James W. Clayton, Minute and Journal Clerk of the United States Senate, died at Baltimore yesterday.

The Supreme Court has affirmed the decree of the Criminal Court in the case of Israel Brandt and Josiah Hummel, convicted in August last of the murder of the old man, Joseph Raber, to obtain his life insurance.

Lewis Rockwell, of Pike county, yesterday celebrated his one hundred and second birthday. His wife, who died about a year ago, had she lived, would to-day have been ninety-nine. Mr. Rockwell is probably the oldest man in this State.

The will of Miss Amy Sprague, a relative of ex-Governor Sprague of Rhode Island, is to be contested, and as property to the amount of $200,000 is involved the local lawyers will probably have their hands full for some time to come.

Ex-Secretary Borie died a peaceful and painless death. He suffered from no disease that could be checked-it was simply a gradual wasting away from lack of vitality. His last quiet words were addressed to his wife, who sat beside him.

Mr. Roswell Smith told a newspaper correspondent the other day that the editors of Scribner's Magazine have on hand manuscripts for which $15,172,55 have been paid, and the editors of St. Nicholas manuscripts for which $8.545 have been

Major Reno having learned of the approval of the sentence of the court_ martial dismissing him from the service, has telegraphed to the President to be allowed to resign. The President has this request under consideration, and and the orders of the War Department in Reno's case are delayed for the decision.

The sub-committee of the House Judiciary Committee, consisting of Ryan, Hammond and McKinley, gave a hearing to delegations representing commercial interests in New York and Boston in advocacy of the passage of some national measure affecting bankruptcy which would be exempt from the objectionable features of the old law.

The Enquirer's Washington special says it is rumored that serious differences exist between the President and Secretary Evarts on the matter of our affairs in the Isthmus. It is not improbable that Evarts will leave the cabinet. The President takes the most advanced ground on maintaining American control in that quarter and says he will have no "back capping" in his cabinet.

The following, relative to Grant's position, will appear editorially in to-days' Times: "A near personal and political friend of ex-President Grant, who doubtless knows whereof he speaks, authorizes the following as a correct statement of the General's position with reference to the Presidency. He says: "General Grant is not now nor has he ever been a candidate for the Presidential nomination; but should the Republican Convention nominate him in the same manner as any other candidate would be nominated he would deem it his duty to his country and party to accept. Travelling abroad he was a stranger to the contest now going on for the Presidential nomination, and has written no letter on the subject to any person, and all assertions to the contrary, are without foundation in fact."

OR THE PRESIDENTIAL YEAR.

THE LEADING AMERICAN NEWS-PAPER."

THE NEW YORK

FOR 1880.

During the coming Presidential year The Tribune will be a more effective agency than ever for telling the news best worth knowing, and for enforcing sound politics. From the day the war closed it has been most anxious for an end of sectional strife. But it saw two years ago, and was the first persistently to Proclaim the new danger to the country from the revived alliance of the Solid South and Taramany Hall. Against that danger it sought to rally the old party of Freedom and the Union It began by demanding the abandonment of personal dislikes, and set the example. It called for an end dislikes, and set the example. It called for an end to attacks upon each other instead of the enemy; and for the heartiest agreement upon whatever fit and for the heartlest agreement upon whatever he candidates the majority should put up against the common foe. Since then the tide of disaster has been turned back; every doubtful state has been won, and the omens for National victory were never more cheering.

THE TRIBUNE'S POSITION

THE TRIBUNE'S POSITION.

Of The Tribune's share in all this, those speak most enthusiastically who have seen most of the struggle. It will faithfully portray the varning phases of the campaign now beginning. It will earnestly strive that the party of Freedom, Union and Public Faith may select the man surest to win, and surest to make a good President. But in this crisis it can conceive of no nomination this party could make that would not be preferable to the best that could possibly be supported by the Solid South and Tammany Hall.

The Tribune is now spending much labo and

The Tribune is now spending much labo and money than ever before to hold the distinction it has enjoyed of the largest circulation among the best people. It secured, and means to retain it by be coming the medium of the best thought and the voice of the best conscience of the time, by keeping abreast of the highest progress, favoring the freees discussions, hearing all sides, appealing always to the best intelligence and the purest morality, and refusing to carter to the tastes of the vile or the prejudices of the ignorant.

SPECIAL FEATURES.

The distinctive features of The Tribune are known The distinctive features of The Tribune are known to everybody. It gives all the news. It has the best correspondents, and retains them from year to year, It is the only paper that maintains a special telegraphic wire of its own between its office and Washington. Its scientific, literary, artistic and religious intelligence is the fullest. Its book reviews are the best. Its commercial and financial news is the most exact. Its type is the largest; and its arrangement the most systematic.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUN

is by far the most successful Semi-Weekly in the is by far the most successful Semi-Weekly in the country, having four times the circulation of any other in New York. It is especially adapted to the large class of intelligent, professional or business readers too far from New York to depend on our papers for the daily news, who nevertheless want the editorials, correspondence, book reviews, scientific matter, lectures, literary miscellaney, etc., for which The Tribune is famous. Like The Weekly it contains sixteen pages, and is in convenient form for binding. for binding, remains the great favorite of our substantial country population, and has the largest circulation of any Weekly issued from the office of a Daily paper in New York, or, so far as we know, in the United States. It revises and condenses all the news of the week into more readable shape. Its agricultural de partment is more carefully conducted than ever, and it has always been considered the best. Its market reports are the official standard for the Dairymen's Association, and have long been recognized authority on cattle, grain and general country produce. There are special departments for the young and for household interests; the new handiwork department already extremely popular, gives unusually accurate and comprehensive instructions in knitting, crocheting, and kindrid subjects; while poetry, fiction and the humors of the day are all abundantly supplied. The verdict of the tens of thousand old readers who have returned to it during the past year is that they have returned to it during the past year is that they find it better than ever. Increasing patronage and facilitias enable us to reduce the rates to the lowest point we have ever touched, and to ofier the most amazing premiums yet given, as follows:

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE
