keating, who was present. Would that more of the egyptians in our county would visit our common schools. The Inghamtown school would be profited by adopting and practicing, with reference to school room, the maxim, "Cleanliness is next to Godliness." Observed good order and thorough, efficient work in Camptown, Merryall, Keelerville and Lime Hill schools, and heard excellent reports from Miss Bump's school at Vaughn Hill. Browntown and Indian Hill schools are having contests with each other in geography, greatly to the benefit of the pupils in this branch.
