Court began in Laporte to-day. A murder trial will occupy most of the time this week.

Several families in town are afflicted with the measles. Senator DAVIES' son WILLIE has the disease. So has MAY STROUD.

During Lent there will be service at Christ Church every Tuesday afternoon at 4:30, and Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The ladies Missionary Society will meet Thursday afternoon in the Lecture Room.

SALSBURY COLE, an old and respected citizen of Monroe twp., died on Thursday morning, of neuralgia of the heart, after an illness of about twelve hours. He was buried on Sunday.

When our old friend JOHN BLACK brings maple sugar to market, everybody knows it is a genuine article, and the merchant who receives it considers himself fortunate. Mr. B. did bring some sugar in on Saturday, and Mr. MCCABE was the lucky purchaser.

POUND PARTY.—The colored people of this borough paid JOE JOHNSON a visit on Tuesday evening, each one leaving him a pound (or larger) package of some useful article. JOE has been sick for a long time, and the action of his colored friends is timely and praiseworthy.

Little Squib, is the title of a very neat amateur sheet printed at Wellsboro, Pa., "by H. A. and M. R. SIMPSON, for their own amusement. Monthly—perhaps." The only copy we have seen gives evidence of literary talent on the part of the youthful editors, while the typographical appearance is faultless.

Our boy TOMMY read that a man at Marion, Ind., chose a seat in the crotch of a tree, sixty feet from the ground, as the place to commit suicide by shooting, and exclaimed: "Bedad, that was a foine iday. He cood shoot himself to deth wid the pistol, an' thin kill himself by fallin' from the tree. Shure, an' itz a brallyunt brane that mon had."

An item in the Elmira Advertiser describing a musical concert at Waverly, compliments Prof. YOUNG, formerly of Rome. The correspondent says: "Prof. YOUNG, of Owego, demonstrated his ability as a soloist in the piece from THOMAS, 'Voice of the Mountain Land.' He has rendered the M. E. Church efficient aid in the preparation of this charming home entertainment, and has thus contributed much to the success which has so fully justified the choir in undertaking so delicate a task."

A correspondent writing from Troy to the Elmira Advertiser thus refers to the result of the late election:

"Tuesday was rather an exciting day. The office of Justice was contested for with remarkable strife. Cap. B. B. Mitchell and Fred Hoffman were the successful candidates. Capt. Mitchell is a man of unblemished reputation, and has an untarnished record, both as a soldier and private citizen. Fred Hoffman is well known as the son of Wm. Hoffman, and inherits his father's excellent traits of character."

Personal.

Capt. CARNOCHAN was able to ride out yesterday.

Miss MARY ELWELL, of Bloomsburg, is visiting in town.

Bishop HOWE has given notice that he will visit this parish on the 13th of April.

Mrs. JAMES M. WARD, of Syracuse, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. A. MERCUR, in this place.

FRANK MERCUR ESHELMAN, is the name by which Judge MERCUR's first grandson has been christened.

GEO. L. KENT and GEO. KIRBY have sold out their goods in Tunkhaunock and closed business there.

Mrs. BURNS, who has been an invalid for several months is so far recovered that she is able to be out, to the joy of her friends.

R. A. MERCUR went to Philadelphia last evening.

Miss M. AUGUSTA ROBISON, of Hazleton, is visiting friends in this place and vicinity.

Editor KEELER, of the Owego Record is in town, and paid the REVIEW a visit this afternoon.

W. H. BLIGHT, formerly of this place, was married in Elmira on Thursday last, to Miss PALMER, of that city.

JOHN BEMAN says he believes in advertising. The notice in the REVIEW brought his glove.

W. H. SMITH, of North Towanda, will be a candidate for the republican nomination for representative next fall. Mr. S. is an active republican, a successful, intelligent farmer, and would creditably represent us in the legislature.

ED. MOUILLESSEUX, the French watchmaker at HENDLEMAN'S, was presented, by his good wife, with a bouncing boy baby one day last week. ED. says he already cries in three different languages.

Miss ADA CHAMBERLIN is temporarily supplying her sister's place in the Graded School. She enjoys the reputation of being one of the best teachers in the county.

MR. RUMSEY, of Mansfield, who recently visited Barclay on a temperance mission, furnishes this interesting description of the collieries to the Industrial Register, of Blossburg:

The mining towns of Bradford county are situated on a mountain top, and in close proximity to each other, and like those of Tioga, are surrounded by forests. Carbon Run is situated about two miles from Barclay, and is a lively place, though not as large as Barclay. The dwellings are large and in close proximity to each other, some of them being occupied by as many as four families. The village has one church, which is a tasty edifice, and is owned by the Evangelical Association. It also has two school houses.

One day when coming from Carbon Run to Barclay, I came around on the railroad on foot, so as to see the country. The railroad between these places passes around the brow of the mountain; below it lies a narrow valley through which the Schrader creek meanders, and away below, one looks down upon the tops of stately forest trees, while beyond mountains lift their heads, the entire range that can be seen being an unbroken wilderness, presenting a wild scene indeed.

Barclay is the principal mining town in Bradford county, and is the central point for mining operations. Sand Run lies but a short distance off, and is virtually a part of Barclay, all being under the control of one company, and being connected by a side-walk. It is, however, spoken of locally by its own distinct name. Barclay is connected with Towanda by rail. From the valley below the cars ascend the mountain by an inclined plane, a little over half-a-mile in length, and from the head of the plane they run directly to the shafts, where they are filled with the black diamonds. I had the pleasure of witnessing some cars pass over the plane. A large wire cable passes around a drum at the head of the plane, which is attached to loaded cars at the head of the plane, and empty ones at the foot, the empty ones passing up, steadying the loaded ones as they pass down. The speed of the cars is controlled by a wheel brake at the head of the plane, manipulated by a man. Three loaded cars and the same number of empty ones pass over the plane at a time. There are no passenger cars run between Barclay and Carbon Run, but a hack runs between the places and carries the mail. All of the freight to and from the Barclay region passes over the above mentioned plane.

Barclay has two churches, owned respectively by the Presbyterians and Roman Catholics. It is a wide-awake town, and, so far as I saw, its citizens appeared to be an orderly and peace-loving people.

The works at both Barclay and Carbon Run were running briskly. I took a walk one day out to Fall Creek, which is an abandoned mining town, situated about a mile from Barclay. There are, however, a very few families still residing there. The town presents a desolate aspect.

It was reported that another coal mine would be opened the coming season, by a different company, on the mountain but a few miles from Barclay, which, of course, will necessitate the building of another town and a railroad thereto. The business outlook for the coming season, in the Barclay coal region is cheering indeed.

The next Universalist sociable will be held at C. H. ALLEN'S on Monday evening next. Everybody is invited.

FOUND, on Main street, this afternoon, by a typo in this office, a lady's shawl. The owner can have it by calling for it.

One of Col. OVERTON'S constituents having written him that his course on a pension bill might result in losing him votes, the Colonel, after discussing the question at some length, concludes in this manly and fearless language:

"I shall do what I consider best for the pensioners and those whose names should appear on the pension rolls, though some of them should differ with me, for I am sure I favor no measure which they will not find on a fair trial has not been for their interest. While there is no class of citizens whose approval I more desire, yet the fear of losing votes (which you suggest I will do) will not deter me from advocating any measure which is for the interest of our deserving soldiers, and meets my approval. In the matters upon which I haven't decided convictions, or upon which I hesitate, their wishes and opinions will control me."

The Colonel says many meritorious cases, under present regulations of the pension office are neglected, or postponed for years, while unscrupulous applicants secure speedy action. We have heard of a man in this county who claims that he has influence which enables him to secure pension allowances, and uses the name of Senator WALLACE as the "power" employed in accomplishing his success.

We find the following item in regard to a former resident of this place in the Elmira Advertiser of this morning. Mr. C.'s friends here will regret to hear the bad report, and we hope it may prove untrue:

"George C. Coon, formerly with Skinner & Goodhue, of this city, but more recently with a nursery firm in Geneva, was arrested in yesterday, by Chief Knapp, on the charge of forgery. Before entering upon his duties as agent for the last named firm, he was required to give a bond for the proper performance of his duties and the safe-keeping of any money which might come into his possession. In order to do this, he forged the name of William Ustrick, of Elmira, now deceased, and of A. D. Blair, as Notary Public. He took, or professed to take many orders in Pennsylvania, and representing himself to be hard up, the firm advanced him his percentage. All these orders proved to be fictitious, and further inquiry led to the discovery that his bond was a forgery. Coon is about 46 years old, and has several children. His wife died some years ago. He was lodged in jail. His reputation has not been good for some time."
